Cover Edmunds Brook At Cost Of $17,000

Improvement of Brook Will Aid Development of Property

Edmunds Brook which starts beyond Cotton street, Newton Centre, and flows back of the old cemetery on Centre street, through the Madden and Harriman properties, across Edmunds Park and private property to the south of Cabot street, thence between Cabot Park playground and Park View avenue, is to be covered from Edmunds Brook at Cabot Park. Edmunds Brook is a little stream, so named because it flowed through the Edmunds (now the Madden) estate. It drains a small watershed and carries little water.

In by-gone years it trickled without being obstructed, but in recent years its course near Cabot street has been interfered with through the erection of a number of houses on the land between Edmunds Park and Cabot street.

A Man Who Had Investigated

our institution for the first time said, "You surely hit the nail on the head when you stated that a co-operative bank account was the safest of all investments."

Anyone who takes the trouble to investigate will find that this is true.

But that is not all—because of the simplicity and economy of our operations, we are earning higher dividends than are obtainable in the ordinary savings institution.

This also is a matter worthy of your attention.

To Avoid Bad Accident Truck Falls In Drain

Peculiar Accident Occurs At Cheese Cake Brook, West Newton

A large automobile truck owned by the Hood Ice Cream Company of Cambridge and driven by John Sears of Concord avenue, Cambridge, ran off Watertown street near Davis avenue, West Newton, crossed the lawn at the home of Anna L. Barnett and plunged down into the open drain which carries the water of Cheese Cake Brook. The front of the truck rested on the bed of the drain and the rear wheels were on the top of the drain. Sears managed to brace himself so that he was not catapulted against the granite side of the drain and escaped serious injury. The accident occurred when Sears endeavored to avoid a collision with a truck owned by the Purity Ice Company and operated by William Riley of River street, West Newton. Employees of the C. Bowen Company of Boston, machinery movers, rigged a tackle Saturday afternoon and raised the truck from the drain.

The result is—that a boggy, water soaked area has been formed which interferes with further development in this neighborhood. The total cost of covering that part of Edmunds Brook where the drain is to be built will be $16,984. Of this amount $6,951.50 will be paid to the city by E. Philip Finn to cover the cost of building the drain between Edmunds Park and Cabot street through land owned by Mr. Finn. The balance, about $10,000 is for the covering of the brook where it runs parallel to the site of the new school which is to be soon erected on the low land between Park View and Bridges avenue, Newtonville. It costs money to build school houses near brooks.

Held On Serious Charge In Local Police Court

Waltham Young Man Held For Death Of Miss Slattery

John J. FitzPatrick of 82 Central street, Waltham, 19 years of age, driver of the automobile that struck and killed Kathleen Slattery of Whitney road, Newtonville, was held for the Grand Jury on the charges of manslaughter and driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public after having appeared in the Newton court before Judge Allen, Wednesday. The Slattery girl, 22 years of age, was employed as a domestic and was returning home after having had the day off. She and her sister had taken a bus at Newtonville square and just after she alighted from the bus and was crossing Walnut street opposite Mill street, a car driven by FitzPatrick came speeding along and hit her.

FitzPatrick was represented in court by John F. Flynn of Waltham. The prosecution in charge of Inspector Shaughnessy presented as witnesses Policemen Howard Elliott and William Maloney who were riding in a car which was hit by FitzPatrick's car after it had struck the Slattery girl. Other witnesses for the prosecution were John Odell and Hugh Ferguson a taxi driver. Elliott and Ferguson identified FitzPatrick as the driver of the car which killed Miss Slattery. Ferguson testified that he drove to Waltham the young man who had been riding in FitzPatrick's automobile and they had stated that the defendant was operating the car when it hit the girl. Elliott and Odell testified that the car was travelling at a rapid rate when it hit the girl.

There was a peculiar circumstance connected with the case. The witnesses for the prosecution had given their testimony as to the accident and Inspector Shaughnessy stated that he rested his case. Attorney Flynn then informed the court that the defense also rested its case and he laid stress on the allegation that the driver of the car had not been identified. Designating FitzPatrick, Judge Allen asked Flynn, "That's not the defendant, is it?" Receiving a negative answer, from Flynn, the judge found FitzPatrick not guilty on the charge of reckless driving and "no probable cause" on the manslaughter charge. After making these findings as Judge Allen left the courtroom to enter his private office, he was followed by Inspector Shaughnessy and Inspector Leary of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles force and informed that FitzPatrick had been positively identified by two of the witnesses.

New Bank Organized To Open in October

Newton National Bank Has Prominent Local Men For Officers

The Newton National Bank has finished its work of organizing by selecting its officers and planning for a building. It will begin business in the latter part of October, when it is expected that a new structure erected for it on Centre street, in Newton Corner, will be ready for occupancy.

Federal authorities granted a group of Newton men a charter for a bank with $200,000 capital and a paid-in surplus of $100,000. The stock was oversubscribed.

Thomas Weston, associate justice of the Newton Police Court and a former member of the Massachusetts House and Senate, is president. George W. Sweet and William C. Sills are the two vice-presidents. All three are also directors. Mr. Sweet is president of the Studebaker Sales Company of Boston, and before that was sales manager of the Studebaker Corporation at South Bend, Ind. Mr. Sills also was identified with the motor industry, first as an executive in Boston, then for years one of the ranked officers under William C. Durant, in General Motors. Later he retired, to enter the investment business.

Each director is well known in some particular line. James R. Bancroft is president of the American Institute of Finance. William Ellison is treasurer of the Proctor-Ellison Company. William F. Garcelon is well known as an attorney and director of the United Trust Company. George P. Hatch is president of the B. S. Hatch Coal Company, while William A. Kneeland is president of the Winchester National Bank. Charles R. Lynde is an importer of china and glass, and Grosvenor D. Marcy is president of the Sampson & Murdock Directory Company. Vincent P. Roberts is head of Vincent P. Roberts & Co., wool merchants; Fred S. Sawyer is treasurer of Things Shoe Stores, Inc., and Douglas Stone is in the investment business. G. Wilbur Thompson is a plumbing and heating contractor; Henry A. Wentworth is a consulting engineer, and Guy M. Winslow is president of Lasell Seminary.

The following officers and directors were elected: President, W. Mark Noble, Jr.; Treasurer, Merrill C. Nutting; Clerk, J. Esther Hannan. Directors, the above and William M. Noble, Harry A. Johnson of Newton, Thomas Wray of Providence, R. I., and Frederick C. Wittig of Boston.

BUSES TO WESTON LINE

Manager Hanson of the Middlesex & Boston appeared before the Public Utilities Commission of the State House on Monday morning to ask for a permit to allow the Roberts buses to continue from the present terminal on South street, Waltham, to the Weston line. The Waltham city officials have requested that this new plan be tried for 60 days.

To Increase Capital To Million Dollars

Newton Mortgage Loan Corporation Doing An Excellent Business

The Newton Mortgage Corporation, established several years ago, by prominent Newton business men, has found it necessary to increase its capital in order to provide funds to accommodate the large volume of mortgage applications which merit acceptance at this time.

The City of Newton is known in eastern United States as the center of a most desirable residential district, and the Newton Mortgage Corporation now has outstanding in mortgage loans nearly three quarters of a million dollars in Newton and vicinity.

The safety of investments in high grade mortgages on Real Estate is unquestioned. Savings Banks, Co-operative Banks and Trust Companies are large holders of this type of security, while National Banks have recently entered the real estate mortgage field.

The Newton Mortgage Corporation has found a constantly increasing demand for loans since its inception. Net earnings have steadily increased, permitting regular dividends of 7% per annum on its Preferred stock, as well as substantial dividends on its Common stock for the past five years.

Stockholders of the Corporation, at a meeting held Friday, August 1st, 1928, voted to increase the Preferred stock of the Corporation from 3000 shares of 7% Cumulative Preferred stock, with a par value of $100 per share, to 10,000 shares of 7% Cumulative Preferred stock with a par value of $100 per share.

Stockholders voted to increase the Common stock of the Corporation from 25,000 shares of no par value to 30,000 shares of no par value and change said 30,000 shares of Common stock into two separate classes: One Class to consist of 15,000 shares of no par value to be known as Class A Common, and one Class to consist of 15,000 shares of no par value to be known as Class B Common, both Classes to possess the same voting power, but the Class A Common to receive $2.00 per share, per annum. Cumulative dividends before any dividends are set apart or paid on Class B Common, and all dividends subsequently declared on the Common stock to be apportioned so that holders of the Class A Common shall receive not less than two-thirds and the holders of Class B Common not in excess of one-third of said subsequent dividends.

The following officers and directors were elected: President, W. Mark Noble, Jr.; Treasurer, Merrill C. Nutting; Clerk, J. Esther Hannan. Directors, the above and William M. Noble, Harry A. Johnson of Newton, Thomas Wray of Providence, R. I., and Frederick C. Wittig of Boston.

A limited number of shares of the 7% Cumulative Preferred shares with Class A Common shares will be available to Newton investors and will be offered by Messrs. Gardner & Company, Investment Bankers of Boston, who have been appointed Fiscal Agents for the Corporation, in accordance with an advertisement to appear later in this paper.

CLEANING WATER MAINS

Because of the fact that the water mains which have been cleaned lately are smaller than those scraped last year, considerable trouble has been experienced by the scraper becoming caught in the pipes. Last week while the main on Parker street in the Oak Hill district was being scraped, the cleaner became stuck three times, necessitating the digging up of the street at three places to free the contrivance.

Local Newton Girl Wins Short-Story Prize

Eleanor B. Church Awarded Cash Prize By St. Nicholas League

Eleanor B. Church, of 30 Bennington street, Newton, Mass., has just been awarded her second cash prize in the St. Nicholas League. Her short story, which appears in the August number of the St. Nicholas Magazine, is as follows:

The Climax

One rather damp afternoon, in the latter part of April, we thought of taking our first spring drive out into the country.

We sped over the roads, rough and full of holes from the winter's frost and snows. Our objective was the summit of a moderate-sized hill, whose approach proved rather muddy and steep. We endeavored, however, to reach it, after considerable bouncing about.

After enjoying the wide and beautiful outlook from some lofty ledges, we decided to return to Northampton, whence we had come. My relative tried to engineer the automobile around to the rear of the farm-house to turn about. But the car was very heavy, and the mud was terribly oozy! The wheels began to sink and stick. All the farm-hands rushed out to our rescue. Some bran-sacks were produced, but to no avail. Then one of the boys called out: "I guess we'll have to get the cattle."

I was speechless when out of the barn and down the muddy path came the most typical old farmer, gently whipping a yoke of huge, dirty oxen. The old man was so picturesque and seemed so at home, leading his two great beasts! He himself, in his blue overall-suit, turned up at the bottom to give room for the rubber boots to come up, was a remnant of the past. He possessed the most beautiful long, carrot beard imaginable, and on his head reposed a dusty cap. He carried the reins in one hand, and, in the other, a whip to make those unintelligent-looking animals move their large bodies where he wished to have them go. Of course, we were easily hauled out, but it was certainly worth getting stuck in the mud for the sake of producing such a memorable scene.

Eleanor B. Church has already won two prizes of gold and silver medals in the League, as well as these two cash awards, which total five dollars. This is a fine record for a contributor to these monthly contests of St. Nicholas, where the competition is so keen and the number of competitors so large.

Newton Lodge Of Elks To Entertain Children

Enjoyable Program Planned For Next Wednesday Afternoon

The Social Welfare Committee of Newton Lodge of Elks will be busy men next Wednesday, August 8. On that day the committee will do its best to provide the children at the Peabody Home for Crippled Children at Oak Hill, and the boys at the Working Boys' Home at Newton Highlands with a real good time. Games will be conducted and prizes awarded, ice cream and refreshments served, an entertainment given by talented performers and clowns will cut antics. But, the real big event of the day for the little ones will come at noon when John Robinson's elephants, five ponderous beasts will arrive at Oak Hill and Newton Highlands and "do their stuff" for the youngsters. These five elephants are among the most highly trained animal performers in the world and are sure to make a hit with the little cripples and orphans. Through the courtesy of their owners and manager Will White of Norumbega Park, where the elephants are performing, this big act will be afforded the children and boys. The committee includes Wilfred Chagnon, John Doherty, William Noone, Dr. L. H. Marshall, Thomas Fitzgerald, Richard Lyons, Vincent Turley, John Feeney, and Frank Wilcox.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Thomas Joyce of Intervale road, Wellesley, complained to the police on Tuesday that he had suffered injuries when the car he was driving ran into a car owned by William Rosenthal of 1351 Washington street, West Newton, last Friday night when the Rosenthal car parked on the car tracks near the Newton Hospital. Joyce made no complaint of injuries at the time of the accident, according to the police.

Cars driven by Nellie Evans of Brimmer street, Watertown, and Tony Yarossi of 112 West street, Newton, collided Monday at Green and Ward streets, Nonantum. Miss Evans and Mary Yarossi received injuries.

Automobiles driven by Charles Ready of Tremont street, Brighton, and Tony Di Versa of Quirk court, Newton, collided at Moody and High streets, Waltham on Sunday night. Ready accused Di Versa of not stopping and turned his registration number over to the Waltham police. Di Versa went to the Waltham police headquarters Monday morning and alleged that Ready also did not stop to identify himself.

SAXONY STILL LEADS LEAGUE

The Saxony Mills team in the Newton Twilight league still leads the rest of the field in the race for the third leg on the Graphic Cup. The Saxony team has won all four of its games and has yet to be defeated. Tonight Upper Falls will attempt to upset Tommy Gilligan's outfit on the Upper Falls playground. The two teams have met once before with the Nonantum team coming out on top by a narrow margin. Next week Saxony will complete its second round of games by taking on Newton Highlands at Victory field on Wednesday and Lower Falls at Lower Falls on Thursday.

Last week Thursday the Upper Falls nine shut out Lower Falls 4 to 0 for its first league victory. Friday night Upper Falls and West Newton played a 3 to 3 tie which was called on account of darkness and will be played off later on in the season. This week Tuesday night the Newton Highlands outfit bunched hits to defeat Upper Falls, 6 to 1 for the former's first league victory and Upper Falls second defeat. This game was originally scheduled for July 20th but was postponed because of wet grounds.

Wednesday night's game between the Saxony and West Newton was also postponed because of the heavy rain late Wednesday afternoon. The Highlands Upper Falls game on Tuesday night was the only game played the first of the week which affected the league standing. The games between Upper Falls and the Highlands on Monday night and that between Lower Falls and West Newton on Tuesday night will be replayed.

When Newton Highlands came to bat in the last half of the first inning in the game with Upper Falls they were greatly surprised to find John Powers of Auburndale, former athlete at St. Mary's school of Waltham, on the mound for Upper Falls. Inasmuch as all the teams in the league are restricted to the use of players living in the district which their team represents and also the fact that Powers is on the pitching staff of the Orleans team in the Cape Cod league it would seem that the Upper Falls team was guilty of at least poor judgment if not poor sportsmanship in attempting such a stunt.

It was finally agreed to play the game with Powers pitching for Upper Falls but whatever the resulting score the game would not be counted as a league game. The game will be played over this month.

Tuesday night another incident occurred which will necessitate the replaying of the scheduled game between Lower Falls and West Newton. Lower Falls was leading 4 to 3 as darkness was rapidly approaching. The official league umpire had not been present when the time for the game to start arrived and a West Newton man was pressed into service by the home team. In the gathering darkness several decisions against the Lower Falls team were not received with much enthusiasm by them and according to several spectators the resultant withdrawal from the field of the visitors by Manager Pendergast was more or less justified. Because of the fact that the umpire was not a league umpire the refusal of Lower Falls to continue the game will not result in the forfeiture of the game and it will accordingly be replayed.

BLANEY WINS N. E. AMATEUR TITLE

Saturday, July 28th, was a big day in the life of William O. Blaney of Waban, ex-Williams golfer and hockey star, for it was on that day that he captured the New England amateur golf championship with a display of steady golf that is not often equaled. In the final round of play on Saturday he continued the sparkling play that had carried him through the early rounds of the tourney at the Nashua Country Club, defeating Perley Crosby of Woodland by 6 and 5 and taking possession of the crown vacated by Fred Wright of Albemarle. This year's New England tourney was dominated largely by local golfers for Blaney had met Jesse Guilford, "Siege Gun" from Woodland, in the semi-final round and by the same steady golf had eliminated the latter.

Despite the rain which fell all through the morning play Blaney, whose home club is the Brae Burn C. C., scored a very good 73. But it gave him a lead of but one hole as Crosby was keeping right close. In the afternoon Blaney was even with fours for the 13 holes needed to clinch the match while Crosby fell off from his usual standard. Ending the match at the 31st hole Blaney had completed six consecutive rounds of match play with an approximate medal of one over an average of even fours. It has been five years since Brae Burn has been the home of a sectional champion when Karl Mosser won the Massachusetts amateur title in 1923. Blaney's margin in the match with Crosby need not have been as wide. He played fine golf but Crosby is capable of giving a better account of himself than he did last Saturday. The wet weather was partly responsible for the slices which he had on the end of many drives and for the inaccuracy of his second shots for he has a crippled hand, the muscles of which do not react properly in the dampness. Crosby's putter had to work overtime to keep him in the running as far as it did while Blaney was turning in four after four. Crosby won or halved seven holes by getting down in one putt, many of which were more than average length. He holed a long one for a five on the 19th hole but it was wasted as his opponent was down in four.

Not until well along in the afternoon round did Blaney begin to run up a commanding lead. In the morning his greatest advantage had been two holes and with 22 holes behind them Crosby was still within striking distance, only one hole behind. Blaney won three of the next five holes and halved the other two to increase his lead to four and with but nine holes to go it was obvious that Blaney was too consistent a golfer to let this lead slip away.

A New Car . . A New Car Style . . A New Zenith of Low Priced Car-Luxury and Performance

New slender profile chromium-plated radiator.—Long, low bodies.—Generous room for 2 to 5 passengers, according to body model.—Luxurious deep upholstery and appointment detail.—New "Silver-Dome" high-compression engine, for use with any gasoline.—Smooth speed up to 60 and more miles an hour.—Chrysler light-action internal expanding hydraulic four-wheel brakes—no other car of this price possesses this feature.

With the new Plymouth, Chrysler is the first to give, at so low a price, the advantages of performance, riding ease, dependability and full adult size which characterize fine cars of higher price.

It is so revolutionary an advance over other low priced cars, it is such conclusive evidence that the past year's strides in the science of manufacturing have multiplied the purchasing power of the motor car dollar, that you will surely want to see it and drive it.

A Plymouth ride is the best demonstration of the ease with which it leaps from 5 to 60 and more miles per hour—the quiet of its power and the smoothness of its flight. You yourself must put your foot to the light-action internal hydraulic 4-wheel brakes to know the confidence of the fastest and safest deceleration you have ever experienced.

And above all, you must see its beautiful lines and finish, and stretch at ease in its deep-upholstered, full adult-size bodies, to comprehend how completely the Plymouth surpasses cars heretofore sold under $1000.

Please see and ride in the Plymouth. We believe you will discover there has never been a car anywhere near its price that can approach the Plymouth for power, pick-up, smoothness, easy handling, safety, quietness and roominess—nor that can equal it in beauty and style.

SPORT NOTES

Hunnefeld's Homer Helps

Bill Hunnefeld, local product with the Chicago White Sox, aided his team in blanking the Washington Senators, 6 to 0, Monday afternoon in the game between the two teams on the Chicago field. In the field he accepted six chances without an error on one of which he started a successful double play to shut off a threatening rally by Washington. With the home team leading 2 to 0 in the last of the fifth Hunnefeld derricked a home run into the left field stands to score two men ahead of him and clinch the game.

The former Saxony Mills player has played in 51 games this season according to official averages up to this week. In the 51 games he has been at bat 187 times, scored 30 runs, made 62 base hits for an average of .332, stolen seven bases and made 2 sacrifice hits. His average of .332 places him twelfth in the league standing, above Cobb, Ruth, Cochrane, and many other stars.

Martin Loses To Davis

Donald Martin and Jack Davis, both ex-captains of Boston University Tennis teams, were the finalists in the public courts tennis championship of the city of Boston at Franklin Field Saturday afternoon. Martin is a Chestnut Hill youth while Davis is from Boston. Although the pair have met each other on numerous occasions the match on Saturday which not only carried with it the city title but the James M. Curley trophy and the right to compete in the national public courts tournament at St. Louis tomorrow, was the hardest the pair have ever played together. Davis was the victor in a five set struggle, 2-6, 6-2, 7-5, 1-6, 6-4. Martin won the first set easily as the Hub player failed to get going. The second set was just the reverse. The third was the hardest one with Davis annexing it at 7-5 because of his superior steadiness. The local player gave all he had in the fourth set and won it at 6-1 but the effort had taken too much out of him and Davis wore him down in the final set to win at 6-4.

Hill and Johnson Out

A series of upsets marked the opening round matches in the 35th annual invitation tennis tournament at Seabright, N. J., on Monday. Many of the stars fell by the wayside although several of the principal favorites survived their first tests. Among those to fall in the first round of the singles matches were both Malcolm Hill and Henry L. Johnson, Jr. Hill was put out by John Van Ryn, finalist at Longwood recently, 6-3, 6-2, while his cousin was eliminated by Samuel Gilpin, who won at 6-0, 6-2.

Gow, Defending Champion, Out

James R. Gow, 1927 winner of the annual open tennis tournament of the Worcester Tennis Club, was unexpectedly eliminated last Sunday in the second round of the 23rd annual tourney by Aleck Parsons of Worcester, 6-4, 6-4. The Newton man had previously defeated P. Power of Worcester in his first round match, 6-2, 6-0. Arthur S. Roberts, another local entry was also put out in the first round after advancing by his opponent's default in the first round, losing to E. S. Chase of Springfield, 0-6, 2-6. Gow, paired with A. Wright of Hartford in the doubles reached the fourth round by defeating a Worcester pair in the second round and a Winchester team in the third round. Roberts, teaming with G. S. Hamel of Bar Harbor, was eliminated in a first round match.

POLICE NEWS

In the Waltham court on Saturday, Frank Lentini, an insurance agent residing at Newton street, Waltham, was fined $50. On July 2 Lentini was firing a 22 calibre revolver at a target in a yard just over the Newton-Water town line on Pond street. A bullet hit Julia Cair, 13, of Pond street, wounding her in the left leg.

One of the most peculiar cases before the courts for some years resulted in John Massino, formerly of 288 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville, being sentenced to two years in the House of Correction on Monday by Judge Blodgett at Framingham. Last Wednesday a 5 months old baby was left on the steps of a farmhouse in Weston by persons in an automobile. The baby was taken by the State Police and given to the custody of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. A couple of days after the baby had been abandoned, following considerable publicity of the matter in the papers, a young man appeared at the Framingham Hospital to claim the baby, acknowledging that he was the father of the child. He was sent to the State Police station at Framingham. Sergeant LeBlanc of the State Police questioned him and sent to the address he gave as his home in Belmont to bring his wife, and the mother of the abandoned baby, to Framingham. The couple claimed that they deserted the baby because of adverse financial circumstances and later they became conscience stricken and wanted to regain the child.

As the couple were being tried at the Framingham court on Monday morning the trial was interrupted when a man walked from the rear of the courtroom and told the judge that he was Michael McCarthy of Washington street, Dorchester, and that the alleged Mrs. Mason is his wife who abandoned him and her two year old boy in December 1926. The woman admitted the truth of these statements. She added to the complex, Mason admitted that his real name is Massino and that he too had deserted his spouse and boy, now about four years old, over a year ago. He and Mrs. McCarthy, whose maiden name was Douglas, had been living at Dexter avenue, Watertown, and more recently on Berwick street, Belmont. The woman was sentenced to an indefinite term in the Sherborn jail for women. Both appealed.

Mrs. Antoinette Cugini of 15 Maguire court, Newtonville, was in the Newton court on Monday charged with assaulting her husband by throwing a kitchen knife at him and with threatening him with an ice pick. The husband testified that his wife had threatened to kill him and Sergeant Mahoney testified that when he arrived at the house Mrs. Cugini persisted in threatening to annihilate her spouse should he dare to attempt to enter the dwelling. Mrs. Cugini testified that she was only defending herself after her husband had seized her by the hair and was pounding her. She also accused him of verbally abusing her. Judge Bacon asked her if she desired to obtain a warrant charging her husband with assault and battery and this suggestion was followed. The case was continued until Friday and the husband will also have to answer an assault charge at that time.

William Hudgins of 49 Crafts street, Newtonville, was fined $10 in the Newton court Monday for breaking glass on a public street. William was apprehended early Sunday morning as he neared his home by Serg. Crowley and Patrolmen Foley and Walker and was found to be totting a bottle. After being stopped by the police he dropped the bottle onto the sidewalk curb.

Patrolman Hannon on Saturday afternoon arrested Emile San Soucie of 542A Pleasant street, Bemis, for driving an automobile without a license or registration. He will be tried on Aug. 6.

Dennis Rooney of Peabody street, Newton, was fined $100 in the Waltham court Monday morning for driving while under the influence of liquor and $10 for drunkenness. Rooney was in an accident at High and Hall streets, Waltham on May 10 and he defaulted when his trial was called in Waltham shortly afterwards.

As a result of many complaints received about "speeding" on Beacon street and Commonwealth avenue, a trap was set on these streets Monday morning and Officers Dowling and Turner took the names and addresses of 65 motorists who were stepping on the gas. Many of these will appear in court.

A PRIZE WINNER

NEW JOB IN ENGINEER'S DEPARTMENT

On Thursday, August 23, an examination will be held at the State House for a new position established in the City Engineer's Department of Newton. Because of the great increase in the number of titles which must be examined at the Registry of Deeds by this department it has been deemed necessary to have a "title clerk." The civil service examination will be open to both men and women. The salary will be $30 per week.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY BUICK

Outstanding among the impressions created by the Silver Anniversary Buick is this: that Buick and Fisher style engineers have cut loose from all precedent in working out the line and color treatment for the new car which they introduce this week.

Lack of anything, among motor cars of today, to which the new Buick bodies can be compared, complicates the task of describing them adequately. They abound in deep, full curves, grace, and at the same time, one of abundant roominess which is not belied by a glance at the interior.

Where conventional body design prescribes an almost straight drop from roof to running board, Buick has departed boldly from precedent. The body bulges or swells, just beneath the windows, and one curve is introduced in a graceful sweep. The fullness beneath the windows runs completely around the sides and rear of the body, and in combination with other curved line applications, imparts an effect of indescribable beauty.

The sharp roof-edge is eliminated. Except at the front, which terminates abruptly above the new military visor, the steel of the sides and rear is carried in a graceful line up and over, merging into the top, and is Duocord, a refreshing new treatment.

Fenders and hood were worked out to harmonize with the body lines. The front fenders are of one-piece construction, extra heavy. They taper gradually toward the rear, setting off to perfect advantage the horizontal to turn off the device when the engine is stopped.

Still another driving compartment improvement is the new Buick instrument panel, with its new grouping of instruments. The panel is provided with two-way illumination, and accommodates the 90-mile speedometer, directly in front of the driver,—the oil gauge, water temperature gauge, and new hydrostatic gasoline gauge, the most accurate instrument of its sort obtainable.

The gearshift lever in the new Buick is of graceful design, and curves back toward the driver. As in the 1928 Buick, there is no control for which the driver must reach. Everything is within easy distance of hand or foot. Light controls are centralized along the steering column as formerly, along with the horn button.

Drivers accustomed to spend much time on the road will appreciate the new accelerator pedal and foot rest, which are so designed as to permit movement of the right foot while driving, without affecting the speed of the car. The new front compartment ventilators,—small doors in the cowl just forward of the front doors, and on a level with the feet,—also will appeal. They are operated easily by a slight pressure of the foot.

Buick is introducing something new in the way of theft-resisting door handles, in the Silver Anniversary line. While a would-be thief may force the handle with a wrench or piece of pipe, it will give without allowing access to the car, and the owner may still unlock the door with his key.

A new and pleasing pattern has been worked out for the interior of the product of tireless energy, all directed at creation of a strikingly new and beautiful car. How well this effort has succeeded is apparent in the admiring comment of visitors at the Buicks' showrooms where the Silver Anniversary line is now on display.

EMBASSY THEATRE

Norma Shearer in one of the best pictures of her entire career will be the feature on the program of the Embassy, Waltham's Wonder theatre, for the first three days of next week. The photoplay is "The Actress" and portrays in brilliant fashion the terrific struggle which an actress has in order to carve out her own success.

For the last half of the week William Haines will be seen in "Telling the World," a picture loaded with action.

At all performances at the Wonder Theatre, there will be five all-star acts of feature vaudeville, in accordance with the Embassy policy of giving big-time programs through the summer months. The organ recitals by J. Leslie Cahill and the programs by the Embassy Grand orchestra under the direction of Charles Hatch are other features which please the patrons.

The moonlight promenade, along the waterfalls near the theatre, during which free cold drinks and cigarettes are distributed is another novel feature which is increasing the popularity of the Moody street playhouse.

EDITORIAL

THE reflections of Mr. Butler Ames, a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, on the availability of former Speaker Young for that nomination, are not creditable to Mr. Ames. No candidate makes much progress in politics who attacks his competitors. Mr. Ames should tell the voters of his own qualifications for the nomination and let it go at that. Incidentally we do not believe that the power of appointment to Legislative committees, as vested in the Speaker, is much of an asset. For every appointment to good committee places there are usually six or seven disgruntled candidates, and it is common knowledge that failure to obtain desired positions is never forgotten.

Senator Moses sized up the whole situation in his recent comment on the possibility of wet Republicans voting for Governor Smith. Mr. Moses said:

"The misled wets who think that Governor Smith can smite the rock of the Eighteenth Amendment and cause copious streams of beer and light wines to gush forth are living in a political fool's paradise. Smith can do nothing for them—nor can anyone else. They are joined to their idols and for the present at least they must be left alone in their folly."

The charge that because Representative Leverett Saltonstall asked to be excused from voting on Boston Elevated legislation at the last session of the Legislature on account of previous connection with the firm of Elevated lawyers, he should not be chosen Speaker of the next House is hardly worth serious attention. The very fact that Mr. Saltonstall asked to be excused indicates his high conception of his duty as a legislator, and clearly shows that as Speaker he would be most conscientious in handling that office.

From all we have been able to learn the chief issue at the coming election for President will not be prohibition, farm relief, tariff revision, or religion. It will be Tammany, and only Tammany. No one can consider without a shudder of the possibilities which will be opened up if Governor Smith is elected President. Tammany judges of the Supreme Court; Tammany district attorneys; and Tammany officials of all kinds and conditions. Does the prospect please you?

WATSON H. ARMSTRONG

Watson H. Armstrong of 103 Floral street, Newton Highlands, died suddenly of heart failure on Wednesday. He was born in Kempt Shore, Nova Scotia, 57 years ago and came to Newton when a small child. He had been employed in the Dunham Market. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Minetta Armstrong and one daughter, Mrs. Gladys Smith of 25 Bowen street, Newton Centre. He was a member of Newton Lodge of Odd Fellows. His funeral service will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at his daughter's home; Rev. W. J. Kelly formerly of Newton Highlands officiating. Burial will be in Newton Cemetery.

MRS. ABIGAIL MOOREHEAD

Mrs. Abigail Moorehead, wife of James P. Moorehead of 22 Court street, Newtonville, died on Wednesday. She was born in Ireland 66 years ago and had resided in this city for 47 years. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, John and Patrick Moorehead, both of this city. Her funeral service will be held tomorrow morning at the Church of Our Lady, Newton. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery, Needham.

VERANUS WENTWORTH

Veranus Wentworth, a resident of this city for 70 years, died on July 26 at the home of his son, 20 Foster street, Newtonville. He was born in Hope, Maine, 91 years ago and was formerly engaged in the piano business, retiring about 15 years ago. His funeral service was held last Sunday afternoon at the Newtonville Methodist church. Rev. Mr. Emig officiating. Burial was in Newton Cemetery. The deceased is survived by one son, Clarence A. Wentworth, and two grandchildren.

DEATH OF MR. MONROE

Mr. Elmer Ellsworth Monroe, a well known contractor and builder, died yesterday afternoon at his home on Woodland road, after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Monroe was born in Greenfield, Maine, and was 60 years of age. He has resided in Auburndale for the past five years. He was a member of Fraternity lodge of Masons. He is survived by a widow. Funeral services will be held from his late home 32 Woodland road, Auburndale, on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. M. L. Bullock of the Centenary M. E. Church will officiate and the interment will be in Mt. Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Hard to Say Just Who Was "Father of Navy"

"The questions, 'Who was the father of the American navy? What was the first American warship and what was the first sea fight in the history of the nation?' are continually being raised," writes Prof. Walter B. Norris of the United States Naval Academy in Current History. "When the facts are clear it is useless and impossible to answer them absolutely. It was Washington became the 'father of his country' simply because he was its first President, then John Barry deserves the title for the navy, for he was its first commander appointed directly by the congress. But if Washington was 'father of his country' because he was chiefly responsible for its foundation, then John Paul Jones deserves the honor in the navy, for, although there was no real head of the navy during the Revolution, Jones suggested many of the lines on which it later developed and gave it traditions which have shaped its spirit ever since. . . . The first sea fight of the Revolution occurred on May 7, 1775, in the waters of Vineyard sound, Massachusetts, when a band of nine men from Dartmouth went out in a schooner, the Success, and recaptured two vessels that had been seized. Thus the Success must be called the first American warship, though it did not have even the legal status of a privateer, and was manned by members of the army."

Credit for Starch Is Awarded to Flanders

The use of starch in the laundry began about 350 years ago and is said to have originated in Flanders. It came into popularity in England in the reign of Elizabeth, whose courtiers and ladies wore ruffs of cambric too large to stand firm without artificial stiffening. The starch was like that of modern times except that it was colored—red, yellow, green, and blue—and gave delicate tints to the huge linen contrivances of the benux and belles of the period.

The method of using starch was a secret and in order to find a person who could properly starch her linen, Queen Elizabeth was compelled to make a nationwide search and Mrs. Guilford, wife of an official of the royal household, was the first starcher. In 1564 a Flemish woman, Frau Vaud Plasse, came to London and established there a school to teach starching. The school succeeded, and the frau of Flanders became rich.

Bananas and Wheat

A study made by a representative of the Department of Agriculture in Hawaii shows that the banana leads in total production per acre and in fuel value per acre. A fair yield of wheat is estimated at 1,620 pounds per acre. In the banana it is 32,000 pounds per acre. And the comparative fuel values from an acre are 2,673,000 calories for wheat and 8,520,000 for bananas. Of rice, corn, white and sweet potatoes, the acre yield of sweet potatoes, with 6,100,000 calories, approaches closest to the banana. Of the fruits the banana is much the richest in protein, having approximately four and one-half times as large a proportion as the apple and nearly five times the pineapple.

Bullet and Air in Films

When a speeding bullet crashes through an electric light bulb it dents the glass before it plows its way through the white fragments of glass floating in the air. Air moves into each airplane cylinder at the rate of 42 feet a second. These facts were shown by use of the camera invented by Baron Shiba, a Japanese engineer. The camera made 20,000 exposures a minute and the films were thrown on the screen as slow-motion pictures. Every detail of the bullet's flight as though the missile was traveling slowly, was shown.

Alfalfa Cultivation

Historical accounts indicate that alfalfa was first cultivated in Persia and that the Persians took it with them when they invaded Greece about 490 B. C. to provide forage for the horses and cattle of their armies. It was apparently introduced into Italy during the First century and into Spain during the Moorish invasion in the eighth century. The Spaniards took alfalfa to South America and Mexico in the sixteenth century and doubtless to California and the Southwest during their first expeditions.

Not Applicable

"You should remember, Brother Johnson," solemnly said the visiting clergyman, "that we are here today and gone tomorrow—"

"You hadn't referring to my wife's kinkfolk, I reckon, elder," responded Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "They're yur today, all right, but the chances are they ain't gone till the grub gives out or I begin talking about taking a shot at somebody."—Kansas City Star.

That's Different

The trouble started when little Doris declared she would rather have half a jam tart than two-thirds of it. "How often have I tried to drive it into you," said the exasperated teacher, "that two-thirds of anything is more than half? Now, you all know," she went on, "that Doris prefers a small portion of tart to a large piece. Funny child, isn't she?"

"Please, miss," said Doris in a small, clear piping voice, "I don't like tart!"

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The most uncomfortable looking men we noticed in Newton yesterday as the temperature rose into the 90s were members of the Newton police force attired in their heavy blue serge uniform coats. It has been suggested in the Graphic several times that Newton policemen be permitted to obtain relief during the summer months by wearing clothing adapted to the temperature. Police in many cities and towns for years have been allowed to wear alpaca coats or garments of light texture during this season, or given the privilege of discarding their coats and appearing in neat negligee shirts. Just how long will the Newton cops be compelled to perspire in heavy worsted uniform coats when other folks are properly attired for the summer season?

The horrible truth as to why Al Smith should not be elected to the exalted job of presiding over this land of ours was revealed to us yesterday. We were informed that Al chews tobacco; not only that, but he expectorates from one corner of his mouth. Such an abominable habit could not be tolerated from the Chief Executive of the United States. It was condoned in the case of Joe Cannon; it is still tolerated even in the august Senate Chamber, but just fancy some dill-tantante from the Old World walking unexpectedly into the President's private office and catching Al, should he be elected, expectorating nicotine juice at a rakish angle into a cuspidor. We must attempt to verify this accusation. It certainly is a very serious allegation.

Years ago when we attended the Bigelow School the pupils did not have the many pleasant features introduced into their school hours that the school children of today enjoy. One of the most welcome periods in those days was that when the "readers" were distributed to the children. And, of the several books which the pupils read from in that remote past, Aesop's Fables was one of the most popular. Aesop was a "wise guy," and then some. Any person whose teachings retain their popularity for nearly fifteen centuries must have known his stuff. The leading industry of the Greeks in the days B. C. was not running lunch rooms. It was philosophizing. Although the pupils in the Newton schools in recent years have not been given the opportunity to study Greek philosophy in the original tongue, we, in the old days, got a smattering of it when we read Aesop's wise cracks translated into English.

One of the fables expounded by Mr. Aesop was for the purpose of impressing upon those who read it that one is very foolish to attempt to satisfy everybody. According to Aesop any person who attempts this task is up against a stiff proposition—and then some. If we remember correctly, Aesop told a story, in illustrating this fable, about a good natured peasant who started out on a journey accompanied by his young son, and mounted upon his burro. In trying to satisfy a number of critics he met on the way, the obliging traveller lost his aid to locomotion and had to resort to shank's mare.

This trend of thought was impelled on us the other night when a young Newton man cast harsh aspersions upon the present Newton Board of Aldermen because it had reserved a section of Centre street (or Washington street) at Nonantum Square (try to tell which is which at this point) as a terminal for the buses of the Middlesex & Boston. The young man averred that by stopping the buses at this place a great hazard had been created to pedestrians, especially children. We asked our critic where he would suggest that the buses stand to discharge and receive passengers at Nonantum Square. He asserted that the proper place for the buses to stand is in the centre of the square, where the electric cars have their terminal for over 35 years, or as an alternative, to have the bus terminal at the parking space on Washington street near Thornton street. And to think that for 20 years there has been agitation to get the cars out of the middle of Nonantum Square.

Few names are more famous than that of O'Donnell—the name of an ancient and powerful Irish family, lords of Tyrconnel in earlier days and chief rivals of the O'Neills for supremacy in Ulster. Descendants of Niall, who was king of Ireland at the beginning of the 5th century, they ruled over what is now Donegal and they engaged in sanguinary wars with the English against their rivals, the O'Neills and against the English invaders of Ireland, and at other times as allies of one of these foes against the other. Perhaps the most famous of the clan was Hugh Roe O'Donnell, born in 1572, in whose veins flowed the blood of the erstwhile enemies of his sept, the O'Neills and of the MacDonnells of Kintyre, chieftains of the Hebridean Scots.

Hugh Roe O'Donnell achieved such fame in the 30 years of his life that he is still lauded in song and poetry. Henry Hugh O'Donnell, born in Spain in 1769 of a branch of the family which had fled from Ireland, became a general in the Spanish army and Count of Bisbal. His son, Leopold O'Donnell acquired eminence as a soldier and statesman and became Duke of Tetuan.

If the proposed "widening" of the corner of Centre and Elmwood streets to the extent of 30 inches is carried out, perhaps the job will be done with an emery wheel or a file.

The retired champion, Gene Tunney, is not the only young man, who unlike the ordinary pugilist, has had brains enough to hold onto the rich compensation his brawn and skill earned. Newton's most famous exponent of the "manly art," Jack Sharkey, is building a $40,000 brick mansion at his property on Stone avenue, Chestnut Hill. This dwelling will replace Mr. Sharkey's present attractive wooden residence.

Representative Arthur W. Hollis has announced his candidacy for Republican nomination to again serve the Fourth Middlesex District in the House. Leverett Saltonstall will, of course again be a candidate for reelection to the Legislature from the Fifth Middlesex District, as he is the leading candidate for the Speakership of the House.

Times change, but we still have with us juvenile vendors of lemonade. The impulse to sell lemonade must come to children either after hearing a parent tell of having engaged in this enterprise—or is it an instinctive surge? Anyhow, there was much activity recently in Newton in the lemonade industry and the conditions surrounding it were just about the same as those when we were kids. The same sort of soap box stand, only soap boxes are now difficult to obtain, corrugated paper has replaced wood in containing the same interested gallery of juvenile spectators and advisers; the same end to the enterprise—the lemonade being sold at a greatly reduced price to the other kids of the neighborhood and quaffed without price by the lemonade stand owners and their intimate friends. It takes more capital to start selling lemonade today than it did of yore. Lemons cost 60 cents the dozen now; they cost 15 cents the dozen then.

Newton has long enjoyed the title—"Garden City." As one travels about this city and observes the many beautiful gardens cultivated by property owners here, one realizes that Newton merits the title. It is to be regretted that this municipality does not keep pace with local residents in keeping the grass borders along city streets the same end to the enterprise—the lemonade being sold at a greatly reduced price to the other kids of the neighborhood and quaffed without price by the lemonade stand owners and their intimate friends. It takes more capital to start selling lemonade today than it did of yore. Lemons cost 60 cents the dozen now; they cost 15 cents the dozen then.

The cost of keeping Newton's streets properly surfaced because of the wear on them from automobile traffic exhausts the appropriations given to the Street Department. The large amounts necessary to conduct the affairs of the city cause the Aldermen to refrain from appropriating money for many improvements in order to keep the tax rate from soaring. It would not cost a great deal to provide an extra sum for the Street Department so that the grass borders along our streets can be kept trimmed and frequently, and more men assigned to patrol the highways. Commissioner Stuart has earned an enviable reputation during the 50 years he has been largely responsible for the condition of the streets of this city. But he can't accomplish the impossible.

There has been—and is more whooping going on in and around our street than ever occurred at any rodeo. Every child on the street has had—or is having the whooping cough. And how those youngsters do whoop it up during the wee hours of the early morning. To them it is no joke. Neither very funny to the parents who must lose sleep night after night.

REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns & Sons report the past week a very active one in Newton real estate. They have just resold the Colonna, a fireproof apartment building located at 239 Walnut street, Newtonville. With the building there are 15,640 sq. ft. of land. The land alone being valued at $65,000. The apartment building is of absolutely fireproof construction. It was built about ten years ago by Dr. Baker, who anticipated the strict requirements of apartment structures that are now in vogue throughout the city. The property at the time of its construction cost over $150,000 above the land. Several weeks ago Burns' agency sold this property to Stuart Marshall Realty Co. During the past week it has been reconveyed to Peter Turchon who buys for permanent investment.

The Burns' agency has sold to Mr. and Mrs. James Hosford of Newton Centre the modern duplex house located at 14-16 Floral street, in the Newton Highlands district. With the property, which is valued at $9,500, there are 7,000 sq. ft. of land. Frank S. Lane was the grantor.

From Poverty To Plenty

WHEN she was 10 her parents opened for her a savings account. They helped her build it up while she was a child—she helped herself as a woman. For 30 years she kept up her accounts and then bought a splendid, going business, one of the biggest money makers in her town. Today she is a happy and prosperous woman.

THE gulf between Poverty and Plenty can be bridged best by an account here.

Great Musician and Wife Fond of Pets

When Mme. Vandervelde, wife of the Belgian statesman, was visiting the Paderewski some years ago at their beautiful place on Lake Geneva, Paderewski, one evening after dinner, sat down at the piano and began to play Chopin.

"I was astonished," says Mme. Vandervelde in her book, "Monarchs and Millionaires," "when, at the first notes, a parrot flew across the room and alighted on the musician's right foot, which, it appeared to me, must be a great hindrance to his use of the pedal. When he had finished playing, the parrot flew onto his shoulder, exclaiming, 'Good boy, good boy,' with great gusto."

Another surprise for Mme. Vandervelde came from Mme. Paderewski, who had a passion for chickens. At dinner one evening when everyone was dressed in his best, Mme. Paderewski received a whispered message, in great excitement she called for her overalls and rushed out of the room, Paderewski explained to his astonished guests that some new kind of chicken had been hatched out in the incubator, and that his wife simply had to be present on all such occasions.

Recent Deaths

DEATH OF MR. ROCKWELL

Carlos P. Rockwell, president of C. P. Rockwell, Inc., Nash distributors for New England, died Wednesday at his home on Studio road, after a three months' illness. He would have been 54 years old on August 17.

He was born on August 17, 1874, in East Windsor Hill, a village in South Windsor, Conn., on the old highway along the Connecticut river, a half mile north of the birthplace of Jonathan Edwards, famous preacher. His mother, Ella Niede Prior, 74, is living in Rockfall, Conn., and his grandmother, Emily J. Prior, 94, at Ware-house Point, Conn. He is survived also by his widow, who was Amelia L'Hommedieu Silliman, to whom he was married November 23, 1898, in Chester, Conn., and by two brothers, Howard P. and Franklin P. Rockwell, both of Hartford.

Mr. Rockwell was educated in East Windsor Hill Academy, East Windsor Hill, Conn., and Huntsinger Business College, Hartford. He was descended from Deacon William Rockwell, who in 1630 came from Dorchester, England, to Dorchester, Mass., on the ship Mary & John. He was descended also from William Bradford, second Governor of Plymouth colony, and was a member of the Mayflower descendants.

He entered business on April 20, 1892, with the Pope Hartford Mfg. Co. In 1907 he went to Kenosha, Wis., with the Thomas B. Jeffrey Co., manufacturers of Rambler cars, and on November 3, 1908, came to Boston as branch manager for this company. In 1914 he established C. P. Rockwell, Inc., which continued to represent the Jeffrey company until it was purchased by the Nash Motors Co., when Mr. Rockwell was appointed New England distributor for Nash cars. During the first year 585 Nash cars were distributed in New England, and Mr. Rockwell built up his organization until it was one of the largest distributors in the entire Nash organization.

WELL KNOWN FORMER RESIDENT

Mr. James B. Fuller, for many years a former well known resident of this city died on Monday at the home of his son in Sheridan, Wyoming. "Jim-mie" Fuller, as he was affectionately known to a wide circle of friends, was born in Berlin, Mass., December 8, 1840. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Fuller, and served in the Civil War as drummer boy in Co. F, of the 13th Massachusetts Regiment. After the war he was in business in Boston and made his home on Nonantum hill for many years.

Mr. Fuller was deeply interested in Masonry. He was a member and past master of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons, a member of Fraternity Lodge of Masons, a charter member and past high priest of Newton Royal Arch Chapter, a charter member and past illustrious master of Cryptic Council, R. & S. M., the last charter member and past eminent commander of Gethsemane Commandery K. T., a 32nd degree Mason and a member of Aleppo Temple of the Shrine. He was a former member of Channing Church and was active in former years in the Newton Club. Mr. Fuller, for many years spent his summers at the ranch of his son in Wyoming and his winters at the Newton Club and with his sister in Hudson, Mass.

He is survived by a son Lawrence S. Fuller of Sheridan, Wyoming. The body will be brought east and a Masonic funeral held tomorrow afternoon in Masonic Temple, Newtonville at 2 p. m.

DEATH OF GENERAL EMERY

William B. Emery, who was for 17 years chief Quartermaster General of the Massachusetts National Guard, died Wednesday morning at his home, 15 Ivanhoe street, where he had been sick for two weeks. Gen. Emery first became afflicted last winter, but he was not confined to his room. Several weeks ago he went to his farm at East Sandwich and spent many hours each day out of doors. His condition became worse two weeks ago and he returned to Newton.

Gen. Emery was born in Boston 60 years ago and was educated in the public schools. He was the son of William H. Emery. He entered the coal business when a young man and was a partner in a firm which no longer exists. Gen. Emery was always much interested in military affairs. He was one of the first to join Battery A when it was formed. In 1908 he became chief Quartermaster General, and served in that post until four years ago.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Cora Flanders Emery. Funeral services will be held at home Thursday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. Laurens MacLure of Grace Church will officiate at the services.

DIES SUDDENLY

Mr. James E. Young of Larch road, Waban, dropped dead Tuesday evening at the Bowdoin square garage in Boston. Mr. Young had attended a meeting of the New Jerusalem Church and was on his way home.

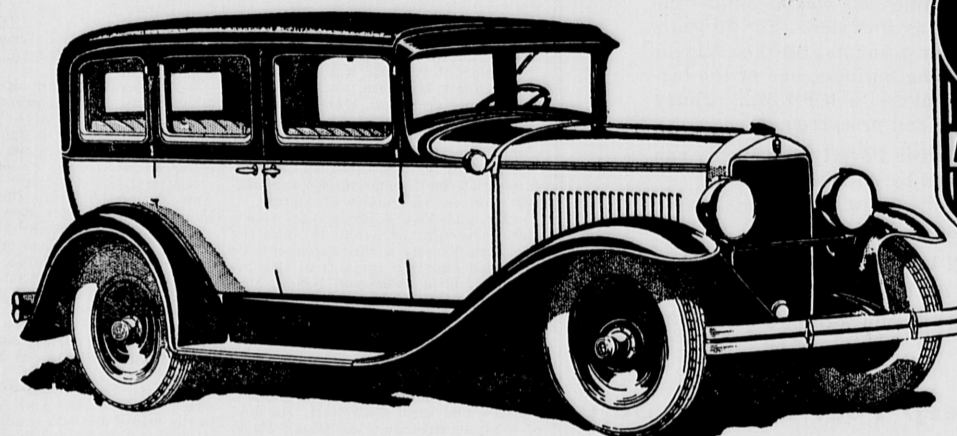

He was born in South Boston on August 4, 1872 and was the son of the late James A. and Emma Young. He was graduated from Harvard College and the Harvard Law School and had been practicing in Boston for some time.

He is survived by his widow, who was Grace Cutler and one son Edward Young of Waban. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at his home on Larch road, Waban.

DIES FROM LOCKJAW

John Melsaac of 11 High street, Newton Highlands, a carpenter by occupation, died at the Newton Hospital last Saturday from lockjaw. Mr. Melsaac stepped on a nail in a building at 38 High street and the wound in his foot became infected. He was taken to the Newton Hospital and an unsuccessful effort made to arrest the infection by the use of lockjaw serum.

WASHINGTON AS A YOUNG MAN

At the age of seventeen, Washington had become one of the most accurate surveyors in Virginia. A year later he was appointed public surveyor of the state. He gave up this position and was made a colonel of the Virginian troops.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD

Word was received here last week of the death of John M. Start on July 15th at San Diego, California, in the 96th year of his age. Mr. Start was born in Malone, New York, and came to Newton at the opening of the gas works here as its first superintendent. Joseph N. Bacon was the first president of the company and B. Franklin Bacon, his brother, treasurer. The late Mrs. Ross, wife of Henry Ross, for many years superintendent of the Newton Cemetery, was cousin of Mrs. Start. He with Mr. J. S. Potter and others at Newton Corner established the North Evangelical Church. He married in the early sixties Winifred Costella, sister of Mrs. George Lane, shortly after resigning from the gas company. He removed to Minneapolis, Minn., where he taught music for several years, later going to California where he resided up to the time of his death. His wife died in Faribault, Minn., in 1873. He leaves two sons, Arthur and William Mortimer who reside in San Diego.

DEATH OF MRS. WILLIAMS

Mrs. Callie J. (Bickford) Williams, seventy-eight years old, widow of John N. Williams, formerly of Malden, died on Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Scott C. W. Simpson, 32 Mason road, Newton Center. Mrs. Williams was a sister of the late Erskine F. Bickford of Malden, formerly president of the First National Bank of Malden, and active in the First Baptist Church of that city. She was the mother of the late Elisha S. Williams, prominent in the activities of the

She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Newton and connected with a number of the women's organizations associated with it.

Besides her daughter Mrs. Williams is also survived by a son, Mr. Frank B. Williams of Belmont.

DEATH OF FORMER RESIDENT

Mr. George W. Anderson, a former resident of this city for twenty years, died last week Wednesday at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston, after an illness of several months. Mr. Anderson was the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Anderson of Nottingham street, Brighton, and was born in Cambridge, Dec. 9, 1901.

GOES TO GUATEMALA

The many Newton friends of Miss Vivian Worcester Wyatt, daughter of Mrs. Grace Worcester of Waltham, will be pleased to learn of the signal honor conferred upon her by the United Fruit Company in asking her to enter its accounting department in Puerto Barrios, Guatemala, Central America. This port is located on the Amatique Gulf, approached through the Gulf of Honduras, an arm of the Caribbean Sea, and is the eastern terminus of the American-controlled railway extending for a distance of about 270 miles, through Guatemala City, the Capital of the Republic, high in its mountainous regions, to San Jose, on the Pacific Coast.

Miss Wyatt is a graduate of the Waltham High School and of the Bryant and Stratton Commercial School in Boston, where she displayed pronounced scholarship. Thus prepared for a business career, she had been only a short while in the employ of the Waltham Co-operative Bank when its treasurer and directors became impressed with her efficiency and made her their head bookkeeper.

The United Fruit Company has spent more than two hundred million dollars towards the development of Central America, and has transformed its Atlantic coast from fever-ridden swamps and jungles into modern sanitary and healthful communities. That Miss Wyatt has been asked by the company to take important part in its activities at one of those of Central America, and has congratulation and she is receiving many wishes for deserved success and happiness in the foreign land for which she is to sail on one of the United Fruit Company's steamers next Saturday.

FERRY'S LATEST

Who is who in Newton
Is a question often asked
If it's he who has character
Or the man who has the cash.

If it's both cash and character,
You sure do need a home
Head straight for Ferry's office
There'll be no need to roam.

He'll give you facts not fancies
How the cellar wall is made
You learn what size timbers are
And how the bricks are laid.

These lines I here present you
Mean nothing to a drone
I'm talking to a man with vim

POLICE NEWS

Thomas Crockett of Providence was arrested early Wednesday morning in West Newton charged with driving while under the influence of liquor.

Joseph Carr of Somerville was arrested charged with illegally transporting liquor. They will be tried August 10. The arrests were made by Patrolmen Hartford and McGrath.

Frank and Esther Castagnino of 181 River street, West Newton, were arrested Tuesday night by Patrolman King after neighbors had summoned him to quell a family row in which the couple were indulging. In court on Wednesday each was fined $50 for mutual assault and battery and disturbing the peace.

Alphonse Blair of Framingham was arrested Tuesday night by Patrolmen Hammell and Foley and charged with various offenses including driving without a license, driving while under the influence of liquor and speeding.

He will be tried on August 13. Ralph Fuller of Cohasset was arrested early Wednesday morning by Serg. Crowley and Patrolman Walker charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried August 15.

Speeders fined in the Newton court on Wednesday were—John Manzano, Dorchester, $25; Charles DeCicco, Framingham, $10; George Malley, Cliftondale, $5.

Frederic Wittig of 100 Hillside avenue, West Newton, was arrested Monday night by Patrolman Lyons charged with driving while under the influence of liquor after he had parked his car in front of police headquarters at West Newton to enter a nearby store.

The case will be tried on August 10. Martin Whalen of West Newton was sent to the House of Correction for one month on Tuesday after having been found guilty in the Newton court of driving while under the influence of liquor. He was first given a fine of $150 and given a suspended sentence of 30 days to the House of Correction. When he appealed these penalties, the judge revoked them and ordered a straight sentence of one month.

Speeders fined $10 each in the Newton court on Tuesday were—Philip Treadwell of Wellesley, Edward Hamilton of Roslindale, Domenic Caruso of Brighton, Samuel Anastasia of Watertown.

A car stolen from W. Abramson of Commonwealth avenue, Brighton, was found by Tony Angino of Nonantum street, Oak Hill, at the rear of Robert Gould Shaw's estate stripped of its tires and battery.

Paul Proia of Hawthorne street, Nonantum, was given a suspended fine of $25 in the Newton court on Tuesday on the charge of having assaulted his kin, Arthur Proia who resides on the second floor of the same house where Paul dwells. Paul, in turn, accused Arthur and Arthur's father, Loreto Proia of a mob court, of having attacked him from the rear and summonses were issued for their appearance in court to also answer charges of assault and battery.

Thomas Marulli of Thompsonville charged in the Newton court yesterday with speeding by Motorcycle Officer Hammell, accused the latter of persecuting him because of a grudge. Hammell accused Marulli of driving at the rate of 30 miles an hour, but the defendant stated he was only going 15 miles when intercepted by Hammell at Langley road and Beecher place. Marulli was fined $25 by Judge Bacon. This is the second time this year he has been in court charged by Hammell with speeding. He admitted having endeavored, through friends to influence Hammell to refrain from making a complaint against him.

One day last week Patrolman James Jenkins was on Grove street, Auburndale, when he noticed an automobile stop down the street and its operator got out and remove the plates and drive off. Later the same person returned driving another car, bearing the registration plates which he had removed from the car which had stalled. Jenkins queried the man, who gave his name and address as Peter Christie of Natick and learned that the first car which Peter had appeared in on Grove street was one he was testing out with the idea of buying it if it proved satisfactory—which it didn't. When this car balked, Peter adopted the simple expedient of taking off the plates and placing them on the car for which they were issued. This little substitution caused Christie to be fined $100 in the Newton court yesterday. Judge Bacon informing him that this appreciable penalty is the minimum fine for driving an automobile which is not insured. The charge of driving an unregistered car was placed on file. Peter was given until September 5 to pay his fine in full; he paid $20 yesterday.

Robert Beattie of Longwood avenue, Roxbury, was arrested Wednesday night by Patrolmen McDonough and Marden charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried August 17. A number of persons were in court yesterday charged with violating automobile laws.

Those fined for speeding were—Baron Walsh, East Dedham, $10; Frank McCabe, 1290 Washington street, Boston; Charles Marshall, Brimmer street, Boston; John O'Brien, Westboro; James Coffey, South Natick; Augusta Malley, 7 Shawmut street, Worcester; each of these being fined $10. George Fuller of 761 Cambridge street, Brighton, was fined $5 for speeding and William Boyle of Harvard terrace, Allston, was fined $15. Richard Morrissey of 81 Denniston street, West Newton, was fined $25 for driving without a license. Floyd Parker of 25 Washington park, Newtonville, was fined $10 for driving without proper lights. The case of Herbert Hedberg of Graxplan Way, Dorchester, charged with driving after his license had expired and with speeding, was continued until August 10.

TEMPERANCE BY RASCOB

St. Anthony once preached to fishes. That listened to his pious wishes, But eels as usual went on eeling. As thieves in spite of laws keep stealing;—

And Rascoob would St. Anthony be, Preacher to "wets," of Temperance, he!

With "careful plans" to be "evolved," All prohibition's problems solved! While Gov'nor Smith such laws would make

No fool could ever wish to break;— Crimes would all cease from drinking "booze."

Naught but "pure" whiskey none would choose;

On "sidewalks of New York" there'd be No more a tipsy dancing spree,

No bad "saloons"—no more a "wet," Old Tammany reformed, we'd get!

And bibblers of old times we'd meet See "personal freedom" reel down street!

Once Medford rum was healthy, pure, Damaged no homes,—oft sipped would cure

Disorders, pains—if kept on shelf Ready to dose one's thirsty self;—

Few were arrested, and could keep Quite "comfortable"—drunk, asleep! Such "glorious times" can ne'er return Till Smith's elected,—so we learn, And fortunes once again flow in For manufacturers of gin.

When Rascoob's Temperance Laws command,

And "wets" grasp "drys" with outstretched hand.

But delicate vases soon are smashed Best Laws e'er made are quickly crashed, Smith knows it all,—such talk brings votes.

Thus whinnies like a horse for oats. Prohibitory laws are vain,

And laws by Rascoob bring no gain. Thieves, spite of law, their pockets fill,

No murderer hears "Thou shalt not kill!"

Though civil laws may be improved, No law, by sinners yet was loved.

G. G. P.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

By virtue, and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by John J. Timmins of Newton in the County of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to Frederick D. Wellington of said Newton, dated May 26, 1926 and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4974, Page 161, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions contained in said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction on the premises on Tuesday, August 28, 1928, at two o'clock P. M., all and singular the premises described in said mortgage:

A certain parcel of land situated in that part of said Newton called West Newton, with the buildings thereon, being lot numbered 14, as shown on Plan of Land of Lewis H. Dodge, dated March 29, 1914 recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book of Plans 221, Plan 37, and is bounded: SOUTHEASTERLY by Adena Road, Fifty-Four (54) feet; NORTH-EASTERLY by Lot 15, on said plan, One Hundred (100) feet; NORTHWESTERLY by land now formerly of S. E. Howard, Fifty-Four (54) feet; SOUTHWESTERLY by Lot 13 on said plan, One Hundred (100) feet; containing 5400 square feet and being the same premises conveyed to me by Margaret Hanson.

Said premises are subject to a prior mortgage of $9000, held by the Hopkinton Savings Bank.

Five hundred ($500) dollars cash will be required of the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Said sale will be made subject to taxes and municipal liens if any there be. Other terms and conditions of sale announced at sale.

For further particulars inquire of Benjamin F. Thornburg, attorney for the present holder of said mortgage, Waltham National Bank Building, 637 Main Street, Waltham, Massachusetts.

FREDERICK D. WELLINGTON, Mortgagee.

Measurement of Time

Vague Among Savages

Strange methods of counting time are in vogue among savage and semi-civilized peoples, and often the scarcity or abundance of rations serves to measure the year. Thus, in Alaska, one month is known as "people gnaw belts," for at that time seals and fish are particularly scarce and the tribes are often on the verge of starvation. In Dahomey, French West Africa, the year is divided only into the times of planting and eating maize, of planting again, and of harvest.

The Polynesians have a "month of grumbles," the time of little food, rainy weather, smoking houses, watery eyes and constant quarrels. Among more primitive races the measurement of time is even more vague. The chief of a Pacific island may reply, when asked how long his house has been standing, that it has existed for only two smallpox epidemics.

These methods of distinguishing the seasons, it is said, are akin to the inability of primitive peoples to count. There is a saying in Denmark that all who desire to remain perpetually young should go to Greenland, where they will never be more than twenty years old. No native of Greenland can count above 20, it is said.—Detroit News.

Hope and Expectancy

in Railroader's Plea

On a switch engine belonging to the Northern Pacific is pasted the following:

"Now that I have flagged Thee, lift up my feet from the rough road of life and plant them safely on the train of salvation. Let me use the safety lamp of prudence, make all couplings with the links of love and let my hand lantern be the Bible, and keep all switches closed that lead off the main line into sidings with blind ends. Have every semaphore block along the line show the white light of hope, that I may make the run of life without stopping. Help me to use the Ten Commandments as a working card, and when I have finished the run on scheduled time and pulled into the terminal, may Thou, Superintendent of the Universe, say: 'Well done, good and faithful servant; come into the general office and sign the pay roll and receive your check for eternal happiness.'—Exchange.

Twain's Literary Dinner

While travelling in England, Mark Twain was entertained by the editorial staff of the magazine Punch at a dinner which he later spoke of as one of the happiest incidents of his life. It was characteristic of the American humorist that, although many honors were accorded him, among them the presentation of the famous red and gray robe of an Oxford "doctor," he got his greatest delight from the menu card, upon which the various dishes were named for his books.

That night Mark Twain feasted on Innocent Oysters Abroad, Roughing It Soup, Huckleberry Finn Fish, Joan of Arc Fillet of Beef, Jumping Frog Terrapin, Punch Brothers Punch, Gilded Duck, Hadleyburg Salad, Life on the Mississippi Ice Cream, Prince and Pauper Cakes, Pudd'nhead Cheese, and White Elephant Coffee.—Kansas City Star.

Snow on Mountain Peaks

There are two main reasons why some mountain peaks have snow on them the year around, while others of the same height and latitude do not. Temperature is not the same for the same height, all around the earth along a given parallel of latitude. In temperate regions, for instance, the eastern portion of a continent is colder than the western; precipitation varies greatly along a parallel latitude. The duration of snow on a mountain peak obviously varies with the average temperature and the amount of snowfall. These vary along a parallel of latitude; hence some mountain peaks may be snow-covered throughout the year, while others of the same height and latitude are not.

Supplemental Meal

"Tiffin" or "tiff," the more usual form, is the name of a light repast between breakfast and lunch, says the Pathfinder Magazine. It is derived from an old northern English word "tiff," meaning to drink, sip or quaff. The tiffin is a general custom only in India. The refreshments at the tiffin usually consist of curried fowl and fruits. Sometimes the word "tiffin" is applied in England and this country to any lunch, especially in the afternoon between the mid-day meal and dinner or supper.

For Repairing

Plaster of paris is useful for repairing articles in the home, but it will not withstand water very well. It is a good idea when preparing the plaster to mix with milk instead of water, but the milk must be absolutely fresh. Plaster prepared in this way will resist dampness to a considerable degree. The only difference in the working is that the plaster does not become hard quite as rapidly, which is really an advantage, as it allows a longer time in which to do a job of repairing.

How Great Men Differ

Great men are different from others only in that they have a more intensive knowledge of one thing and use their knowledge with more confidence and power.—American Magazine.

BOSTON INS. CO. OPENS NEW OFFICE

RICHARD H. COGGON

The new district office of the Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company has recently opened at 356 Centre street, Newton Corner, is one of several new offices opened by this fast growing company during the past few months. The company has had for years past a large number of policyholders in the City of Newton and for their convenience and for the better transaction of the business generally, an office has been established at the above address.

The Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company is firmly established as a progressive, up-to-date company, issuing the liberal policies which have given it a fine reputation in the insurance field. The company has nearly 200,000 policyholders in its membership, is purely mutual and its sole purpose is the protection which it provides through careful management of the business and attention to the welfare of its members.

The new office at 356 Centre street is under the direction of Richard H. Coggon, one of the company's oldest superintendents in point of service. Mr. Coggon first became connected with the Boston Mutual in 1901 and in 1903 was appointed superintendent of the Brockton District office which position he filled until he was given charge of the Newton office recently. He is a man of wide experience in the insurance business and under his management the company looks forward to a substantial and satisfactory growth in the territory covered by his new district.

GIRL SCOUTS

The second encampment of the season at Camp Mary Day came to a close on Saturday, July 28th. The home going campers brought their two weeks to a glorious close with a real Girl Scout circus performed in the outdoor theatre for their friends and families. The Camp Spirit pin awarded each encampment to the best camper among the twenty-five girls was voted to Peggy Wright of Troop 24 Waban. Camp Letters were also given to Peggy as well as to Barbara Wolley of Troop 25, West Newton, and to Marjorie Brown of Troop 1, Newtonville.

New campers arrived at Camp on Monday to take the places of the last happy group. In the Tanager Tent are Barbara Kollmeyer and Jean Walker of Newtonville, Florence Green and Frances Green of Newton Highlands, and Julie Whitten of Waban. In the Robin Tent are Agatha Pickhardt and Lois Dales of West Newton, and Virginia Thomas, Charlotte Coveney, and Barbara Bedford from Newton Highlands. In the Blue Bird Tent, Frances Carney, Carolyn Somers and Barbara Harrington from Newtonville, Barbara Dales of West Newton, and Betty McCready, Newton Highlands. Phoebe Tent, Lucy Batey, Velma Cooper, Priscilla Sawyer of Upper Falls, and Barbara McMullin and Evelyn Hoffman of Newton Highlands. New councilors are Carol Upham of Troop 14, Waban, and Barbara Partridge, a Golden Eaglet from Troop 20, Newton.

WABAN MAN OWNS PRIZE HORSES

Howard H. Crowell of 30 Winnetka road, Waban, has acquired an excellent stable of thoroughbreds and hunters including some of the leading prize winners in this part of the country. His string includes "The Whip" formerly owned by Peter Roche of Loominster. This horse has taken the blue ribbon in most shows where he has been exhibited in the jumpers class. Other horses owned by Mr. Crowell are Burlington, Nashoba, Irish Eyes, Cherio and Baron. In addition to his horses, Mr. Crowell has a kennel containing some of the best Irish setters in Massachusetts.

An Open Letter From Headquarters

Dear Mr. Newton Man:

Your last Winter's hat may look something like this right now. But it may be a mighty nice hat, just the same.

Now, it's almost time to "park your straw," and soon you'll be wanting a felt hat that is spic-and-span clean . . . and shapely.

Just 'phone West Newton 2100 . . . that's the telephone number of "The House That Howes Built" . . . and say you'd like to have our Service Car call for your old felt.

Howes hat cleaning is thorough and through cleaning. Perspiration stains are removed . . . not merely driven out of sight for a while. At your special request new sweat bands are furnished free of charge, if needed. Complete equipment and competent workmen mean perfect work and perfect service.

Don't wait! New hats are expensive at the first of the season. And you'll need a "spare" anyway. But you'll have neither new hat or "spare" if you don't get into action soon.

Y. M. C. A.

Interest among the boys at the "Y" this summer is at a high pitch as a result of the fine summer program that is being carried out. In addition to the regular daily swims the program contains a variety of activities that keep the boys active and occupied.

Last Monday a group of the boys took an auto trip up into the country to a small lake where they enjoyed a swim and a picnic lunch, and there was no doubt in the world but that the boys had a hale and hearty outing and a corking good time.

Every Tuesday the Summer Club meets for an interesting and at the same time educational gathering. This club sponsored by Mr. Thompson has a large membership which is nothing if not enthusiastic.

The "Knot-Hole Gang" holds sway during two afternoons a week when the Boston Braves are playing in town. This gives the boys a fine chance to see and acquaint themselves with the finer points of the national pastime as the guests of the Boston Braves management.

Every Thursday during July and August we have as our guests a group of boys from Boston whom we entertain all day with games on the athletic field, swims, luncheon, and movies.

Along with the aforementioned activities there are the trips to interesting places around suburban Boston. These trips are all conducted by the secretary in charge of the Boys' Division, and are well attended. On Monday the trip planned is to the Wayside Inn at Sudbury. The trip will be made on bicycles and all the boys going are to bring along a lunch to be eaten at some sequestered spot on the way. These trips will be continued throughout the month of August to the following places: Boston Ice Co., Candy Factory, East Boston Airport and the Stoneham Zoo.

An invitation has been extended to the Newton Rotary and Kiwanis clubs to visit Camp Frank A. Day on Wednesday afternoon, August 8th. Mr. Clyde C. Hess, Camp Director, is arranging a program in which all may participate. A steak dinner will be prepared by Chef Timmins to take care of the ravenous appetites.

Many boys and young men are learning to swim at the Newton Y. M. C. A. this summer. The Physical Directors, Mr. Simmons and Mr. Anderson are busy with private lessons and supervising the groups of boys who swim every afternoon at three o'clock. Surely no Newton boy can have a good excuse for not learning to swim, when there are so many opportunities to learn at the playgrounds, beaches, and the Y. M. C. A. pool.

Mr. Roland F. Thompson, Assistant Boys' Secretary, left Wednesday to attend the Association Summer School at Silver Bay, N. Y.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, August 1.—While Washington offers under the hottest summer it has known for years, the Federal Government is being run by under-secretaries and clerks. All of the high officials in executive, legislative and judicial branches of government, only three cabinet members remain in the city. During the absence of President Coolidge and his family from Washington, the White House is given over to languid sight-seers. Secretary Kellogg, Postmaster General New, and the new Secretary of the Interior, Roy O. West, remain in Washington. The United States Supreme Court recessed early in June for the summer, and even the District of Columbia's Federal courts are taking a two-months' recess.

Some members of the President's official family are taking advantage of the summer months to rest, while others although absent from their desks are still attending to business. Secretary of War, Dwight F. Davis, is en route to the Hawaiian Islands, where he will represent the United States at the sesquicentennial of the discovery of the Islands, to be held in Honolulu. Secretary James J. Davis of the Labor Department has gone to Europe to make a study of immigration problems at their source of origin.

The Republican National Committee is making extensive preparations for campaign work through its headquarters here. The latest report is to the effect that Washington will be virtually stripped of all activities so far as the Democratic campaign management is concerned. The Democratic National Committee will maintain a small suite of offices here and will have a force at its Washington headquarters, but the work will be largely formal and clerical. In the past, there has been much activity here on the part of the Senatorial and Congressional campaign committee of the Democrats.

Active field work will not be taken up by the Federal Trade Commission in connection with its investigation into operations of chain stores until after the summer vacation period. It will then be started under way and pushed to completion as rapidly as conditions warrant. The wide public interest in this investigation is apparent and perhaps in that respect it exceeds any other undertaking of the Commission. It deals with a subject which is directly related to the homes of the country. Distinction is made between quality and quantity and this is a subject that will be inquired into by the Commission along with its numerous other lines of investigation. Another interesting phase also will concern growing competition between the chain stores themselves. The inquiry of the Commission ought to prove helpful, after it is completed, in throwing much light on this class of competition and stimulate the independent retailer to a point where he can meet it more successfully and check inroads which are being made on his trade.

DEXTER—COLLINS

All Saints' Episcopal Church, Brookline, was the scene of an informal July wedding last Sunday morning when Miss Doris Collins, of 10 Oakland street, Newton, Mass., became the bride of Ross Freeman Dexter of Sable River, N. S. The Reverend Lee Heaton, D.D., officiated at the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a stunning gown of blue georgette trimmed with lace, a grey picture hat, and grey shoes and stockings. She carried a bouquet of roses sprinkled with fern and baby's breath.

Miss Mary C. Evon of Brookline was an attractive bridesmaid, wearing a dress of blue tulle. Her bouquet consisted of tea roses and buds. Herman F. McNeil of Newtonville was best man.

After the ceremony the couple attended an informal reception at the bride's home, Mrs. Pauline Collins, mother of Mrs. Ross, was hostess, assisted by Miss Jean Pierce. A noticeable feature of the house decoration was the profusion of cut flowers. Many gifts were bestowed.

Early Sunday evening the couple started on a honeymoon trip, after which they will reside in Brookline.

ATTENDING SUMMER SCHOOL

Among the 1400 students attending Boston University's fourteenth annual summer session which closes August 11 are: Eleanor Thomas Greaney, 40 Old Colony road, Chestnut Hill; Raubenna Mary Hickey, 401 Lowell avenue, Newtonville; and Frederick Willson Hubbard, 36 Boyd street, Charles Canton Welch, 15 Baldwin street, and Lilla Robena Ritecy, 300 Centre street, of Newton.

Mary Grace Glauferato, 391 Cherry street, Clarence Edwin Longval, 36 Myrtle street, Ruth Beveridge Phelps, 22 Bonad road, Richard Rogers, 28 Lenox street, and Wendell Frederick Smith, 1650 Washington street, from West Newton.

RESCUED FROM RIVER

As usual a number of amateur canoeists capsized into the Charles River at Auburndale on Sunday and had to be rescued by the Metropolitan police. One canoe tipped over near the Riverside Recreation Grounds and its two occupants hung on to their craft until rescued by Patrolman John Austin. The other three "sailors" took an unexpected bath when their canoe tipped over near Norumbega. They grabbed the sides of the boat and hung for dear life until saved by Patrolman William Tappan who hastened to the spot in his launch.

ROTARY CLUB

Members of the Newton Rotary Club, at their weekly luncheon held Monday at the Woodland Golf Club, heard an inspiring and interesting talk by Harry Dodge, former Y. M. C. A. secretary of Fall River.

Mr. Dodge has visited hundreds of High Schools all over the country during the past two years and is thoroughly competent to give an opinion on boys' and girls' lives. He took no stock in the theory that the boys and girls who were born about the years 1910 or 1912 were different from those born earlier. There are fool boys and girls nowadays as well as fool fathers and fool mothers, and the foolish children are usually such because of the foolishness of the parents. He paid a high compliment to the work of the Hi-Y clubs in many of the High Schools of the country, who are working for clean living, clean thinking and clean athletics in the High Schools. Mr. Dodge then took up an imaginary conversation with his 12 year old son, from which he inferred that a father should endeavor to put himself in the boy's state of mind when advising him, by recalling what he had thought and done when that age. He should discuss sex matters with him freely and frankly, and thereby anticipate the receipt of such knowledge from impure sources. He should take an interest in the boy's studies and finally he should take an interest in the religious life of the boy. This meant church attendance, and clean living showing the boy by example just what was expected from him.

Mr. Dodge made a most favorable impression and at the close of the meeting discussed the subject still further.

KIWANIS CLUB

Several speakers addressed the members of the Newton Kiwanis Club at its meeting on Tuesday. President James P. Gallagher of the club introduced Mr. T. D. Carman, Commander of Crosscup Pishon Post of the American Legion, and Mr. Carman introduced Joel W. Eastman who urged the Kiwanians to assist in defraying the cost of the Memorial Tower and Beacon which will be erected at the Boston Airport to honor the 225 aviators from New England who served in the World War. Mr. Eastman stated that Newton should be particularly interested in the building of this memorial as this city furnished more aviators to the Allied Armies than any other place in New England. The active committee raising the funds for the memorial is headed by Capt. Robert F. Raymond, Jr. of Newton Centre. The honorary committee is headed by Gov. Fuller and includes many prominent men. Mayor Childs is a member of the advisory committee composed of the Mayors of Greater Boston cities.

Following Mr. Eastman's talk a representative of a Sales Engineers organization addressed the members and laid stress on the importance of personality in achieving success in business. According to this sales expert the factor of personality is responsible for more sales than either high quality, low prices or good locations.

THE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

"Domesticating Wild Men," a Martin Johnson film to be shown on the same program with "Savages in the South Seas" will feature the Sunday afternoon program at the Children's Museum of Boston on August 5 at 3:30 p. m. The film takes the audience to the island of Malakia in the Solomon Islands where native bushmen hide armed with poisoned arrows, and shows also a view of their king and queen.

Tri-weekly afternoon program during the summer months, planned for casual visitors and for the Boston playground groups who visit the Museum for all-day excursions include nature talks, book talks, and story hour illustrated with motion pictures or lantern slides. On Friday, August 3 at 3 p. m. the subject will be "In An August Pond," by Mrs. Inez Scott Hawlow, head of the Educational Department; on Monday, August 6, a story hour, "California Fairy Tales" will be held; on Wednesday, August 8, the book talk is to be "The Guardian of the Sphinx."

Enrollment is still open for the remaining Field Trips which are to continue through August by the group of boys and girls who go every Tuesday from the Museum for an all-day nature study trip, visiting points of interest for the study of birds, flowers, ferns, pond life, geology, and rocky shore life.

MORE TRAFFIC SIGNALS

Street Commissioner Stuart can purchase about a score of traffic signals for dangerous street intersections in this city as a result of the appropriation of $7,130 by the Aldermen on Monday night. The signals will not be ordered until it will have been determined just what type of signals are to be decided upon by State officials now determining the type to be legalized in Massachusetts.

In a Bad Fix

He came to the Liberty avenue bowling-alley man wearing a long face.

"I'm in an awful mess," he confided. "My wife thinks I've been bowling every Saturday night for the last six months, and now she's decided to come down and watch me roll a match. I can't do a thing to dissuade her. It's fierce."

"Oh, you can get by all right," soothed the bowling-alley man. "She probably doesn't know much about the game."

"Well, that's just it," he lamented. "Neither do I. I never bowled in my life."—Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

Industry the Keystone

A book is being talked about called "Key Men." A good deal is said in it about industry. No man becomes a key man who is not industrious. Industry is the important word. No one can become rich and prominent without it. Are you a key man? It is a good term. A key man means one who can do something worth while a little better than the average. The average man only "goes along." The key man gets rich. Don't imagine that you can ever succeed without industry. Only loafers demand less work.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Didn't Lose Anything

Students of the times are quite convinced that women are rapidly grasping the business spirit of the age as well as the lingo of commerce. The growing business aptitude of one of the gentle sex is indicated by the following incident which is reported to have occurred very recently. A young wife, residing in Chicago, lost her husband by death and telegraphed the tidings to her parents in Maine: "John was killed in an automobile accident this morning. Loss fully covered by insurance."

Hard of Hearing

Arthur, Jr., age three, and his mother were in the basement of their home, mother hanging up some clothes and Junior playing with an old broom. After a while mother said: "Arthur, you must stop sweeping; you'll get dust all over mother's clothes." He swept ahead, however.

After a little time, again: "Arthur, didn't you hear what mother said?" Whereupon he replied: "Yes, mother, but I didn't hear you very good."

Keep Fire Out of Woods

One of the simplest details of fire prevention lies in cleaning up the wood lot to reduce the fire hazard, says the American Tree association. "Cut out all the dead trees and the weed trees such as cherry, hornbeam and gray birch, leaving enough partially to shade the pines. The waste brush should be piled and burned in a place and at a time when there is no danger from fire."

Care of Ferns

Give your fern water only when you see the surface of the soil is dry. Then submerge pot in water for ten minutes. This will mean that every particle of soil in the pot is saturated. Whenever you water the roots sprout the tops. Keep plant in a room where there is plenty of fresh air. Florists ventilate their fern houses twice each day. Set the fern outdoors whenever there is a warm rain. As soon as possible set the plant on the shady side of your porch.

Chief Executive Saw Point of Good Joke

One of the first things Washington learned of Millard Fillmore when he ascended to the Presidency upon the death of Zachary Taylor, in 1850, was that Fillmore possessed a keen sense of humor.

Shortly after taking the oath of office it became necessary that the President purchase a new coach. Because of the dignity of his position, Fillmore thought the coach should be somewhat out of the ordinary, and sent an old White House servant, Edward Moran by name, to shop about. Moran eventually learned that a wealthy citizen of Washington was about to leave the city and wished to dispose of his elegant equipage, which seemed to him quite the thing he was seeking.

The President viewed the coach and liked it immensely, but "How will it do for a President of the United States to be riding around in a second-hand carriage?" he asked Moran.

Moran could not resist the opportunity. "Sure," he replied, "you're only a second-hand President."

Fillmore thought this remark was one of the wittiest he had ever heard, and told it on himself so often that he became known among his friends as the "second-hand President." Incidentally, he bought the coach and used it during his three-year tenure of office.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Good Friday Beliefs in Parts of England

How Good Friday got its name is a matter that is often discussed. The word Friday is really the strangest part of the name of so solemn a date in the Christian calendar. Few realize that in saying Friday they are commemorating a pagan deity, Freya, the Scandinavian Venus.

In France Good Friday is called Passion Friday; in Germany, Quiet Friday; and in Italy, the Blessed Friday.

Good Friday in former days enabled the careful citizen to save his fire insurance policy, for it was believed that an egg laid on that day would extinguish any fire on which it was thrown.

Bread baked on Good Friday was supposed to have its protective value. For it was believed that three loaves put in a heap of corn would prevent the latter from being devoured by rats and mice. An infant born on Good Friday was supposed to possess the power of curing fevers.

There are some things to be avoided on Good Friday. West-country people consider it a sin to wash any clothes on that day. They declare that should you do so you are likely to lose your most valued possession before the year is out.—London Answers.

We Are All Bored

An outstanding fact in life is that we bore each other; the habits and notions of many worthy people drive other fairly worthy people to distraction. Most books, most plays, most events public and private, bore us. Popularity is to be fairly agreeable to a few, and unknown to the many.

The old are tiresome to the young. I doubt if they realize it, but the young are tiresome to the old.

The time men and women do not devote to denouncing each other, they devote to seeking and boring each other. Always remember that whatever you do, and wherever you go, you are a pest to many. Therefore be as well as possible.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

An Old Map

The family was enjoying a delicious pineapple dessert for dinner. A young member of the circle inquired of his wise father where most of the pineapple came from. The father explained that most of it came from the Hawaiian Islands in the "Atlantic" ocean. An older daughter told her father he was mistaken about their location. After a heated argument an old geography was found in the attic. The daughter soon found the Hawaiian Islands in the Pacific ocean.

"Now, daddy, what you got to say? Who was right?" said the counterpart of father.

"That's an old geography. We'll have to buy us a new map," replied the invincible father.

Believe It or Not!

After a great deal of patient effort the rooster rolled an ostrich egg into the chicken run.

Coughing slightly and throwing his head back in the manner of a man about to utter a platitude, he said:

"Hens! Far be it from me to reproach you or to cast aspersions on any one of you. But, in the interests of the country generally and our own little community in particular, I should like to show you what can be done in other parts of the world by enterprising birds imbued with the true spirit of unselfish loyalty."

Phrase Long in Use

"Full as a tick" refers to the habits of the creatures called ticks, which are biologically degraded species of the same family as spiders. They attach themselves to persons and animals they suck blood; when they are full they drop off. The phrase has no reference to a bed tick, as often erroneously supposed. "Full as a tick" is very old in the English language. Just when it originated and under what circumstances are not known.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Fakir's Filthy Robes Sought for Shrouds

A little farther along, in the street, where shrouds are sold (in Damascus), a shrike-like figure, but pale and emaciated, with his head drooping like a flower under his tall yellow bonnet, measures off cloth with his arms, in a pose that suggests a crucifixion.

"All the merchants here are on the verge of bankruptcy," All Bey says to me. "In the old times they were very rich."

"Don't people die in Damascus any more?"

"Shrouds are not bought for dead men; they are worn almost entirely by pilgrims to Mecca; and since no one now goes to Mecca . . ."

"Oh, that explains, then, the mystical expression of distress on that dancer-undertaker's face."

"Moreover," continues All Bey as we cross the street of the water pipe makers, where most of the work seems to be done with feet, "the fashionable shroud for rich people is a poor man's tunic."

"A poor man's tunic?"

"Yes; I mean a fakir's robe. Especially if it is ragged and filthy. All the sultans of Damascus are interred in these—Nureddin, Saladin and Bibars. In a fakir's garb, you know, one is sure to get a drink at the celestial springs."—Myrian Harry in Le Temps, Paris (Living Age).

The Pageant Dance Of The Nations To Be Given Soon At Newton Centre

Elaborate Plans and Rehearsals Now in Progress
By Playground Children

Ever since the beginning of July the children of our playgrounds have been diligently practicing for a pageant. The pageant is called "The Dance of Nations." Early in the spring Mrs. Ruth Allen Weston was engaged to put features together which would make up this dance pageant. In all, 500 children will participate in the various episodes. In some episodes directors, parents and older people of the neighborhood will also take part. For instance, Italy will be staged by the children attending the Stearns, Hawthorn and Victory playgrounds. A number of older people have already practiced to take part in the episode. Some of the older people are helping out on every playground.

The costumes are being made by the children. This work was started by Miss Gladys Forbush, who is the supervisor of Handcraft for girls. The costumes were chosen and designed by the supervisors who have charge of dancing. The supervisors have prepared all material whether paper or cloth so that the children could easily sew them up. The properties for the pageant are being made by the children. Some simple scenery is being made under the direction of the supervisor of Handcraft for boys, Mr. B. Q. Belonga.

From the first meeting which was held on the opening day of the summer session of playgrounds, the directors have worked enthusiastically will undoubtedly be a beautiful affair. It will be staged along the brook which runs through the Newton Centre playground, where it is bordered by magnificent willow trees.

The public will be seated in front of the recreation building on the slope. A movable grand stand will be erected to accommodate those who do not care to sit on the embankment.

The public is cordially invited to witness the pageant. It will start about 2:30 on Wednesday, August 22. The scene of the pageant can best be reached by way of Tyler terrace, Newton Centre. For this occasion automobiles will be allowed to enter the playground from Homer street where liberal parking space is available.

The various episodes will be briefly outlined on the program. A small orchestra will assist in the pageant. The dances of Ireland will be staged by Upper Falls playground; children from Lower Falls and Highlands playgrounds will present Japan; Horace Mann and Eden Avenue playgrounds represent Russia; Cabot playground comes on as England; Stearns, Hawthorn and Victory playgrounds present Italy; Boyd playground represents Spain; Thompsonville playground presents Scotland; Auburndale playground represents France; Newton Centre playground represents Holland and finally America will be enacted by children from the Burr playground and all the other children combined. To make this pageant a success. It

Automobile Cases Before Police Court

Judge Bacon Finds Many Motorists Breaking the Law

Henry Volman of 1175 Boylston street, Boston, was fined $100 in the Newton court last Friday for driving while under the influence of liquor and $10 for drunkenness. He appealed. He was arrested on the morning of July 15 by Patrolmen Eliot and Dargon. In court the same day Edward Heyman of 1929 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, was fined $10 for speeding and George Drake of Highland avenue, Somerville, charged with failing to obey a traffic officer's signal, had his case placed on file.

Arthur J. Lambert of 29 Jasset street, Nonantum, was in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with assault and battery on his 11 year old daughter. The child went to Boston with a neighbor without her parents' consent and the father beat her so severely with a strap on the arms that welts were raised. A complaint was made to the police and a warrant issued for Lambert's arrest. He was given a suspended sentence of three months to the House of Correction and warned to use less strenuous methods in disciplining the girl.

At least one Newton motorcycle officer is co-operating with Registrar Parker in the campaign to stop automobiles being operated on the streets with improper light at night. In court Wednesday Joseph McMullen of 60 Cook street, Newton Highlands, charged with this offence had his case placed on file and Alexander Murtagh of Westwood was fined $10. In court on Tuesday Robert Milner of 274 Brookline avenue, Boston, was fined $10 for driving with improper lights. George Lavigne of Everett was fined $10 in the Newton court on Wednesday for speeding. Lester Rowe of Framingham charged with a similar offence had his case continued until September 12. Those fined in court on Tuesday for speeding were—George Wheeler, Jr., of Weston, $5; Clifton Newcomb of Nottingham road, Brighton, $15.

Tuesday night Dorchester police chased three young men who were detected stealing tires from automobiles parked near the Harvard railroad station in that district. Two were captured and the third escaped but was later taken at his home in Brighton. The two caught were Frank O'Brien of 36 Fairmount street, Dorchester and Bromley Richardson of 12 Willard street, Newton. The other youth was Frank Coburn of 592 Cambridge street, Brighton.

Two boys who reside on Clinton street, Newton, were thumbing rides on Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, the other day, and according to Patrolman John Green the boys also were thumbing their noses at autoists who went by without yielding to the signals for a free ride. The two ride beggars made the mistake of giving the insulting salute to the policeman, who was not in uniform, and he gave them a ride—to police headquarters. They were in the juvenile court last Friday and Judge Bacon placed them on probation until February 2nd.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD
Mr. George F. Gilbert, who died last Sunday at the Hotel Buckminster in Boston, was for thirty-five years, a well known resident of Newton Centre.

Born in New Braintree, on Sept. 14, 1848, where he received his education. Mr. Gilbert was the son of the late Avery Waldo Gilbert and Eliza Holden (Wetherbee) Gilbert.

About 1870, Mr. Gilbert became associated with Foote & French of Boston, and was the last surviving partner of that concern when it was dissolved in 1925. At that time Mr. Gilbert retired from active work with the exception of retaining his trusteeship of the Gordon McKay estate, with which he was associated until the time of his death.

After his marriage on June 5, 1878, Mr. Gilbert lived in Newton Centre until he moved to Boston in 1919. He is survived by two sons, Arthur H. Gilbert of Chicago and Percival Gilbert of New York city.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

It is about 35 years since Washington street was widened. It was a big undertaking for those days. All the buildings along the south side of Washington street between Centre place, Newton, and Felton street, West Newton, were torn down or removed except the buildings at the Brackett coal yard and the quarters of the fire truck at Newtonville. Through poor judgment and lack of foresight Washington street at its busiest part, in the business section at Newton Corner was allowed to remain narrow because the city would not purchase the property of the then Newton National Bank.

The bank building was a small brick structure which was later removed and now forms the rear part of the Gas Company building at Newton. The old wooden building at the south-east corner of Centre and Washington streets at Nonantum Square should also have been taken at that time by the city—and could have been for a small figure, but was not. The corner there which should have been widened was allowed to continue in the path of traffic and is now occupied by a highly valued building. Because of the failure of the aldermen of Newton over 30 years ago to take the two properties mentioned traffic conditions at Nonantum Square and Newton Corner are today in the condition that causes so much unfavorable comment.

There were no automobiles travelling on our streets in the 90s when the city was about to widen Washington street but even with the comparatively few horse drawn vehicles used then, it was evident to men acquainted with Newton Corner that the bank property and the south-east corner of Washington and Centre streets should be taken in the widening program. To show the need Charles G. Newcomb who owned the largest express business in Newton, Wellington Howes who conducted a market, and other Newton Corner business men formed a procession of their horses and wagons and had the line travel around Nonantum Square and circle the bank property. But the then aldermen would not profit by the practical demonstration given by the businessmen.

A few months ago it was supposed that the city would effect an appreciable widening of the dangerous south-east corner of Centre and Elmwood streets when the opportunity was afforded by the demolition of the old Eliot Block. The owner of the property displayed a willingness to cooperate but the city procrastinated and in the meantime the incorporators of the proposed new national bank started to negotiate for a site in a new building to be erected where the Eliot Block stood. As a result—instead of making a widening of 7 feet at the blind corner of Elmwood and Centre streets, it is now proposed to widen this corner but 30 inches at the centre of the arc of a small altering which will total but 29 square feet in all. Experience is supposed to teach. Sometimes it apparently fails to do so.

MRS. ADELL DERBY
Mrs. Adell E. Derby, the wife of Mr. Nathan F. Derby, and a resident here for fourteen years, died on Wednesday at her home on Parsons street, West Newton. Mrs. Derby was a native of Bangor, Me., and was in her 69th year.

She is survived by her husband and two daughters Mrs. Ralph M. Simmons of Kingfield, Me., and Mrs. Ruth D. Whitney of West Newton. Funeral services are being held this afternoon from her late home in charge of Rev. Dr. A. M. Ellis of the Central Church, of which Mrs. Derby was a member. A feature of the service was the singing of Mr. Franklin Field. The burial will be in Sleepy Hollow Cemetery, Concord.

Hollis A Candidate For The State Senate

Senator Simoneau Declines Re-election at Last Moment

The political situation in this city was considerably stirred on Monday with the announcement that State Senator E. T. Simoneau of this district had accepted a position as assistant attorney general and would not be a candidate for re-election. With the time limit for certification of names expiring this afternoon rapid work was necessary to obtain a suitable candidate and obtain the necessary number of names for certification. At a conference of some of the political leaders in the city, Representative Arthur W. Hollis was selected as the most available candidate and nomination papers were put in immediate circulation. Mr. Hollis had planned to be a candidate for re-election to the House and for the vacancy caused by his candidacy for the Senate Alderman William B. Baker of West Newton has been proposed.

MAKING GOOD
Mr. Charles J. Cyr of 22 Wildwood avenue who started in the Professional Auto racing game a few years ago, has since climbed steadily until he has reached the "top-notchers" ranking with Ralph DePalma, Bill Darragh, Kid Noll and other leading lights in the speed game.

Before the World War, he was a skilled mechanic in Aeroplane and Auto Construction and when the call came he enlisted, was sent to France and served in the Motor Transport Corps of the Eighth French Army and has a commendatory letter from General Petain.

At the present time Mr. Cyr is filling an engagement at the Metropolitan Speedway at Mafreth, Long Island City, N. Y.

NEWTON SMITH CAMPAIGN STARTS

The first gun in the Newton campaign for Gov. Alfred E. Smith will be fired next Tuesday night when a meeting will be held at Elks Hall, Centre street, Newton, to organize an Alfred E. Smith Club in Newton. The meeting has been called by John P. Tierney, chairman of the Democratic Ward and City Committee of Newton. It is expected that a large number of persons will attend.

POWER SHOVEL BREAKS TROLLEY WIRE

Last Friday as a huge power shovel, mounted on a trailer-truck was passing through West Newton, the boom of the shovel hit the trolley wires at Washington and Elm streets, knocking the wires to the ground. Traffic was delayed for about a half-hour.

Radical Change In Postal Service Will Be Effective Next Monday

Mail For All Parts of the City Will Be First Handled at Newton Centre Office

Starting next Monday the most important change in many years will take place in the postal service in Newton. The change officially goes into effect on Sunday when all incoming mails for all parts of this city will be received from Boston by trucks which will deliver it at the new post-office on Summer street, Newton Centre, where it will be sorted and then carried by trucks to the other post-offices in the Newtons. To the present force of 7 clerks at Newton Centre will be added 11 clerks, 1 of whom will be taken from the force at Newton Highlands, 2 each from Newtonville and West Newton and 3 from the force at Newton. In addition the laborer who has been employed at Newton will be transferred to Newton Centre. Instead of mail being received direct at the postoffices in the various villages of this city, all mail including letters, newspapers and parcel post will come from the General Postoffice at Boston, the South Station and the Burlington avenue postal workshop to the office at Newton Centre. There the mail will be sorted for the different carrier routes in the other Newtons and sent by trucks to Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale, Waban, Lower Falls, Upper Falls, Newton Highlands and Chestnut Hill.

The postoffice clerks who are to be transferred to the Newton Centre office have been studying separations for carrier's route separations in all the Newtons and have taken examinations on these separations. Two foremen are to be assigned to the Newton Centre office to assist Superintendent Barry, and while several local postal employees, well qualified to serve in these positions have applied for these supervisory appointments, it is rumored that the plums will be given to non-residents of this city. Should this be done, it will not only be an injustice to men who have served long and faithfully in the Newton postoffices, but it will place in authority men who are not acquainted with the Newtons and who will not be as competent to serve residents of this city as would local men.

The mail for the first carrier delivery in the Newtons will be despatched from Newton Centre each week day at 6:20 and 7:15 for Newton, Newtonville, West Newton and Auburndale; at 6:35 and 7:15 a. m. the first mail will leave Newton Centre for Lower Falls, Upper Falls, Newton Highlands and Waban. Mail for the last two offices will go by railroad train; mail for the other offices will go by automobile trucks. These mails are scheduled to arrive at Newton at 6:30 and 7:20 a. m.; at Newtonville at 6:40 and 7:30 a. m.; at West Newton at 6:50 and 7:40 a. m.; at Auburndale at 7:00 and 7:50 a. m.; Lower Falls 6:50 and 7:45 a. m.; Upper Falls 7:00 and 8:00 a. m.; Newton Highlands 6:50 and 7:25 a. m.; Waban 7:00 and 7:35 a. m. Mail for the second carrier delivery morning will leave Newton Centre at 10:25 a. m. and will arrive at Newton at 10:35; Newtonville 10:45; West Newton 10:55; Auburndale 10:45; Lower Falls 10:55; Newton Highlands 10:30; Waban 10:40; Upper Falls 10:50. The mail for the afternoon carrier delivery will leave Newton Centre at 2:20 p. m. and will arrive at Newton at 2:30; Newtonville 2:35; Newton Highlands 2:23; Upper Falls 2:30; Waban 2:30; West Newton at 2:25 (this mail leaving Newton Centre at 2:15); Auburndale 2:35. The new plan will cause the afternoon mail in several of the postoffices to be delivered half an hour later than at present—a change that will not meet with the approval of the letter carriers or many of the people in the business districts.

Theoretically, the new method of handling the incoming mail for the Newtons will give better service. There are many, however, who believe the reverse will result. They contend that all the mail for the Newtons being dumped at Newton Centre will cause less expeditious handling than under the present method where each office sorts its own mail. They also contend that more mistakes will be made when clerks have to attempt to memorize carriers' separations for the entire city instead of for one section. As a matter of fact, the postal service in this city is, in some respects, inferior to that of twenty years ago when the Newton Circuit Railway Mail Postoffice and the Boston & Milford R. P. O. brought frequent mails from Boston to the various Newtons. Centralizing postal activities has been put into effect in other sections of Greater Boston similarly to the change now being made here.

The outgoing mails will be despatched, as heretofore, from each of the existing offices. The sale of stamps, issuing of money orders and other front office business will also be carried on as usual at the various offices although patrons of these offices may have to wait longer for service at the offices which will have fewer clerks than heretofore. The parcel-post branch of the service will be under new conditions in Newton. The carriers who have been delivering parcel post bundles from the various postoffices will all work from the Newton Centre office. The city has been divided into six parcel-post routes and according to plans, better parcel-post service will result. If the radical change which is to be put into effect next week results in improved service, residents of the Newtons will undoubtedly manifest appreciation. If, however, the change causes poorer service, it will inevitably follow that determined demands will follow for a reversion back to the method in use in the Newtons during past years.

Edward Oederholm of Hudson was fined $25 in the Newton court yesterday for driving without a license.

ELMWOOD STREET WIDENING

Editor, Newton Graphic:

I have read with interest and approval your short editorial on the widening of Elmwood street at the corner of Centre street. In other villages of Newton, the Board of Aldermen have acted with very good judgment in street widenings, rounding corners to take care of the ever increasing street traffic. In Newton proper, however, where the congestion is greatly in excess of any other village, they have utterly failed to realize conditions.

Witness the failure to widen the corner of Washington and Centre streets, when the old building was removed; the failure to widen St. James street, when the westerly side was unencumbered by buildings; and now the failure to widen Elmwood street.

Elmwood street is one of the most congested streets in Newton, having on it a large garage, and also a large garage on Brook street, an intersecting street. A very large number of cars going south on Centre street naturally turn easterly into narrow Elmwood street, on which many cars are constantly parked. This corner was really dangerous, and, when the new building is erected, will still remain so. Now is the time to widen Elmwood street, at least ten feet on the southerly side on the vacant lot, and to establish a building line on that side as far as Park street. The street must eventually be widened, and with a very expensive bank building erected on the corner, the expense will be almost prohibitive. The Board, in my judgment, should act now. What they propose to do is absolutely useless.

I would like, also, to call the attention of the Board to what the Town of Watertown has done in its business centre, as an object lesson to what the City of Newton should do.

Yours very truly,
JAMES W. FRENCH.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

WEST NEWTON GAINS ON SAXONY

The race in the Newton Twilight League is narrowing down to a battle between two teams. The Saxony Mills outfit under the management of Tommy Gilligan continues to set the pace with a clean slate of four victories. Within the past week Saxony played two games but neither was recorded as rain in the fourth inning interfered with the completion of the Friday game with Upper Falls with Saxony leading 3 to 1 and darkness halting Wednesday night's encounter with the Highlands A. A. with the score knotted at one run each. The West Newton Town Team under the management of Carol Leary is hanging onto Saxony's heels with but one upset in four games. Monday night West Newton and the Highlands were scheduled to play at the Highlands but the game developed into a practice affair through the absence of several of the players who thought there would be no game because of the wet grounds. Wednesday night, however, the West Newton team pounded out an 8 to 1 win over the Lower Falls outfit on the West Newton Common to creep up a little closer to the league leaders. In this game the pitching of Francis Noonan was the feature. The West Newton twirler kept the hits well-scattered and was in little difficulty while his teammates were bunching their hits with good results.

There was but one other game completed. Last week Thursday night the Lower Falls team gained a 3 to 2 decision over the Highlands outfit on the Grove street playground at Lower Falls.

Due to the rainy weather and tie scores six games remain to be played off in addition to the regular contests. The feature game of these six will be played tonight on Victory field when the Saxony Mills team entertains the West Newton outfit. The two teams have met once with Saxony emerging the victor. West Newton needs this game to keep within striking distance of the goal and should they upset Saxony tonight the teams will be in a tie for the lead. In an effort to ward off the West Newton surge Manager Gilligan may send Bob Pickard, the Newton high star two years ago, to the box. If Pickard is not ready to go Jakey Pass, former Newton High and Pals twirler, will attempt to annex his second victory of the season over West Newton as he was in the box in the previous encounter between the two teams.

Another feature game next week will be the third game of the season between West Newton and Saxony on Tuesday. West Newton will be the home club as the game is scheduled for the West Newton Common. Should West Newton topple Saxony tonight and tie Saxony for the league lead Tuesday's game should be a stellar attraction for the twilight fans.

Including the game of Wednesday night which West Newton won from Lower Falls the standing of the teams in the race finds Lower Falls and Highlands tied for first place with two victories and four defeats each for a percentage of .333. Upper Falls, which is usually up among the leaders, is occupying the cellar berth with but one victory in four starts. Manager Simpson's team is threatening to start a long string of consecutive victories over its other league opponents and will attempt to start its climb at the expense of the Saxony team in the game next Wednesday night at Victory Field.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE SCHEDULE

Tonight, August 10—West Newton vs Saxony at Victory.

Monday, August 13—Lower Falls vs Highlands at Highlands.

Tuesday, August 14—Saxony vs West Newton at West Newton.

Wednesday, August 15—Upper Falls vs Saxony at Victory.

GETTING IN SHAPE FOR GRID SEASON

Not so very many years ago it was an uncommon thing to witness a high school boy or even a college youth doing such heavy work as carrying ice into residences around the city during the hot summer months. But a few years ago a college youth out in Illinois took up this "pastime," thinking to prepare himself for the fall football season. Not only did it get him into fine physical condition for the strenuous sport but it so happened that he became the outstanding college football player of the country. That was "Red" Grange. Today it is more than probable that thousands of college and high school youths are doing the same thing for the same reasons but it is impossible to believe that they will all become as famous as their illustrious hero. Coach John Sullivan of the Newton high school football team, who is enjoying a vacation will return to the city early next month and find that if ice men make star football players that he will have several on the high school squad. Captain-elect Everett Scheinfain, all-scholastic end, is among those emulating "Red" Grange. So are Phil Andres, Bill Reilly, and John Mullin. All, with the exception of Scheinfain, are backfield men and Newton's ball-carriers this fall may be dubbed "Ice Tongs."

Many of the other prospective members of the football team are getting prepared for the gridiron season by other methods. Walter Lovely, substitute centre last year, is juggling furniture. When he gets hold of a football next month it will probably seem like a tennis ball in his hands. Several of the others are attending camp where they are living outdoors. At the close last June Coach Sullivan passed out footballs to many of those who had shown their gridiron ability and they are now tossing and kicking them around. Among those in camp who are spending more or less time with the pigskin are Norman Payne, end; Langdon Powers, Daniel Harrington, tackle, and Chamberlain, centre.

Despite the fact that it is but the second week in August and that the thermometer is hovering in the eighties September is rapidly approaching and with it the re-opening of school and the calling out of the football candidates.

Spain's Triple Clinches Game

Frank Spain's triple in the seventh inning of the Chatham-Harwich-Hyannis game at Chatham Monday afternoon clinched the game for the home club. The hit was a solid smash to left center and pushed over two baserunners. Hyannis was leading 3 to 0 in the last of the sixth when Chatham staged a four run rally to take the lead. Then in the seventh Spain's hit which resulted in two runs clinched the game. Both teams scored a run each in the eighth to make the final count 7 to 4. In addition to making his long hit Spain's fielding was a feature of the game. He handled eight chances without an error.

Andres Hits Two Homers

Saturday afternoon the Saxony Mills team, leaders of the Newton Twilight league circuit, defeated West Quincy A. A. on Victory field by the score of 6 to 1. It was a case of too much Harold Andres and Bob Pickard. The two former Newton high stars were nearly the whole works. Andres caught Pickard's slants and pounded out two home runs while Pickard had the Quincy batters at his mercy, fanning five, passing one and holding them to one solitary single.

Announcing the New Utility Truck

-another Sensational Chevrolet Value
4 Speeds Forward • 4 Wheel Brakes

Typical of the progressive design embodied in the new Chevrolet Utility Truck is a four-speed transmission with an extra-low gear, providing tremendous pulling power for heavy roads, deep sand and steep hills—and reducing to the very minimum the starting strain on motor, clutch and rear axle——powerful, non-locking 4-wheel brakes, with a rugged emergency brake that operates entirely independent of the foot brake system——and a new ball bearing worm-and-gear steering mechanism, which even includes ball bearings at the front axle knuckles!

And in addition, there are all those basic features which have been so largely instrumental in Chevrolet's success as the world's largest builder of trucks!

Come in and get a demonstration of this remarkable new truck. You'll find that it offers every feature needed for dependable low-cost transportation—and we can provide a body type to meet your individual requirements.

Donald Martin, former Boston University tennis team captain, is playing in the open Southern New Hampshire senior singles tournament at Manchester this week. Wednesday he advanced to the third round by eliminating Allen Peabody in straight sets, 6-0, 6-4.

Bell Wins Walk

Alfred W. Bell, Jr., of Newton Highlands, wearing the B. A. A. colors, won the mile walk at the Scottish games at Caledonia Grove last Saturday in 7m. 31 3/5 seconds. Bell had a handicap of 35 seconds. Jamieson and Laurin, both of the Dorchester A. C., placed second and third respectively.

Upper Falls on Short End

The Newton Upper Falls team was the victim of the Norwood Red Sox last Sunday in a five inning game which was stopped by rain at Elk's Park, Norwood. The score was 9 to 1. Weston singled in the first inning to bring DeGeorge home with Upper Falls single tally. Norwood rallied in all four times it went to bat, scoring one each in the first and second, four in the third and three in the fourth off Doherty and Stanton. Upper Falls pitchers, who allowed ten hits. Upper Falls collected seven bingles off John Dixon, former Norwood high school star, but a fine catch of a line drive in the third inning by the Norwood third baseman to start a fast double play pulled him out of a bad hole.

BATHING AT CRYSTAL LAKE

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Captain George Parker, registrar of motor vehicles has sent letters to all chiefs of police in Massachusetts asking them to have their subordinates assist in apprehending autoists who drive with but one headlamp lighting, or with tail lights not lighted. He also calls attention to the many cars parked at night on public streets without parking lights. Newton's streets are travelled every night by many cars with improper lights. It is to be hoped that the local police will co-operate with Registrar Parker.

The candidacy of Representative Arthur W. Hollis for the Republican nomination for senator from the 1st Middlesex district should meet with the undivided support of the citizens of this city. Mr. Hollis served the residents of Newton in the Board of Aldermen capably and faithfully for nine years, three of which he was president of the Board. He has represented this city in the Legislature for four years. He is a man of firm convictions and while some of his votes on certain matters may not have satisfied all his constituents, he has had the courage to be with the minority when, in his opinion, the minority was in the right. The interests of Newton will be well looked after in the upper branch of the Legislature by Mr. Hollis.

This country is surely becoming more cultured—or lazy. One of Boston's leading stores this week advertised pajamas for men—a smart new version in pajamas with Russian peasant blouses; said pajamas to be used not only to sleep in, but also for lounging purposes, hence the artistic effect. Said pajamas are in apple green, blue or black with contrasting piping and cost $12.50. Other pajamas, "ensemble pajamas" are priced at $18.50. "Plain, everyday pajamas" may be bought for $2. Who ever heard of everyday pajamas. We thought these garments were worn nights. It seems that there must be men so blamed lazy that they will pay $10 or $18 more for pajamas so that they won't have to dress when they get up Sunday mornings.

EDITORIAL

One of the most unfair methods of determining the desirability of a political candidate is to oppose or favor him on the ground of a single vote. The late John W. Weeks once said that he had voted on over 2000 important matters while in Congress and the chief opposition he met for re-election was based on one or two votes. We understand that one candidate for high office who has made a good representative in the State House is in bad favor with many because he voted at one time with a small minority. We think this is a decided asset and not a liability, as some maintain, for it takes more courage to vote with the minority than to trail along with the crowd. We should encourage public service of men who vote what they think is right, rather than what is expedient.

One competent observer of the political situation is convinced that the women voters of the country will decide the election in favor of Hoover. He declares that the women of the country have never failed to vote right when a moral issue was concerned.

It is claimed that the new postal scheme which goes into effect next Monday will give better service than the present. The present service is far from good, but we fail to see how the new plan will make any improvement.

The best guess of the tax rate to be announced in the near future, is that it will be a dollar or more increase over that of last year. New school buildings are partially responsible for the increase.

FORECLOSURE SALE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Helen V. Beharrell to Isaac B. Mills, dated October 24, 1923, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, book 4872, page 417, for breach of condition thereof and for the purpose of foreclosing will be sold at public auction on Tuesday, the fourth day of September, 1928, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at and on the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, to-wit: "three certain parcels of land in Newton, viz: PARCEL 1. A certain parcel of land situated in that part of said Newton called Newton Centre, containing seven and 7/1000 (7.729) acres according to a Plan of Land in Newton, Mass. for George W. Stearns, dated August 1, 1917, Henry P. Bryant, Engineer, and recorded with said Deeds, to which plan reference is hereby made. Said parcel is bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a corner where two ditches intersect each other and at land now or formerly of Hurley, and thence running WESTERLY by the centre of a ditch and by land now or formerly of Burke; thence turning and running NORTH and NORTHWESTERLY by the centre of another ditch by said land now or formerly of Burke four hundred and seventy-two and 50/100 (472.50) feet to a point; thence turning and running NORTHEASTERLY by the centre of a ditch by land of the Boston & Worcester Railway Company and then continuing more Easterly, southeasterly and Easterly by said land now or formerly of Hamill four hundred and fifty-three feet; thence a little South of East by land of said Stearns three hundred and thirty-eight and 53/100 (338.53) feet to a corner at land now or formerly of Philbrick; thence turning and running SOUTHEASTERLY by said land now or formerly of Philbrick and by land now or formerly of Hurley, six hundred and fifteen and 50/100 (615.50) feet to the point of beginning, the most Southerly end of the last described line being the centre of a ditch.

PARCEL 2. A certain parcel of land near Parker Street, in that part of said Newton called Newton Centre, bounded and described as follows:

District Attorney Bushnell is entitled to the thanks of the community for his determined stand to wipe out the bootlegging joints at "Brickbottom" in Somerville near the big Squires meat plant. Not only have hundreds of men been squandering money badly needed to support their dependents for poisonous hooch sold by the "Brickbottom" bootleggers, but robberies and vicious assaults have been committed daily in this district.

A joint debate between Gov. Al Smith and Rev. John Roach Straton ought to be a bigger drawing card than symbolic dances by young ladies garbed in classic robes.

According to the daily press Gene Tanney is to donate a magnificent trophy which will be held by the winner in the elimination contest to decide who will succeed Gene as champion. We wonder will Gene give any advice regarding how to succeed in this elimination?

Some persons "knock" the old east wind which prevails around Boston much of the time. Personally, we like the wind from this direction. It not only brings the tang of the salt sea, but when it arrives on a day such as last Sunday it drives scorching weather galley west.

Despite the fact that the United States is officially "dry," the menace of drunken operators of automobiles is on the increase. More and more soured drivers of cars are being arrested. A few admit they were under the influence of liquor when apprehended but most of those brought in to the courts claim that they have been wrongfully accused and plead not guilty. In many cases the defendants will have physicians testify as to their condition following the arrest to prove that they were sober.

In the pre-automobile days it was comparatively easy for policemen and ordinary citizens to determine when a man (or woman) was drunk. When persons travelled on foot if one staggered perceptibly, that person in places such as Newton, where a high standard of conduct was supposed to prevail, was adjudged drunk by the police and taken into custody. In other cities where liquor licenses were granted, ordinarily if a man could navigate he was not arrested for drunkenness unless he started to become noisy or pugnacious. Many will remember Judge Dewey's famous decision, rendered before he ran for Mayor in Boston when he ruled that a man who was drunk and fell on his head, was not drunk because he fell. The judge was not alone in this opinion. In the pre-war days a bobby in London dragged an inebriated individual before a judge in that old city and propped him up against the bar. "Where did you find this man?" asked the magistrate. "Lying in the gutter, sir," replied the bobby. "Was he drunk?" queried the judge. "I wouldn't say that sir—I seen 'is finger move," answered the bobby.

Now, when a large percentage of people ride in cars rather than walk, most of those in this country who imbibe intoxicating liquors are found to be motorists, not pedestrians. Ordinarily unless an autoist drives zig-zag, collides with another car, a pole, a tree, a traffic signal, or some other obstacle, or hits a person, he is not detected when driving under the influence of liquor. Even when persons have been in accidents or have been observed driving wobbly and policemen get a strong odor from their breath they still insist they were not under the influence of liquor.

Some judges rule that a person whose breath smells of alcoholic liquor should be found guilty of driving while under the influence of liquor if apprehended operating a car while in that condition. Other judges insist on more convicting evidence. In some places tests were established. Men accused of drunken driving were made walk a chalk line. This test was objected to because some men have such an ungainly walk that they could not keep on a chalk line without being perfectly sober. Another test made the accused attempt to pronounce a difficult phrase such as "basket of vegetables," "the Leth police dismisseth us," or some expression of a sibilant nature. Such a test had its weakness because some men when fairly well soused still can talk sibilantly. An American chemist hit upon the brilliant idea of making the person arrested for drunken driving exhale into a rubber bladder. The breath blown into the bladder would then be tested to determine its alcoholic content. This test was also given a trial overseas but flunked dismally when it was discovered that a police sergeant who had never shown the slightest signs of anything but sobriety, but who was far from a teetotaler, had a breath so impregnated with alcohol that it could be used to sterilize razors, and a young college student who was arrested when staging a one-man riot had a breath only slightly redolent of alcohol. It is a well known fact that some men can absorb a large quantity of booze before becoming sufficiently under its influence to be deprived of the proper use of their faculties, while other men are quite under the influence of liquor after taking but one drink. The booze sold today is for the most part of such a nature that even hardened drinkers cannot gauge the amount they can safely imbibe. A couple of "chokers" of the liquid dynamite frequently bootlegged will render anyone drinking it incompetent to drive a car. On the other hand, much of the hooch peddled is so "split" with water that it is far below 100 proof. Possibly a Federal Law may be enacted to require the uniform rules to decide when a man can be found guilty of driving while under the influence of liquor. But, unless such a method is devised the question of determining when one is sufficiently intoxicated to be adjudged "under the influence" will continue to be one of the leading problems of our criminal courts.

Some prominent Newton men have been listed as among the directors of the new arena being constructed at the Boston & Maine terminal in Boston. This big building is to be built on the Boston Madison Square Garden. In the opinion of many this designation is an admission that Boston is slipping. When a Boston project gets a New York institution so far that it assumes the name of a locality which does not exist, those responsible for the aping appear to lack local pride or the ability to think of a suitable name for their project.

Now that Courtney and the Polish aviators have failed in their attempts to cross the Atlantic we do not read so much about airships replacing the present ships which ferry people overseas. The White Star line is building a boat over 1000 feet in length.

It is 50 years since the Eliot Memorial was erected in the valley below Kenrick street. On a gentle slope above Strong's pond a platform-like structure was built to commemorate the work of the apostle to the Indians of this vicinity. For some years the organization composed of Newton citizens who defrayed the cost of building the memorial paid a man to keep the grass cut and also kept the memorial in repair. Then the memorial was presented to the city. It should be repaired and improved. Some visitors to this city make a pilgrimage to this historic spot. They find it difficult to locate and in its present condition it surprises them when they see it.

CITY AFFAIRS

The contract for making the alterations on the old Cladin school building at Newtonville, so that by constructing better means of egress the old building will be certified for use by the state authorities has been awarded to the August Johnson Company of Davis square, Somerville, whose bid was $2752. The other bidders were—John McDonald Construction Co., of Boston, $3655; R. A. Vachon & Sons, Newton Centre, $4190; C. S. Cunningham & Sons, Boston, $4450.

All the bids for repairing and altering the old school at Oak Hill were rejected and the plans for the work on this building will be revised. The bids were—August Johnson Co., $2750; R. A. Vachon & Sons, $3847; C. A. Cunningham & Sons, $10,057; John McDonald Const. Co., $10,849.

Mrs. Mary Peppard, chief clerk of the Buildings Department, leaves this week to spend her annual vacation at York Beach, Maine. Alderman William B. Baker, for the past five years a member of the Board of Aldermen from Ward 3, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination as Representative to the Legislature from the Fourth Middlesex District, which includes Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 of Newton. Mr. Baker has the support of many prominent Republicans in the district.

Taste for Reading

If I were to pray for a taste that should stand me in stead under every variety of circumstances, and be a source of happiness and cheerfulness to me through life, and a shield against its ills, however things might go amiss and the world frown upon me, it would be a taste for reading. Give a man this taste, and the means of gratifying it, and you can hardly fail of making a happy man, unless, indeed, you put into his hands a most perverse selection of books.—Sir John Herschel

Peculiar Winds

Thermic winds consist of alternate regions of ascending and descending air set in motion by differences of density due to different temperatures. These occur practically everywhere, because the earth's surface absorbs radiant heat from the sun and imparts it to air by conduction. Such winds are intensified by different ground colors, the presence of clouds, bodies of water, etc.

Soil Nourishment

Phosgene is used in dye making, in the form of farm manure, nitrogenous fertilizers and green manure crops, like clover and soy beans. Phosphorus may be added by applying phosphate fertilizers or farm manure. Potassium may be added, to a soil in the form of farm manure, crop residues and potash fertilizers.

Whetstones of Intellect

As diamonds cut diamonds, and one bone smooths a second, all the parts of intellect are whetstones to each other; and genius, which is but the result of their mutual sharpening, is character too.—C. A. Bartol.

Not a Real Star

If you can understand every word the soprano is singing she isn't a grand opera star.

Their Ruling Fear

It isn't the fear of death that makes some persons drive carefully; they just hate to get the new car scratched up.—Vancouver (B. C.) Sun

PROTECT CHILDREN WHEN SWIMMING

When we consider the fact that the warm weather last week drove hundreds of boys and girls into Crystal Lake and to the beach at Auburndale, and yet the Playground Department reported that for the past weeks there had been very few rescues necessary, it would seem that the large numbers passing the Red Cross tests—many for swimming, and a goodly proportion for Junior and Senior Life Saving—are learning to look out for themselves. Could your child help to get his chum to shore if he were drowning? Does he know how to do the Schaefer System of Artificial Respiration? These boys and girls have passed Life Saving tests at Crystal Lake and Auburndale this summer: Junior, James Arbuckle, H. Brooks, P. Brooks, Robert Butnam, J. Castagnetti, Robert Getzler, Ralph Huston, Warren Huston, J. Keris, David Larrabee, J. Mrozcka, Richard Maddox, George McCarron, J. Notman, Oliver Prescott, Virginia Arnold, Gertrude Boyer, Velma Cooper, Margaret French, Barbara McMullen. Seniors: W. Ackroyd, C. Bryant, Benjamin Snyder, Catherine Carrick, Eva Grossman, Rose Hughes. Why not add your boy's or girl's name to next week's list?

POLICE NEWS

Antoinette Cugini of 15 Maguire court, Newtonville, was given a suspended sentence of three months to the House of Correction by Judge Bacon in the Newton court last Friday when she had been found guilty of committing an assault with a dangerous weapon on her husband. Her spouse, Carlo Cugini, was given a suspended fine of $50 for committing assault and battery on the wife. Judge Bacon warned the pair that if they created more disturbance the sentence and fine will be put into effect.

At the Police Court of Newton, in the County of Middlesex, held on the 10th day of August, A. D. 1928.
White Cary Lumber Company vs.
Clarence Strum of Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts
and
Richard H. Dickinson of Danville, New Hampshire.

This is an action of contract to recover the sum of fifteen hundred dollars alleged to be due to the Plaintiff from the Defendant, on the 16th day of March, A. D. 1928, as set forth in the Plaintiff's writ of that date.
And it appearing to the Court, by the suggestion of the Plaintiff, and on inspection of the officer's return on the Plaintiff's writ, that the Defendant is not an inhabitant of this Commonwealth, nor was resident therein at the time of the service of said writ, and that he has no last and usual place of abode, tenant, agent or attorney in this Commonwealth, known to the Plaintiff, or to said officer, and that no process of law against him has been made upon the Defendant.
It is ordered by the Court, here, that the Plaintiff go hence to the Defendant, and that the pendancy of this action, and to appear before said Court, to be held at Newton, in said County, on Saturday, the first day of September next, at nine of the clock in the forenoon, to answer to the same, by causing a true and attested copy of this Order to be published in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper printed in Newton in said County, once a week, three weeks successively, the last publication to be at least seven days before the said Saturday, the first day of September next; and by sending by registered mail to the said Richard H. Dickinson, addressed to his last known address, a true and attested copy of this Order; and that said action be continued until notice shall be given to said Defendant, agreeably to this Order.

Recent Deaths

PROF. SHELDON DEAD

Rev. Henry Clay Sheldon, D.D., of 383 Cherry street, West Newton, died Saturday morning after having been in poor health for about a year. From 1875 to 1895 he was professor of historic theology at Boston University and at that institution from 1895 to the time of his retirement about five years ago, professor of systematic theology.

Born in Martinsburg, N. Y., on March 12, 1845, Professor Sheldon was the son of the late Ira Sheldon and Fannie Maria (Bingham) Sheldon. He received his A.B. degree from Yale in 1867 and his A.M. degree from that college in 1870. Boston University gave him his S.T.D. degree in 1871 and Wesleyan University and Lawrence University awarded him his D.D. in 1887.

On Sept. 16, 1875, Professor Sheldon married Louise McLellan of Brunswick, Me., who survives him. After being ordained into the Methodist Episcopal ministry, Dr. Sheldon was pastor of the St. Johnsbury, Vt., parish from 1871 to 1872, and the Brunswick, Me., parish from 1872 to 1874.

Professor Sheldon's early years were spent on the farm and in attendance at the district school at Lowellville Academy. He studied also at Leipsic, Germany.

Dr. Sheldon's "Theosophy and New Thought," "A Fourfold Test of Mormonism," "Christian Science, So-Called" and "Recent Adventism" are used greatly for discussion and argumentative purposes. They have been commended and criticized for their keen analysis of modern cults.

Besides his widow, Professor Sheldon leaves two sons, Herbert P. Sheldon of Braintree and Ernest McLellan Sheldon of Detroit, Michigan.

DEATH OF MR. LINCOLN

Mr. Arthur W. Lincoln a resident of this city for some years, died suddenly last Friday at his home on Brackett road, Newton, from heart disease. He was born in North Brookfield, Mass., August 28, 1876, and was the son of George C. and Anna (Leach) Lincoln.

As a young man Mr. Lincoln came to Boston and was graduated from the Boston Latin School, after which he attended Harvard. For nearly thirty years he had been in the investment and banking business in this city.

Before taking up his residence in Newton, Mr. Lincoln lived in Dorchester. In 1905, he married Lida J. Hamilton, who survives him, as does a son, Hamilton Lincoln, and a brother, Paul Lincoln of Arlington.

THOMAS DWYER

Thomas Dwyer of Scituate, father of Richard I., James S., and T. Leo Dwyer of the Newton Buick Company, died at his home on August 2 following a long illness. He was born in Bant, Cork, Ireland, 48 years ago and came to Scituate 47 years ago with his bride who was Miss Ellen Sullivan. He engaged in the business of gathering moss along the South Shore. He is survived by his widow, four daughters, Mrs. Charles Viall, Mrs. Ignatius Francis, Misses Margaret and Katherine Dwyer of Scituate, and four sons, three of whom are in business in Newton and the fourth, Joseph, a member of the Scituate police department. His funeral service was held Sunday afternoon at the Church of the Nativity, Scituate Harbor and burial was in that town.

MR. FULLER BURIED

Funeral services for the late James B. Fuller were held in the Masonic Temple, Newtonville, on Saturday afternoon and there was a large attendance of relatives and friends. The services were conducted by the officers of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons, under direction of Wor. Master Carl C. Davis and Rev. John Daboll, chaplain. A male quartet sang "I am with Thee" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." The burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

JOHN H. BURGHART

John H. Burghart of Bradford court, Newton Centre, died on Saturday. He was born in Binghamton, New York, was born in Binghamton, New York, for two years. He had been in the banking and investment business until his retirement several years ago. His widow survives him. Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Waterman Chapel in Boston.

DEATH OF MRS. WEBBER

Mrs. Mary A. Webber, the widow of the late Frank W. Webber died at her home on Washington street, HUNNEWELL HILL, on Saturday in her 70th year.

Mrs. Webber was prominent in church and club affairs in Newton and Boston. She was active in the affairs of Channing Church and the Newton Community Club. She was a member of the New England Woman's Club, Sarah Hull Chapter D. R. and interested in the Pomeroy Home for girls.

She is survived by a daughter Mrs. F. P. Scofield and two sons, John W. and Wallis W. Webber.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at her late home and were conducted by Rev. Chester A. Drummond minister of Channing Church. The burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

GIVES BLOOD TO SAVE CHILDREN

In an effort to check the spread of the dread infantile paralysis in Waltham where several children have died from this disease during the past couple of weeks and many have been stricken with it, the health authorities of that city on Monday issued a public appeal for contributions of blood from persons who previously had been victims of infantile paralysis and who had recovered. Each person giving blood will have four ounces taken to be used in making a serum which will be injected into the children who have caught the feared sickness. Among those who volunteered to give blood was F. J. Slater of 103 Madison avenue, Newtonville.

Waltham has also been afflicted, even to a greater extent than Waltham with cases of infantile paralysis. Over 30 cases have been reported in that town.

BOWDOIN SQ. THEATRE

At the Bowdoin Sq. Theatre beginning Monday the management will present Sidney Chaplin in "Skirts," one of the newest comedy features of the year. Batty Balfour will have one of the big roles and others of screen prominence will also be seen. "Under the Black Eagle" will be another feature of merit and it is a war picture which is different. Ralph Forbes, Marceline Day and "Flash" the wonder dog will also appear. Stand Laurel and Oliver Hardy will delight in the comedy, "Battle of the Century" and other features including vaudeville will be seen. Concert Sunday at 3.

They were treated by Dr. Wells and removed to the Newton Hospital.

EMBASSY THEATRE

Comedy in liberal doses marks the program for the first part of the week at the Embassy, Waltham's Wonder theatre, for both the feature photoplay and the vaudeville has been selected with an eye to creating barrels of fun.

The feature picture is "Thanks for the Buggy Ride," with that scintillating comedienne, Laura Lee. Planes in the leading role. The picture is a sparkling satire on present-day life, and causes a chuckle every minute. For the last half of the week "Prowlers of the Sea" with Richard Cortez and Carmel Myers is the feature picture.

The vaudeville is up to the high standard set by the beautiful Embassy playhouse, which, adhering to the policy of giving the best of shows during the summer season as well as when the theatrical season is at its height, is offering all-star programs with special features.

For Sunday night, "Skirts," the uproarious farce, starring Syd Chaplin will be seen. There will also be star vaudeville.

At all performances, there will be screen comedies, an organ recital by J. Leslie Cahill and the work of the Embassy Grand Orchestra, under the leadership of Charles Hatch.

The moonlight promenades along the waterfalls, during which free cigarettes and cold drinks are given free to patrons are increasingly popular. There is ample parking space for automobiles.

HERBERT HOOVER, THE MAN

Diogenes, adroit in plan Searched with his lantern for a man, But finding none in Athens came Across the seas by aeroplane. When Herbert Hoover did he spy, Put out his lantern and stood by. "I vow," he cried, "a MAN at last! In what fine mould he has been cast, In Lincoln's, Roosevelt's, Coolidge's line.

Equally brilliant, loyal, fine! Superior, both in heart and mind, A polished diamond him I find, With soul alive to human need Nor swayed by motives of self greed, Led not by craze of winning place, Serves where'er called, with masterly grace.

No private cocktails haze his brain, Believes in law, crime and restraint, No tricks political will uphold, Faultless in principles as pure gold;—Of sober spirit,—Quaker gray,—For Peace not War would have his way.

A Leader, gifted, throngs to guide Or o'er the Nation to preside, He's led for millions in distress, Midst floods or fires his hands will bless,

Thus gives Himself,—their Savior proves,— A man whom everybody loves! Experience broad has been his lot, Knows well what most minds have for-

Worthily stands the wide world over, Where lives another Herbert Hoover? Was born to rule, excels in power, And crowned should be, MAN OF THE HOUR."

ROTARY CLUB

Dr. John Larsen and eight of the Danish boys and young men who are visiting this country were the guests of the Newton Rotary Club at the weekly luncheon held on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club.

The entertainment consisted of a marvelous exhibition of sleight of hand by Prof. Mora which was thoroughly appreciated by both members and guests.

Members of the Rotary Club and their Rotary-Anns were guests at Camp Frank A. Day on Wednesday afternoon.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, August 8.—Political prophets whose wishes are usually father to the thought are in their heyday. Their prognostications shouted from the house tops for the purposes of personal publicity and gain fail to carry weight with the real leaders of the campaigns for the Presidency. Trained observers returning to the Capital after extensive tours are unanimous that at present the campaign is close and bothersome to the politicians from the national campaign manager down to the ward committeemen and precinct worker. These impartial observers report that everywhere the question is asked regarding the relative chances of Herbert C. Hoover and Alfred E. Smith. The real assessment cannot be made until late in October.

The ballyhoo has not started as the main campaign hinges on the developments of the notification ceremonies during the next few weeks. The business of building machines has many a problem for both parties. Cliques struggling for control of the party campaign have given the candidates and their aides considerable trouble. It requires the utmost tact to keep the important leaders satisfied with their allotment of power and money. With the announcement the huge sums would be available for the conduct of the campaign, leaders actual and self-styled, are coming to headquarters demanding help for their districts. It is remarkable but true that many district leaders who could formerly deliver their districts by a promise of political jobs now find it necessary to "spend a few dollars among the boys." The feeling runs high, taken over the work of the hands, baby-kissing and the usual gift cigars. This gross materialism is perhaps more attractive to certain types of campaign workers who are not always assured of having pledges kept after the elections.

It is noteworthy, too, that the special House committee investigating campaign funds, met a few days ago without taking any action. There is little adverse comment when the money is expended but they are loud in their denunciations whenever the expenses reach the scandal stage. No one expects the congressional committees to get the real story of expenditures before December and then it will be too late. There are many ways of masking contributions and expenses so that the books will balance.

The political propaganda methods are interesting to the average reader. The publicity bureaus have a staff gathering information from the leaders in various sections of the country, all of which is carefully edited to avoid indiscreet statements of over-zealous self-promoters at the party's expense. Other groups are engaged in preparing speeches for the committees which must bear the official imprimatur of approval. The bosses know full well that indiscreet speakers can lose more votes than careful campaigners can win over.

Considerable comment has been advanced regarding farm legislation. Yet, the old-time theory that the condition of the crops in the fall governs the rural vote seems to hold sway. It is recalled that good crops presage a heavy farmer vote for the Republican ticket. The facts are that personalities and platforms have more to do with the trend than the harvest. Both parties are making a strong bid for the organized farm groups but the organization's control over the individual's vote is negligible. The farm issue is just another of those political subjects.

BITTEN BY DOG

A dog owned by Alex Dukurno of 1101 Chestnut street, Upper Falls, bit George Herlihy of 395 Washington street, Newton, on the right leg last Friday night. The animal was ordered restrained and Dr. Boutelle was notified to examine it.

MR. BEMIS HONORED

In the special election of a Class B director of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, made necessary by the death of Charles G. Washburn of Worcester, A. Farwell Bemis of Chestnut Hill has been chosen to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Washburn. He will serve until Dec. 31, 1930.

Mr. Bemis is chairman and director of Bemis Brothers Bag Company. He is also president and director of the Housing Company, chairman and director of Atlantic Gypsum Products Company, director of Boot Mills, Lowell, and of Angus Company, Limited, Calcutta, India. For ten years ending in 1926 he was a director of the Second National Bank of Boston. From 1911 to 1914 he was an alderman in Newton and from 1914 to 1916 a director of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. He was president of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, 1916-1918, and is a life member of the corporation of Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is a member of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, Philadelphia, and of the National Industrial Conference Board.

MRS. BUSHNELL MADE CHAIRMAN

Mrs. Robert T. Bushnell of Waban, wife of the District Attorney of Middlesex County, has accepted the chairmanship of the committee of the Massachusetts Civic League which is arranging a series of weekly luncheons on civic questions to be held at the Twentieth Century Club every Tuesday, beginning early in October. Following the luncheon there will be a class in legislative procedure for legislative chairmen of clubs and others who want to learn how bills get through the Legislature. Members of the Legislature and experienced legislative workers will be called upon to describe the different stages in the process.

AUTOS BURN

Sunday afternoon at 1:55 a car owned by Mr. Quinn of Brooks avenue, Newtonville caught fire from a short circuit while parked on Edinboro street. It was badly damaged.

Sunday morning a car owned by George Bineo of Putnam street, Cambridge, caught fire while on Washington street, Lower Falls. Box 55 was pulled; the blaze was extinguished by members of Hose 6.

Alderman Heathcote Claims

Despite the fact that the Board of Aldermen is supposed to have a recess from its duties during the months of July and August, not only was there a meeting in July but this week there were two meetings—one on Monday night and the second on Wednesday evening. The meeting on Monday night was called for the purpose of selecting jurors and passing some appropriations. It was desired to pass these appropriations on this night in order that they could be included in the tax levy.

The jurors drawn were—to serve at Superior Court in Lowell on September 4, Robert Gleason, 90 Randlett park; Elmer Keever, 1558 Beacon street; Superior Court at Cambridge on September 4, Warren Poole, Jr., 27 Owatonna street; Herbert W. Patten, (Continued on page 5)

Elmwood Street To Be Widened 29 Sq. Feet

Aldermen Take A Narrow View Of Dangerous Street Corner

The long desired altering, relocating and widening of the southerly corner of Centre and Elmwood streets, will soon be accomplished to a very slight degree as a result of action taken by the Board of Aldermen on Wednesday night when it voted to accept the report of the Committee on Public Works, the committee having unanimously made the following recommendations:—

"The Standing Committee on Public Works to whom was referred the petition No. 59368 of H. W. Pitts for the Village Improvement Association of Newton Corner for the relocation, alteration and widening of Elmwood street at the southerly corner of Centre street, having considered the same, unanimously report recommending that the prayer of the petitioners be granted, and that the following described parcel of land be taken for that purpose:

Beginning at a point in the easterly line of Centre street distant 10.00 feet southwesterly from the intersection of said easterly line of Centre street with the southwesterly line of Elmwood street measured along said easterly line of Centre street; thence north-easterly 0.80 foot by said easterly line of Centre street; thence by a curve to the right in a northeasterly and easterly direction of 12.00 feet radius, 15.70 feet, said curve forming the present junction of said easterly (Continued on page 6)

Program Announced For Dance Of Nations

Many Children To Take Part In Playground Pageant

The pageant entitled "The Dance Of The Nations" which will be staged on the Newton Centre playground next week Wednesday, weather permitting, will be well worth witnessing if any indication can be taken from the program which has just been announced. Children from fourteen playgrounds, numbering in the vicinity of 500, will participate in the affair which is open to the public. Ten episodes and a finale will be presented with the children from one or more playgrounds making up the participants in each scene with all combining to present the finale. The nations the dances of which will be portrayed in costumes as worn in those countries, will be France, England, Russia, Japan, Spain, Italy, Ireland, Scotland, Holland and America.

The program follows:

Episode I, France—Auburndale Playground. Three scenes: Camp Hayfield, Tavern. 1. Harvest time. Hay-making with country folks celebrating harvest. 2. Camp. Soldiers entering camp. 3. ## Tax Increase Of Twenty Cents Announced By Newton Assessors

Eight Million Dollar Increase In Valuation Keeps Rate Down To $27.60 Per Thousand

The Assessors on Tuesday announced the tax rate for the current year at $27.60 per $1000 valuation, an increase of twenty cents over that for 1927.

The total value of real estate is placed at $128,504,150, a gain of over $8,000,000, of which about $2,000,000 came from re-valuations and about $6,000,000 from new buildings.

Personal Property shows only a slight gain, $20,913,000 this year as compared with $19,529,000 last year.

The expenses of the city, county, state and metropolitan district show an increase of over $300,000, the figures being $4,733,000 as compared with $4,406,000 last year. This increase comes largely in city expenses which jumped from $3,576,000 last year to $4,245,000 this year. The warrants from state, county and district expenses stand at $537,373 as compared with $555,921 last year. There is a reduction in the state tax of about $30,000 but other accounts except that for metropolitan parks show increases. It cost us over $6,000 for a new street in Cambridge and over $3,000 for a new street in Brookline.

Estimated receipts fall off $15,000, while the state income tax gains the substantial amount of over $58,000.

Further details can be found in the tables printed elsewhere in this issue.

The following list shows polls, personal property and real estate by

HISTORY AND BUSINESS

The Newton Mortgage Corporation was organized in 1923 under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, after careful detailed discussions with banks and real estate men to assure its founders of the fundamental soundness of its plan of operation.

The business of the Newton Mortgage Corporation is the purchase, holding, and on some occasions the sale of mortgages on high-grade business and residential property in Newton and nearby points in Massachusetts. The earnings of the Corporation are further enhanced by the hypothecation of certain of these mortgages at lower rates and the re-lending of the money. The City of Newton is known in eastern United States as the center of a most desirable residential district and the personnel of the Corporation are thoroughly versed in real estate values, both in Massachusetts in general and in Newton and vicinity in particular. Every loan is subject to personal careful investigation by an officer of the Corporation, and periodical reductions of the principal are required similar to the requirements of cooperative banks. It is the policy of the Corporation to make loans of comparatively small size and to turn them over as many times as possible.

The safety of investments in high-grade mortgages on real estate is unquestioned. Savings Banks are allowed by law to invest up to 70% of their assets in real estate mortgages. Trust Companies are large holders of them. National Banks have recently entered the field and conservative trustees have been holders of such investments for many years. Seekers of investments secured by real estate recognize New England, and Massachusetts in particular, as a most attractive locality to provide soundness and safety.

MANAGEMENT

The Management and control of the Newton Mortgage Corporation will continue in the hands of the men who have been responsible for the develop-

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

EARNINGS

The Newton Mortgage Corporation has earned a profit each year since the inception of the business. Net earnings for the past four years available for dividends, after all charges and Federal income taxes as certified by Gardner B. Wardwell, Certified Public Accountant, of the firm of George A. Morin and Associates, have been as follows:

Years Ended	Net Earnings	Earnings per share on basis of present Class A Common
Dec. 31, 1926	$36,325.28	$3.28 share
1928 (6 months before Taxes)	25,318.68	4.50 "

* Estimate based on 6 months operations

The net earnings of the Corporation after Federal taxes for the year ending December 31, 1927, have been over two times the dividend requirements on the outstanding 7% Preferred stock.

DIVIDEND RECORD

The Corporation has paid uninterrupted dividends on the Preferred stock at the rate of 7% per annum as well as substantial dividends on the Common stock since organization. The Board of Directors have voted to inaugurate a dividend rate of $2.00 per share per annum on the Class A Common stock, payable in May and November of each year.

GENERAL

The Corporation is the beneficiary under two insurance policies totalling $100,000 covering the lives of the two principal executives. As these policies have been placed with mutual companies, the Board of Directors have voted to set aside such dividends as accrue annually in a fund to defray the expense incidental to remarketing any Preferred or Common stock repurchased.

Price $100.00 Per Share

Subscribers to the preferred stock have the privilege of subscribing to one share of common stock with each share of preferred stock.

COMMON STOCK PURCHASE WARRANTS

Each share of Preferred Stock will be accompanied by a stock purchase warrant entitling the holder thereof to purchase Class A Common stock in the ratio of one share of Common stock for each five shares of Preferred stock at the following prices: $20 per share from September 1, 1928 to December 31, 1928, inclusive; $25 per share from January 1st, 1929 to June 30, 1929, inclusive; $30 per share from July 1st, 1929 to December 31, 1929, inclusive; $35 per share from January 1st, 1930 to July 31, 1930, inclusive; thereafter the warrants become void.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

TWI-LEAGUE RACE GETTING CLOSER

The Saxony Mills baseball team, leaders in the Newton Twilight league race for the third leg on the Graphic Cup, lost two games the past week to cut down their margin considerably and make the race much closer. West Newton continues to follow on the heels of the leaders while the big feature of the week was the rush of the Upper Falls A. A. from the cellar berth to a position but half a game below West Newton. Despite the fact that Lower Falls shut out the Saxony team last week Thursday night, they dropped two other games to tumble into the cellar while Newton Highlands held fourth place by virtue of a 3 to 2 victory over Lower Falls.

Friday night's game between the Saxony Mills and West Newton at Victory Field ended in a 2 to 2 tie as darkness fell. West Newton with Noonan in the box, played a tight ball and took the lead, scoring both runs early in the game. Saxony battled hard to tie the score and finally succeeded. In the fourth inning both teams had chances to break the tie. West Newton filled the bases with but one out but Saxony tightened and staved off the run. In the last of the fourth Saxony pushed a man around to third with but one gone. The next batter hit a Texas leaguer to left field and as the runner started for the plate the left fielder let go a perfect peg to the catcher. The runner stopped and dashed back to third but a quick throw from the catcher nailed him.

Upper Falls started its climb the same night by knocking over Lower Falls under a 9 to 2 score. Monday night Lower Falls dropped into the cellar when the Highland A. A. nosed them out in a 3 to 2 game.

Tuesday night on the West Newton Common the Saxony Mills and West Newton Town Team stared at each other in a hard fought game with the latter coming out on top, 6 to 4. Wednesday night Upper Falls continued its spurt at the expense of Tommy Gilligan's outfit by taking them into camp 4 to 2.

The coming week may furnish more upsets and if so the race may be even closer. Saxony has two games to play, one with the Upper Falls on Monday and the other with Lower Falls on Wednesday. Should the latter knock over Saxony again West Newton or Upper Falls may be leading the field by this time next week. To do so West Newton must take Newton Highlands Tuesday and Upper Falls Wednesday which would be no easy feat.

On the other hand Upper Falls would have to defeat the Highlands outfit tonight, West Newton on Wednesday night and Lower Falls next Thursday night. As the race is scheduled to end during the last week of the month when it is hoped that the remaining postponed games will be played off the game on Wednesday night at Upper Falls between Simpson's outfit and West Newton may have an important bearing on the outcome of the race. At any rate it should have some bearing on the fight for second place and right to meet the winners in the city series.

The championship of the city and the right to hold the Graphic Cup for the next year will go to the winner of this series which will be played off about Labor Day. Thus, while it is quite possible that the winner of the round robin series may not be the ultimate city champions it should give them the advantage and make them the favorites in the short series coming.

Upper Falls Shut Out

Sunday afternoon the J. A. Cigar Co.'s baseball team shut out the Newton Upper Falls A. A. 2 to 0. Brennan, J. A. Cigar pitcher, was the star of the game. He let the local team down with one solitary single by Kerrivan, Upper Falls centerfielder, fanned five, and passed but two. He also scored one run and batted in the other for the winners. The Cigar team found Bridget, Upper Falls twirler, for ten hits, one a two-bagger which scored Brennan.

Cronin in Exhibition Game

Last Thursday while the Boston Braves were beginning their road trip they stopped off at Hartford, Conn., to play the Eastern leaguers. A youthful collegian was on the mound for the latter and he let the Boston Club down with four hits and shut them out 4 to 0. One of the Braves singles was made by Bill Cronin, West Newton lad and third string catcher, who has had but little chance to get into the game since being called from Providence.

Hunnefeld Hitting .313

Bill Hunnefeld, former Saxony Mills player now with the Chicago White Sox is hitting for .313 in the 66 games in which he has played according to official average released the first of the week.

Spain's Two Hits Help

Frank Spain, former Newton High star athlete, collected two singles in four times at bat on Tuesday in a Chatham-Harwich vs. Wareham Cape Cod league game to aid his team in a 6 to 1 victory. Spain is playing short for Chatham and besides his two singles he scored one run, and accepted three chances without error.

Six Run Rally Wins

Roslindale defeated Quincy, 7 to 6, Monday night in a Greater Boston twi-league game. Roslindale went into the last half of the sixth with the score 1 to 6 against them and staged a six-run rally to turn defeat into victory. The first man at bat singled, Mat Peppard, former Newton high first baseman, drew a pass while the next batter singled to fill the bases. A double sandwiched in between two singles provided the punch to tie the score and left the winning run on first. The Quincy twirler fanned the next batter but offset this with another pass which advanced the base runner to second from where he scored when the first batter in the inning singled on his second trip to the plate.

Y Wins Another

The Newton Y. M. C. A. baseball team annexed another win Wednesday night by defeating the Village A. C. of Cambridge on the local Y field, 7 to 1.

Miss Rice Enters Nationals

Miss Virginia Rice of Newton Centre is entered in the National women's singles tennis tournament which gets under way next week at Forest Hills, N. Y. The local girl has a position in the upper half of the draw and will meet Miss Gertrude Dwyer of New York in her first match.

Joe Lynch Wins Hearst Trophy

Joe Lynch of Albemarle, former Massachusetts junior golf champion, carried off high honors in the Hearst trophy tournament for juniors last Saturday when he defeated Bill Donnelly, Jr., of Woodland, 4 and 3 in the final round of match at the Blue Hill Golf Club. The victory was a real consolation for the local golfer who lost his crown as junior champion at Unicorn in July. He never gave his opponent an opening, getting the jump at the outset and keeping the match in command all the way.

Quimet vs. Guilford Tomorrow

For the first time since 1924 when Francis Quimet and Jesse Guilford, both of the Woodland Golf Club, met in the amateur championship match at Marlboro, Mass., the two local golfers will have a chance to see the pair meet again with something of consequence at stake. Both of the Woodlanders, with medals of 69, tied for the gross in Norfolk's three-day medal play open tournament which concluded last Saturday. 203 players teed off, making it the biggest and classiest assembly of its kind this season. The first place deadlock will be played off tomorrow, bringing the former champions together for the first time in several years.

Stratton Wins At Pittsfield

Emery Stratton, Brae-Burn golfer, won the annual golf tournament of the Pittsfield Country Club last week, defeating O. M. Hibler of Hartford in the final on Saturday 3 and 2. It is Stratton's second win in that tourney. Sunday the local golfer captured golfing fans will have a chance to see the pair meet again with something of consequence at stake. Both of the Woodlanders, with medals of 69, tied for the gross in Norfolk's three-day medal play open tournament which concluded last Saturday. 203 players teed off, making it the biggest and classiest assembly of its kind this season. The first place deadlock will be played off tomorrow, bringing the former champions together for the first time in several years.

Newton Player in Consolations

The beaten eight in the championship division of the annual Crawford Notch golf tournament for the Holbrook cup played their second round matches yesterday. M. R. Campbell of Newton defeating Dr. J. W. Fox of Fairport, N. Y. Campbell will meet Jones of Brooklyn for the consolation prize.

Martin Wins From Gotshall

The finals of the Southern New Hampshire men's singles open tennis tournament at Manchester, N. H., last Saturday were strictly a Newton affair. The finalists were Donald Martin, former Boston University tennis captain, and Abbott Gotshall, a former teammate of Martin's both Newton youths. The match was a thrilling five set struggle with Gotshall taking the first two sets. Martin then came back strong and the pair brought the large gathering of spectators present to their feet several times with the exciting rallies they staged. The scores which brought Martin his title were 8-10, 1-6, 6-4, 6-1, and 6-2.

Ellison-Stebbins Win At Tedesco

Miss Harriet Ellison and Miss Frances Stebbins, both of Newton and representing the Brae-Burn Country Club, won the final match in the championship division of the invitation four-ball competition at the Tedesco C. C. last week. They defeated Miss Elinor Sutton of Andover and Miss Theresa Winsor of Weston, 6 and 5. The local pair played exceptional golf with a best ball of 40 going out. They won the first, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth to gain a lead of 4 up at the turn. Miss Ellison dropped a deuce on the eighth. They halved the ninth, won the 10th, lost the 11th, captured the 12th and with a sure four for Miss Ellison on the next green their opponents conceded them the match.

Miss Rice Advances

Miss Virginia Rice of Newton Centre, who is playing this week in the Eastern championships at Rye, N. H., reached the fourth round of the women's singles on Tuesday by defeating Mrs. A. C. Butler of Philadelphia in a third round match 6-2, 4-6, 7-5.

Newton Pair Wins

Miss Katherine Sprague and Miss Dorance Chubb of Newton were finalists with Miss Katherine Winthrop and Miss Emily Lincoln of Chocoma in the girls' doubles tennis tourney at Swampscott yesterday.

The Newton pair were the victors in a three-set match with the second match providing the most exciting tennis. Miss Chase and Miss Sprague won the first set at 6-3 but in the second set the Chocoma, N. H., team battled them on even terms and finally broke through to win at 11-9. The effort took all they had and the third set went to the local girls at 6-1.

Gotshall Out At Portland

Abbott Gotshall, playing in the tennis tourney at the Portland C. C. this week advanced to the fourth round on Monday by winning his third round match from R. Warner, 6-4, 6-4. The former B. U. player entered the third round through default of his second round opponent, Donald Martin, another local youth and former B. U. tennis captain, was entered in the tourney but withdrew. Gotshall was eliminated in a semi-final match by P. G. Rockefeller, his doubles partner, who won 6-2, 3-6, 6-4. In doubles Gotshall and Rockefeller passed the quarterfinals by taking two sets from Stanley and Walker, 6-1, 6-0.

Gotshall is teaming with Miss Rosamond Newton of Brookline in the mixed doubles and by virtue of a default reached the third round yesterday. Miss Newton is a finalist in the women's singles the title of which will be settled tomorrow.

Noble Out Of Nationals

Arthur Noble of Newton Centre won his second round match in the national junior tennis championships at Culver, Ind., on Monday, defeating John Russell of York, Penn., 6-2, 12-10. In a third round match on Tuesday with Wimer Hines, Montreal, N. C., the Newton Centre youth was on the short end of a 6-4 11-9 match.

Noble and Partner Eliminated

Arthur Noble of Newton Centre and his partner, Albert Horton of Providence were eliminated in the third round of the national junior doubles tourney at Culver, Ind., Wednesday after defeating an Oklahoma City pair in a second round match.

Newton Player in Consolations

The beaten eight in the championship division of the annual Crawford Notch golf tournament for the Holbrook cup played their second round matches yesterday. M. R. Campbell of Newton defeating Dr. J. W. Fox of Fairport, N. Y. Campbell will meet Jones of Brooklyn for the consolation prize.

"Just plain wonderful"
.. say all who have seen it

Amid all the fanfare of new car announcements, one fact stands out with shining clarity: Owners of cars in every price field are turning to the Silver Anniversary Buick with an eagerness which proves that they regard it as the greatest value ever offered in the motor world!

This radically new and different automobile is rolling up the biggest demand ever won by any new quality car. It is drawing more people to the showrooms, day after day, than any other automobile ever drew before. It is focusing the attention of America by quality-standards so new, so advanced and so epochal as to preclude any thought of comparison.

New Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher marking the highest degree of dashing, daring, debonair beauty—thrilling new abilities, as unmatched as they were unknown a few weeks ago—new appointments of luxury and convenience never before known to motor car practice!

America has seen plenty of automobiles. But America has never seen an automobile like this. "Just plain Wonderful" is the country's verdict on the Silver Anniversary Buick!

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

A black snake five feet long, together with garter snakes and the southern corn snake will be living illustrations of the talk on "Snakes and Other Crawlies" to be given at the Children's Museum of Boston on Sunday, August 19, at 3:30 p. m., according to the announcement made by Miss Mildred E. Manter, Director.
Miss Hilda Karns, a field naturalist and a member of the summer staff at the Museum has arranged this talk for children to which adults are also welcome.

Dutch Fairy Tales will be illustrated with colored lantern slides at the Monday program at 3 p. m. on August 20, and subjects as announced for the tri-weekly talks on August 22 and 24 are
"In Bamboo Land," and "The Bog People." Throughout the summer months the Children's Museum offers a series of illustrated talks for boys and girls on natural history subjects and foreign countries, and on alternate Sundays a free program is also scheduled.

Creatore Plays For Crippled Children

Giuseppe Creatore and his band performed a meritable act of kindness
Wednesday, when, despite the scorching heat, they travelled from Norumbega Park at Auburndale, where they are playing this week, to the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children at Oak Hill, and gave a concert for the little sufferers. In addition to the 118 little patients at Peabody Home, nearly 1000 children were present. These included the boys from the Working Boys Home at Newton Highlands, youngsters from the playgrounds in Newton and 50 colored children from West Newton under the charge of "Uncle Tom"
Lyons. Also present were about 50 mothers and their children from Mother's Rest in Oak Hill.

The affair was arranged by Manager Will White of Norumbega Park who never loses an opportunity to provide some pleasure for the less fortunate little ones. Mr. White interested the Newton Kiwanis Club in the matter, telling his fellow members at the meeting on Tuesday of Signor Creatore's generous offer to play for the crippled children, and suggesting that the treat of listening to the famous band be extended to other youngsters in the city. The club followed Mr. White's suggestion and voted to pay for busses and refreshments for whatever children might attend. In addition to several busses provided by the Kiwanians, several city trucks were used to transport the boys and girls from the playgrounds and the Working Boys Home to the Peabody Home. A score of young men and women instructors from the Newton playgrounds, under the supervision of John Donohue assumed charge of the host of children. The committee from the Newton Kiwanis Club assisting included President James P. Gallagher, Charles Barrows, John Coppinger, Wilfred Chagnon, Irving Ireland, Thomas Lyons, William Pike and Leslie Woodman. During the concert by the band the committee and instructors distributed 1000 ice cream cones, 1000
Hoodies and 1000 bottles of tonic to the children. Miss Smith, superintendent of the Peabody Home expressed her sincere thanks to Signor Creatore, the Newton Kiwanians and the others who assisted in providing the entertainment for her charges.

NEW EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

Announcement was made this week by the Directors of the Newton Chamber of Commerce of a change in the executive personnel of that organization through which Mr. Robert L. J.
Fleming becomes the new Executive Secretary of that organization. Mr.
Fleming has become familiar with the city during the past year, having served during the period as Associate Secretary of the Newton Chamber in charge of membership. Previous to coming to Newton Mr. Fleming has had a varied experience in the business and organization field which, in the judgment of the Directors of the Chamber, eminently qualifies him for the new position to which he was recently elected.

The resignation of the former secretary, Clifton C. Mowry, who had been in charge of the development and work of the Chamber since October, 1921, became effective Saturday of last week, August 11, with Mr. Fleming assuming his new duties on the beginning of the present week. Mr. Mowry states that he has retired from Chamber of Commerce work to enter private business.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

Now that Herbert Hoover has been officially notified and accepted the Republican nomination for President, the campaign for the Presidency has been opened. Governor Smith will undergo similar ceremonies of notification and acceptance on August 22. The critics and apologists for the two candidates have been at work for weeks and will continue their activity on an intensive scale hereafter.

It is generally conceded that the present campaign will witness many departures in propaganda and electioneering methods. Years ago the electorate would have been horrified at the expenditure of one million dollars, but it is now conservatively estimated that the major parties will spend at least ten million dollars to elect a President. Not even the professional alarmists can arouse the people at large by their criticisms of these enormous expenditures this year.

It is said in the preparation of his speech in accepting the highest honor in the gift of the Republican Party. Mr. Hoover has one characteristic, at least, of President Coolidge. For years political leaders and other have offered their suggestions to the President and came away feeling that their advice was accepted for its full value. Yet, his messages to Congress and other speeches showed that Mr. Coolidge had merely listened lightly and acted according to his own dictates. That is one of the advantages of being a good listener.

The Treasury Department anticipates protests on the size of the new paper money. The Bureau of Printing and Engraving is now turning out paper money smaller in all denominations. The new bill represents several years study by Treasury officials. Many months must elapse before the output can reach sufficient proportions to insure nation-wide distribution of the currency. Confusion will naturally follow because the public and the bankers will always anticipate counterfeit bills. It is claimed that counterfeiters will have the advantage of spreading their spurious currency inasmuch as the public will not recognize the finer characteristics of the smaller sized dollar bills. The Treasury feels that the public will appreciate the change in the size and that there will be a certain economy in the manufacture of these silver and gold certificates.

With more than sixty thousand government employees located in Washington the vacation season is more than a routine matter. While large numbers of Federal workers have established homes here, the majority are temporary residents in that they endeavor to maintain voting places at home. An impressive percentage of government employees, particularly the girls, came here during the war emergency. A surprising number of these recruits to the government service were school teachers who choose to remain in government positions in Washington rather than return to a permanent place in the old home town. The Capital City exercises a curious fascination to the extent that better opportunities are turned down. The government, too, offers the advantage of practically a sixty days vacation with pay, thirty days sick and thirty days annual leave. Private corporations could not afford such a bounty, which amounts to practically a two months vacation every year.

RECRUITING IN NEWTON

Serg. Thomas J. Carter of the United States Army was in Newton Monday and yesterday for the purpose of obtaining recruits for the various branches of the army. An army truck bearing descriptive posters was stationed in Nonantum Square and other centers of the city and a considerable number of prospects were interviewed. Contrary to some people's ideas the army is not a haven for men of inferior calibre but offers to men of good character and determination many opportunities, not only to fit themselves for successful careers in civil life, but excellent chances for advancement should they desire to make the army their permanent vocation. Young men who are ambitious can obtain appointments to West Point from the ranks of the regular army. Serg. Carter's regular station is at the Army Base in South Boston.

Recent Deaths

DEATH OF MR. FRENCH

Mr. James Wilkinson French, one of the best known residents of Newton, died suddenly last Monday at his summer home in Edgartown, Mass., heart disease being the cause of death.

Mr. French was born on West street, Boston, March 4, 1851, and was the son of James and Lucina French. He was educated in the schools of Newton and immediately entered the real estate business with his father where he soon became an expert.

His knowledge was not confined to Boston alone; he was active at times in many other cities and traveled widely. He was especially well known in the work of the National Realtors. For more than 40 years he was in demand by the courts as an expert on real estate.

Mr. French was at the time of his death president of the Newton Cooperative Bank, president of the Nonantum Cooperative Bank, president of the Newton Real Estate Association, a director of the Newton Trust Company and a director or official of several other Newton institutions.

He was one of the leading figures in the elimination of grade crossings in Newton and acted for the city of Newton in practically all its land damage cases.

Mr. French was for many years an active factor in political and social circles. He represented ward 7 in the old Common Council in 1884-85 and 86 and was president of that body in 1886. In 1888 he served one year as an alderman. He was prominent in the affairs of the old Newton Club, thirty years ago and has been for many years a member of the Hunnewell Club.

He married Miss Emily S. Moore, who died a year ago and is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Margaret F. Baldwin.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon in the chapel of the Newton Cemetery and Rev. John R. Dallinger, assistant rector at Grace Church, officiated.

DEATH OF MRS. SALMON

Mrs. Mary Loring Pope Salmon, wife of Mr. George Allen Salmon, died Saturday, August 11th, at her home, 999 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, after an illness of several months. She was the daughter of Samuel W. and Betsey Talbot Pope of East Machias, Maine, but came early with her parents to live in Boston and was a graduate of the famous old Gannett School. She married in 1877 George Allen Salmon son of Dr. Ira Allen and Maria Chaffee Salmon and spent the early years of her married life in Minneapolis but for over thirty years Mr. and Mrs. Salmon have been residents of Newton Highlands and a year ago celebrated their golden wedding by entertaining at the Newton Club for many of their Newton and Boston friends.

Mrs. Salmon was a member of the Newton Centre Methodist Episcopal Church and from childhood was active in church work, being especially interested in Home and Foreign Missions. She was a charter member of the Sarah Hull Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands and for a number of years a member of the Newton Centre and Newton Highlands Woman's Clubs.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. William E. Huntington, D.D., assisted by Rev. Alfred Wood and Rev. John C. Wingett of the Newton Centre M. E. Church. The Melstersingers Quartet sang selections from hymns especially dear to Mrs. Salmon.

Burial was in the family lot at the Newton Cemetery. Mrs. Salmon is survived by a husband, a daughter, Mrs. Raymond Foster of Framingham; one son, Allen P. Salmon of Newton Centre; one brother, William J. Pope, and one sister, Mrs. James Wilton Taylor, both of New York.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT

Mrs. Ellen Anne (Barnard) Harwood, who died Sunday at her home on Ivanhoe street, Newton, has been a resident here for nearly 70 years, coming here in 1861 just after her marriage to the late George S. Harwood in 1861. Mrs. Harwood was born in Nails-worth, Gloucestershire, England, on October 9, 1834.

As one of the founders of the Immanuel Baptist Church (the first Baptist Church in Newton) Mrs. Harwood, with her late husband, were both active in its support during their active life in Newton. She was the last charter member of the Woman's American Baptist Home Mission Society. For a great many years she was a member of the board of that society, and one of its most active members. For a long time, Mrs. Harwood was prominent in the work of the Women's American Baptist Foreign Mission Society and was deeply interested in the work of the Spellman Seminary at Atlanta, Ga., and in other schools for the education of the Southern negroes.

She was also interested in the Pomroy Home for Girls.

She is survived by three sons, Sydney Harwood of Brookline, Boston, John H. Harwood of Brookline and G. Fred Harwood of Newton.

Funeral services were held from her late home on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Newton A. Merritt, Jr., pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church, officiating. The interment was in the Newton Cemetery.

MRS. BULLEN DEAD

Mrs. Maria J. Bullen, widow of Rev. George Bullen, D.D., for many years pastor of the First Baptist Church in Pawtucket, R. I., died last week Thursday night in Newton Centre. Mrs. Bullen was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Henry J. Ripley, her father having been one of the earliest professors at the Newton Theological Institution, and she passed away in the old Ripley house in Ripley terrace. Mrs. Bullen is survived by two sons, Rev. Walter Bullen of Lee, Me., and Dana R. Bullen, of Schenectady, N. Y.

GEORGE MUIR

George Muir of 158 Prince street, West Newton, died suddenly in Bermuda on August 8. He was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, 63 years ago and came to this country when a boy. With his brother, the late William Muir, he formed a contracting firm in Boston which became one of the largest in this part of the country. He had resided in Newton for 27 years.

He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Katherine Muir, and three sons, George, Jr., Gordon and Douglas Muir. He was a member of several Masonic bodies, Boston City Club, Massachusetts Charitable Mechanics Association, Master Builders Association and Newton Chamber of Commerce. His funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon in the chapel at Forest Hills Cemetery.

MR. HUBERT CUNNINGHAM SOULS

The death of Mr. Hubert C. Souls occurred at his home early Saturday morning after a long illness, at the age of seventy-two years.

He was the youngest son of the late Captain William Souls, and was born in Smith's Cove, Digby County, N. S.

Mr. Souls was a painter and expert decorator, and had done many decorative jobs for Boston and New York architects, and was very popular in his line.

He was a member of the Waban Lodge of Odd Fellows, and Lodge services were held at his home, 53 Bowers street, Newtonville on Monday evening.

Funeral services were held at St. Johns Church on Tuesday afternoon, and were conducted by the Rev. Raymond Lang. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery.

FALL FROM TREE FATAL

Saturday morning at 8:15 Hugh Gallagher, 47, an employee of the forestry department of Watertown, fell 30 feet from a tree near the Newton line at Galen and Boyd streets, landing on the concrete sidewalk. He was rushed to the Newton Hospital where it was found that he had suffered fractures of the skull, an arm and a leg. He died on Sunday. Gallagher, who resided at 178 Summer street, Watertown, leaves a widow and six children.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

In the week ending August 11 there were 119 patients in the Newton Hospital, 36 of whom paid as much or more than cost of care, 51 paid less than cost of care and 32 (including babies) were treated free. 9 babies were born, 6 boys and 3 girls. 88 patients were treated in the outpatient department. 5 social service calls were made in the homes and 7 patients were transferred by the social service car. 13 accidents were treated in the operating room.

Of the 13 emergency cases treated during the week only 2 were the results of automobile accidents, one a man with lacerated head and arm and the other a woman with a fractured collar bone. Of the other 11 accidents, four were boys: one with a fractured wrist the result of a fall, one with a lacerated upper lip received when he was hit by a baseball, one with a laceration on his chin received when he fell downstairs; three were girls, the first was treated for burns on the left side of her body caused by an oil stove, the second for a laceration of the right arm received when she fell downstairs with a bottle in her hand and the third for a bruised lip and knee caused when she fell on the sidewalk; two women were treated, one for a lacerated finger received when she was accidentally struck with a carving knife, the other with a fractured leg the result of an automobile accident. Two men were treated, one for a sprained ankle received when he was struck by a stone and the other a man who had fallen from a tree receiving a fractured skull, fractures of both wrists and a fractured leg.

REAL ESTATE

Alvord Bros. report that they have sold one of the most beautiful of the homes in Newton, located at 44 Sylvan avenue. The grounds comprise 40,000 square feet of level land with magnificent trees, shrubs, stunning flowers, and rose bushes. The house is a brick-ened Colonial of eleven rooms, four baths, sleeping porch, and three other porches, designed by an architect and built by the day. There is also a two-car garage. The purchaser is Kenneth L. Hayes of Brookline, and the seller, Robert W. Newell. The property is valued at $55,000.

One of Newton's attractive sections called Westminster Park, located in Newton Centre, is growing steadily with substantial homes. A handsome Pennsylvania type single house of six rooms, bath with shower, and open porch and heated garage has just been completed and sold at 52 Westminster road. The house with 10,000 feet of land is sold to George W. Marquis of Somerville, for Nathan Stiles of Boston.

Tax Comm. Long Talks on Local Tax Rates

Henry F. Long, Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation, speaking recently on "Local Tax Rates" at a conference of the assessors and collectors of the four western counties said in part:

Each year at about this time a lively interest is taken by the taxpayers in learning what the local tax rate is to be. So far as this is an indication of concern in respect to the costs of municipal government it should be encouraged but the interests of local governmental economy are not served if the taxpayer's interest is satisfied simply by learning the tax rate. The tax rate may in many instances reveal the individual's direct tax and possibly please him but the taxpayer must necessarily be more interested in his total tax burden and many have learned that the tax rate did not disclose this burden. To delude a taxpayer is not only decidedly wrong, but can result in but transitory advantage, yet many tax rates are misleading. Under the tax laws the local tax rate is considered to be merely a mathematical conclusion but in practice all too frequently it is used as a mathematical factor, by visualizing an attractive rate and using that as the principal factor force the valuation of property and other real factors to bring that result. With the thought that the tax rate is of singular importance, the tendency on the part of some assessors, in order to have a tax rate pleasing to the taxpayer, is to raise valuations or liberally estimate receipts or employ some other artifice such as the use of "free cash" which is not free cash or the translation of a bookkeeping surplus labeled "excess and deficiency" into real cash despite clear evidence that the "surplus" is represented by uncollected and often uncollectible taxes. The law puts the duty of the determination of the tax rate in the board of assessors, contemplates that the assessors fully and fairly value all taxable property and having ascertained the amount to be raised by direct taxation, calculate the rate by dividing the amount to be raised on taxable property by the full and fair cash value of the taxable property without attempting to make an attractive local tax rate. In order to avoid uncomfortable fractions which would make difficult the calculation of individual taxes, it is provided that an overlay to care for abatements if any, can be such sum as the assessors may determine not more than two per cent of the amount to be raised by direct taxation. Because of this provision tax rates are occasionally found to be in multiples of five, generally in tens, but which preferably should be in twentys. The tax rate has its significance but it does not tell the entire story because the cost to the taxpayer for his local government is his proportion of the exact amount that the municipality must pay to meet its current obligations. These obligations arise from interest and debt requirements on money borrowed for past enterprises but for which the current taxpayer must pay; from the necessity of making good any deficits of previous years through taxes laid for expenditures but not collected; from the obligation to meet outlays for final judgments and for abatements granted under the law; from the requirement to pay a proportional part of the cost of the county in which the municipality is located as well as its proportion of the State's deficiency bill or as called the "State Tax," and from the expenditures needed for the current year to keep active the functions of the local government relating to schools, roads, fire and police protection, health and sanitation and other numerous activities assumed by the present day municipal government.

The taxpayer must contribute from his personal funds whatever the assessors in their wisdom decide by valuation is his fair share of the cost of his local government and he is to meet by a direct tax on his taxable real estate and tangible personal property, but town funds in which he has an interest help to lessen this direct tax. Because of this the "local tax rate" does not furnish information all ways to be relied upon as reflecting an economical government inasmuch as the "tax rate" shows only the direct tax burden.

The total appropriations and all other current obligations to be paid make the sum total of the taxpayers' expense of local government but from this amount before direct taxes are applied by means of the local tax rate, there is deducted from the amount required for the maintenance of government the funds coming to the municipality in the form of receipts. These represent payments for various kinds of governmental services the expense of which is met in part by the individual having the benefit of such service, by funds coming from the State which distributes to the cities and towns the net proceeds of the income tax, which far exceeds the so-called "State Tax," five-sixths of all the taxes paid the State by business corporations and so much of the taxes paid by certain other corporations as is represented by the resident ownership of the shares of stock of such corporations. There is also deducted the amount that is contributed by virtue of a tax at $2 on each person above the age of twenty in the municipality on April first of each year. The balance remaining because expressed by a tax rate unfortunately attracts more attention than the total expenditures which are the only matters of prime importance to the taxpayers. More than one community has learned to its lasting sorrow that the "tax rate" was an imposter and that expenses not expressed through the tax rate were saddled upon a municipality unable to pay and have its people prosper.

The "tax rate" is frequently made to be other than a teller of truth by the studied and sustained effort of some assessors to deliberately determine the value of some properties in excess of the full and fair cash value and determine the value of other property below the full and fair cash value, causing an average value of less than the full and fair cash value by penalizing one taxpayer to the advantage of another.

In the rare event that assessors could fairly value all the property at a percentage below its full and fair cash value the taxpayer would not profit. As illustrative of this, assume a town desiring to raise by direct taxation $435,000 on its taxable property. One board of assessors values this property at $1,500,000, actually accomplishing successful equalization at 75% of the full and fair cash value, thus bringing a tax rate of $29.00 on every $1,000 of valuation so that a taxpayer's property valued by them at $5,000 brings a tax burden to him of $145.00; while an efficient and conscientious board of assessors would find the value of this town's property to be $2,000,000, which would require a tax rate of $21.75 per $1,000 of value to raise the $435,000 needed, and bring to the individual taxpayer a value on his property of $6,666.66 with the resulting tax burden to him of exactly the same sum of $145.00.

The determining of tax rates, the valuation of property, the borrowing of money, the receipt of revenue, and the requirement of payment for local and town activities has gone on for many years. The important changes through the years are represented by the increase in valuable property, the extension of activities which the city or town feels it needs to engage itself in, the larger expenditures for the municipal functions that come closest to the people and always a reluctance to favor a widening of the tax resource base to permit of a fairer spread of the burden of local government.

The important features of the laws relating to the raising of funds for the local government are his proportion of the exact amount that the municipality must pay to meet its current obligations. These obligations arise from interest and debt requirements on money borrowed for past enterprises but for which the current taxpayer must pay; from the necessity of making good any deficits of previous years through taxes laid for expenditures but not collected; from the obligation to meet outlays for final judgments and for abatements granted under the law; from the requirement to pay a proportional part of the cost of the county in which the municipality is located as well as its proportion of the State's deficiency bill or as called the "State Tax," and from the expenditures needed for the current year to keep active the functions of the local government relating to schools, roads, fire and police protection, health and sanitation and other numerous activities assumed by the present day municipal government.

The taxpayer must contribute from his personal funds whatever the assessors in their wisdom decide by valuation is his fair share of the cost of his local government and he is to meet by a direct tax on his taxable real estate and tangible personal property, but town funds in which he has an interest help to lessen this direct tax. Because of this the "local tax rate" does not furnish information all ways to be relied upon as reflecting an economical government inasmuch as the "tax rate" shows only the direct tax burden.

The total appropriations and all other current obligations to be paid make the sum total of the taxpayers' expense of local government but from this amount before direct taxes are applied by means of the local tax rate, there is deducted from the amount required for the maintenance of government the funds coming to the municipality in the form of receipts. These represent payments for various kinds of governmental services the expense of which is met in part by the individual having the benefit of such service, by funds coming from the State which distributes to the

Here we find set out a system of taxation which must have been in accord with the thoughts of the people who in that year (1780) adopted the Constitution under which we today are largely governed in tax matters.

The law today as then contemplates the rendering of a list by each inhabitant setting out his taxable property, in the absence of such a list the assessors to estimate each person's taxable property, a full and fair cash value of that property as determined by the assessors and a "local tax rate" determined only by the science of mathematics representing a measure to be applied but not to be of paramount importance. Of paramount importance must always be the item showing the total sum required to liquidate all of the obligations of the city or town and the just valuation of taxable property to the end that the burden will be fairly and equally spread on the shoulders of all the taxpayers.

CURBSTONES AT NONANTUM—IN A FEW MONTHS

One of the matters which came before the Board of Aldermen at its special meeting on Wednesday night was that of the construction of curbstones on Water street at Nonantum and on parts of Pearl street. A considerable portion of Watertown street in the busy section of Nonantum, and much of Pearl street are without either concrete sidewalks or curbstones. The result is—that these heavily travelled streets have dirt sidewalks which are not in good condition because of their lack of curbstones. Moreover, since automobiles became so numerous, many careless, inconsiderate drivers operate their cars onto the sidewalks.

A petition, fostered by Alderman Powers, was presented to the Board sometime ago, asking that curbstones be constructed along certain portions of Watertown and Pearl streets under the Betterment Law. By this method the city would pay half the cost and the abutters the other half, being allowed ten years in which to pay their shares, if they desired.

At the joint meeting of the Public Works and Finance Committees of the aldermen, during the recess from the Board meeting on Wednesday night, both these committees unanimously voted in favor of the proposed improvement. The Finance Committee recommended the appropriation to defray the cost of the work so that it could be started in the near future. The point was raised, however, that an appropriation for this work cannot be taken from a bond issue as no taking of land is involved. The Finance Committee also raised the question of the appropriation being made from the fund for street improvements, as the Public Works Committee had supposed.

Chairman Collins of the Finance Committee explained that the only other alternative would be to make the appropriation from the Excess and Deficiency Fund, but because this fund is at the lowest figure it has been in years, and because it is supposed to be used ordinarily only for emergencies, the Committee did not wish to cut into the fund. Mr. Collins stated that had the committee recommended the provision would certainly have been made at the meeting on Monday night to defray the cost of this work from the tax levy. He gave the assurance that if next December a sufficient balance is on hand, this work will be provided for it immediately after the first of the coming year when funds will be available. Alderman Earle expressed his regrets that the misunderstanding had prevented the starting of work on the construction of the curbstones at once and gave assurance of his approval of this improvement.

ALFRED E. SMITH CLUB FORMED

Despite the extreme heat of Tuesday night a considerable number of Newton Democrats gathered in Elks Hall on Center street to organize an Alfred E. Smith Club. Ex-alderman Walter A. Hodgson was elected president; Howard H. Murphy of Newton Lower Falls, Treasurer; and Francis Gilligan of Newtonville, Secretary.

Fourteen vice-presidents were selected, one man and one woman from each of the seven wards in the city. These vice-presidents will assume charge of the registration of new voters in their respective districts. The meeting was addressed by Frank Donahue, chairman of the State Democratic Committee. Mr. Donahue stressed the importance of registering voters in Massachusetts because this state is regarded as one of the determining factors in the coming election—both parties expecting to carry it. It was the sense of the meeting that a vigorous campaign will be waged in Newton to register the many hundreds of eligibles whose sympathy is supposedly with the Democratic party.

The man who is all wrapped up in himself usually makes a mighty small package.

Earnshaw Mills Has Enjoyable Outing

The first outing of the employees of the Earnshaw Knitting Company of Nonantum was held Saturday at Lake Pearl, Wrentham. At 9 a. m. nine large buses and a fleet of 15 automobiles departed from the factory of the company on California street carrying 300 merry girls and young men to spend the day and early evening at the attractive resort in Wrentham. After a pleasant trip through Needham and Dedham and along the Providence turnpike, the grove at Lake Pearl was reached about 10 and a program of games started under the direction of a committee including Herbert Bowen, Charles Gildea and Dennis Shea. The events and the winners were—100 yard dash for girls, Marcha Wilson 1st, Lena Lacey 2nd; sack race for girls, Peggy Myers 1st, Rose Bedard 2nd; girls 3 legged race, Florence Connors and Helen Beltram 1st, Mabel Yaffe and Beulah Monroe 2nd; tonic drinking contest, Miss M. Walker 1st, Vera Delfy 2nd; pie eating contest, Rita Feeley 1st, Dorothy Coleman 2nd; events for men—sack race, George Boehm 1st, Charles Murphy 2nd; 3 legged race, Taylor and Lyman 1st, Murphy and McKegan 2nd; tonic drinking contest, Albert Brown 1st, Louis Cerelli 2nd.

The baseball game between the married men and single men was won by the married men by a score of 26 to 17. Tony pitched and Howley caught for the married men's team; the battery for the losers was Norcross and Cook.

Following the sports a box lunch was partaken by the picknickers and then most of the party donning bathing suits took advantage of the cool waters of Lake Pearl. The motor boats on the lake and the saddle ponies in the corral on the grounds also attracted many. In the evening dancing was enjoyed and the unanimous verdict of all who attended was that the first outing of the employees of the Earnshaw Knitting Company was a huge success. The committee which organized the affair included Lillian Calantuono, Cecilia Kelly and Anna McDonald, assisted by Charles Gildea.

The Earnshaw Knitting Company is now the leading industry of this city. At its mill on California street, Nonantum, nearly 600 persons are employed. The principal product of the company is the famous line of VANTA baby garments which have become so popular for infants that they are sold all over the world. The factory of the company is of modern construction, well lighted and sanitary with unusual conditions prevailing to safeguard the health of its employees. The Earnshaw Company was started at Chicago in 1911 by George F. Earnshaw. The following year William A. Alexander became associated with Mr. Earnshaw and through the efforts of these two men the concern steadily grew. In 1920 part of the company's manufacturing activities was transferred to Newton, and Joseph H. LeConey, an expert in the manufacture of knit goods came to this city to supervise the new factory. The Earnshaw Company has advanced rapidly since its advent in Newton, fortunately for the working people of this community. Many of the employees of the industries formerly active in Newton, but which either closed down or moved away, have found work with the Earnshaw Knitting Company. It is a valuable asset to this city.

ALDERMEN HOLD SPECIAL MEETING ON MONDAY

After the business of drawing jurors had been finished, Chairman Collins of the finance committee asked for a recess and invited all the members of the Board present to come to the meeting of the Board to discuss the matter of appropriating $19,000 for alterations at the Newton Public Library. These alterations will allow the large stock room in the wing at the rear of the library building to be completed as originally planned. Another floor will be built in this wing, offices for the use of the library trustees and employees. Nearly two hours were spent by the aldermen examining the plans and discussing the appropriation.

When the meeting of the Board was resumed Chairman Collins of the Finance Committee reported as inexpedient the passing of an order to appropriate $5000 to pay interest on temporary loans. The committee recommended the appropriation of $720 to pay the salary of a temporary agent for the Board of Health to substitute for Agent Fred Russell who has been seriously ill for a number of weeks. An appropriation of $2500 was made for construction service in the Water Department, the money to be taken from revenues. An appropriation of $11,470 for water mains was also authorized, the money to be provided by a bond issue.

Chairman Collins explained that even with these additional appropriations the tax rate of the city for this year will be not over $28, whereas if the Excess and Deficiency fund would be used as it has been in former years, the tax rate would be but $27.00, or less than last year. The Finance Committee is opposed to appropriations being taken from the Excess and Deficiency fund for several reasons. One of these is—that the Supplies Account, dating from 1920, shows an inventory of supplies in the Street and Water Departments supposedly valued at $42,000 which probably are non-existent—and this sum may have to be deducted from the Excess and Deficiency fund. Another reason is—"there are many bills over a year old owed to the Water Department; bills totaling around $31,000 which are not collectible." The Excess and Deficiency Fund may be affected by this sizable item. Then, there is a probable deficit of between $40,000 and $50,000 which will occur in the Water Department's finances this year because of the fact that $100,000 in back bills must be paid for water bought from the Metropolitan Water Commission the last three years.

Alderman Heathcote, who had reserved his rights as a member of the Finance Committee on the report to recommend the appropriation of $19,000 for the alterations on the library building, stated that he is more or less troubled on the whole situation of public building construction in Newton. He referred to the fact that last year when the budget was being considered, the request of the Library Trustees for the proposed alterations on the library was turned down by the Finance Committee and that if it was planned to do this work during the present year provisions for defraying the cost of it should have been made in the budget. The Ward 4 alderman asserted that the need of additional schools is more pressing than the work on the library. He contended that with the construction with the past couple of years of branch libraries at West Newton, Newton Centre and Abundant, there ought to be less need for increased storage room for books at the main library. He also argued that whereas the original request for the library alterations was $15,000, the amount now asked is $19,000. He contended that the members of the Board of Aldermen, apart from those on the Buildings Committee, had not sufficient knowledge of the plans of the proposed alterations on the library to vote intelligently on this matter. He asked, "Is the wood to be used in this job oak or pine?" "We laymen can't understand blueprints on a cursory examination," continued Mr. Heathcote.

The Ward 4 member compared the rushing through of the vote on the library appropriation to the hasty appropriation of the money to build the John Ward School at Chestnut Hill. He suggested that his fellow members on the Board visit this new school which he characterized as one of the most lavishly furnished and finished in Massachusetts. According to Mr. Heathcote the John Ward School is finished in oak, has hand painted panels, expensive shades on the electric lights, Kraftex wall finish and an artistic designed porch where the pupils can go out and gaze on the fields near by with cows placidly grazing in them. In contrast he referred to the water which is seeping into the cellar of this school and he inquired if the contractors who built this building will have to correct this condition before they receive full payment for the work on the school. He compared the expense of the John Ward School, which he said cost about $275,000 with the Hamilton School at Lower Falls which was recently built for about half that amount, commenting that the latter school is good enough for any community. He urged the Board to refrain from rushing through appropriations for public buildings, contending that to do so causes unnecessary expense to the taxpayers.

Continuing his attack, Alderman Heathcote asserted that the program outlined in the budget appropriations is not being followed. He called attention to the work now being done in replacing the badly buckled floor at the high school gymnasium with a new floor. He stated that last June the Buildings Commissioner had asked the Mayor for $12,000 to replace the defective floor, but that the work is being done now for a much smaller amount which is being taken from the fund set aside for the maintenance of school buildings. He intimated that by doing this maintenance work on other school buildings would be neglected. He asked, "Have we specifications on the work proposed to be done on the library; have bids been advertised for on this work?"

Chairman Collins of the Finance Committee, replying to Alderman Heathcote, asserted that the latter had the same opportunity to acquaint himself with the matter of the alterations on the library as had the other members of the Finance Committee and that the estimate of $19,000 was based on bids which had been received from different contractors. He stated that when the Library trustees had been denied an appropriation for this work last year, they had been virtually assured that the needed alterations would be made this year and the aldermen were honor bound to keep their word. Mr. Collins contended that this matter had been gone over carefully and the appropriation should be made at the meeting so that it could be included in the tax rate for this year. Referring to the needed addition to the Day School, Mr. Collins said the aldermen recently agreed to start building an addition to the school as soon after January 1st as will be possible. He commented that if the Board of Aldermen did as Mr. Heathcote advocated, all the money available would be spent on schools to the exclusion of much needed work in other city departments.

Alderman Murray, who was on the Board of Library Trustees prior to this year told of conferring with the Finance Committee of the aldermen last year regarding the matter of enlarging the storage space at the library and of receiving the practical assurance that the work would be done this year. Mr. Murray told of the pressing need for more stack room at the library; the books at present are piled along the corridor floors and are being damaged and deteriorated because of this.

Alderman Flitts commented that all the members of the Board had been asked to join the Buildings and Finance Committees in examining the plans for the library alterations and the figures submitted thereon, thus being given ample opportunity to obtain knowledge of the proposed work. The vote to appropriate the $19,000 was then taken and passed; Alderman Heathcote being the only member to vote in the negative. Alderman Gallagher, Holbrook, Lincoln and Prior were recorded as absent. To forestall any possible attempt on anyone's part who had voted in the affirmative to move for a reconsideration of this vote the following day, Alderman Murray immediately moved reconsideration, hoping that the vote would not be favorable. Alderman Collins seconded the motion, which was lost by a unanimous vote.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The civilized nations of the world are striving to prevent future wars. One way to bring this desire about is—abolish the Olympic games.

Twenty-five or thirty years ago yachting caps of white cloth with leather visors were quite popular. They went out of style but now they are the vogue again and many boys and young men are wearing them. The caps are practical, comfortable and not expensive.

Young Frank Wyckoff, the American hope in the sprint race at the Olympic games, gained 11 pounds on the trip over. Frank must have thought he was going to run in a fat men's race.

Chief Burke of the police department granted a boon to his subordinates this week when he issued an order permitting the men on traffic posts and motorcycles to go on duty without wearing coats; these men to dress in neat white negligee shirts. A couple of days later another order was issued by him permitting the sergeants and patrolmen to wear black alpaca coats instead of the heavy blue serge coats. With the temperature in the 90s, the permission to wear clothing adapted to such weather is highly appreciated by the men—and they not only look more comfortable, but much neater.

Traffic Officer Ray Taffe had a thermometer in his booth at Nonantum square yesterday noon that registered 122 degrees. We told Ray this thermometer was exaggerating, but he asserted that another thermometer he had placed in the booth registered the same temperature.

MISS MERRILL ENGAGED

Mrs. Lena St. Clair Merrill of Newtonville announces the engagement of her daughter, Eleanor, to Mr. Frederick Richmond Knapp of Danbury, Connecticut. Miss Merrill has just returned to her home at 269 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, from Europe, where she has been travelling since June.

Mr. Knapp is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Knapp of Danbury, Connecticut.

EDITORIAL

On account of sporadic attention paid by some of our citizens to the provisions of the law relative to primaries and elections, due to the obtaining and certification of names on the nomination papers of various candidates for office, it may be a good opportunity to express some opinion on the methods in vogue in this state in that direction. In the first place the obtaining and certification of the names of voters on nomination papers, is a waste of time. Theoretically, it was assumed that the names on these papers represented the candidates for the public for the candidacy of that particular candidate. Actually, it is an absolute farce. Some voters sign the nomination papers because they are asked to do so by friends; some because they cannot say "No" to anything and very few actually know the candidates whose candidacy they are fostering. The New Hampshire method is far superior to ours. In that state, candidates for office merely file nomination papers and pay a small fee, ranging from $100 for the higher offices to $1 for those of less importance. The amount is large enough to prevent every one from entering and small enough to enable the less wealthy candidates to qualify. Another change which might be of benefit to the voter, is to hold the primary in June instead of September. The present primary requires the work of obtaining signatures and other preliminary matters to be done in the hot test months of the year and when many of our citizens are away from home. A primary the last of June would add a substantial percentage to the number who vote and allow the preliminaries to be done at a more comfortable time of the year. We have heard two objections to the June primaries,—one that it would add to the length of the campaign before the November election and the other that the members of the Legislature might be handicapped by attendance at the state house during the circulation of nomination papers. We do not believe these are strong objections, inasmuch as the political campaign usually starts about the middle of October, and the summer months are hardly conducive to hard campaign and we feel sure that candidates who were also legislators would lose nothing by attending to their duty on Beacon hill.

For some years, we have expressed our objection to the way in which the direct primary law has worked out in this state and while we do not advocate a return to the former convention system, as a whole, we do believe that there should be a radical modification of its scope. For offices in which the average voter takes an interest, such as governor, lieutenant governor, United States senators, Congressmen, members of the state senate and house and possibly county commissioners, we believe the direct primary is of value in obtaining an expression of the popular will. For other offices, now within the scope of the direct primary, nominations should either be made by delegate convention or the office filled by appointment. We favor filling the four minor state offices—state secretary, auditor, treasurer and attorney general—by election by the Senate and House. We would have the County Commissioners appoint the minor county officials—sheriff, treasurer, register of deeds and possibly the registrar of probate. We would have the Superior court judges or the governor appoint the district attorneys and clerks of courts.

This program would lead to the adoption of the Short ballot and in our opinion would lead to a deeper interest in political affairs by the average man and woman.

As a member of the Unitarian denomination we enter an emphatic protest to the statement of Dr. Duffenbach, minister of the Newton Centre Unitarian Church, to the effect that "No Roman Catholic should be elected president of the United States." Unitarianism stands for liberal thought and action in religion, and religious matters and we deeply regret that a Newton minister takes such a narrow view of the situation. There are plenty of grounds for opposing the candidacy of Mr. Smith for president—his religious views should not be a factor.

Loss of life was narrowly averted this week, when an enclosed automobile skidded on the soft film of tar on one of our streets and toppled over on its side. It seems strange that our Street Department continues to use this form of street maintenance, dangerous to the automobilist and most annoying to pedestrians.

In view of the increase in city expenses and the lack of an Excess Deficiency account to help out on the tax rate, the rate of $27.60 just announced by the assessors is highly satisfactory. The large increase in real estate gives the reason why the rate was not considerably more.

A competent observer of the presidential campaign states that it is a case of "sunshine versus moonshine."

When I am a candidate for governor I am going to promise to refund all taxes for the previous five years.

A York man refused to subscribe for Joe Alden's paper the other day. He said he has a thermometer which supplies him with all the reading he has time for.

Dog Must Catch Fish

or Go Without Meal

The Alnus of Saghalin, off the Siberian coast, have a unique method of fishing for salmon-trout with dogs. The waters about the island are wonderfully clear and from a boat the bottom of the water is distinctly visible and innumerable salmon-trout may be seen swimming.

The Alnus, when about to fish, take with them a number of dogs. At a certain point all the men and dogs come to a halt. Then half the men and dogs move further along the water's edge, about 200 yards. At a concerted signal, the dogs are started from their respective points, and swim straight out seaward in a single file in two columns. At a cry from the Alnus, the right column wheels left and the left column wheels right, until the heads of the columns meet. Then, at another signal, all of them swim in line toward the shore.

As the dogs near the shore, increasing numbers of fish appear in the shallow water, frightened by the splashing of the advancing column of dogs, which, as soon as their feet touch bottom, pounce upon the fishes with lightning rapidity. The animals promptly bring the fish which they have seized to their masters, who cut off their heads and give each dog the head that belongs to him as his share of the catch. The dog that catches nothing gets nothing.

It is believed that this dog-drill of the Alnus is entirely unique. It is the more extraordinary when it is considered that the dogs, many of which have been captured from the forests, are still half wild.

Executive Today Not

Model of Aloofness

Mergers are many. One thing I've noticed, namely, that whenever there is an executive in one of the companies who has become favorably known to the public he is chosen as the active head of the combination. The old-fashioned type of ultra-dignified, aloof executive usually is shelved to make way for a man whose personality has favorably impressed itself upon the public. The frigid executive rarely is popular with the employees. He regards himself as the master and regards them as his servants. The more modern executive convinces his men that he regards himself simply as a co-worker for the building up of the business along lines which will benefit them all. If you aspire to come out on top in this era of mergers, strive to earn the good will of employees and the public. Mix heart with head.—B. C. Forbes, in Forbes Magazine.

Started "Afternoon Tea"

The world owes the custom of afternoon tea to an old-time duchess—Anna, wife of the seventh duke of Bedford. Before her day tea was unknown. People ate prodigious breakfasts. Luncheon was a sketch affair. A sort of picnic, with no servants waiting. There was nothing else until dinner, a huge meal which lasted two hours, after which tea was served in the drawing room.

Anna struck out a new line. She had tea and cakes in the afternoon, and all the fashionable world, including the court, copied the innovation. She took her tea at five o'clock because, to quote herself, she had a "sinking." And as a result of Anna of Bedford's "sinking," afternoon tea became a social function almost the world over.—Exchange.

Earrings in History

Among the Hebrews the use of earrings appears to have been confined to the women, but young men in Greece and Rome wore them not only as ornaments, but as amulets or charms against evil. The early Saxons had the same custom. The race for these pendant decorations was chiefly in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries, at which time jewelry of all kinds was worn in profusion. An English writer in 1532 mentions the women as being so far bewitched that "they are not ashamed to make holes in their ears, wherent they hang rings and other jewels of gold and precious stones; but this," he adds, "is not so much frequent amongst women as men."

Goes With Piano

Jean Ann Blomker, less than four years old, was in a children's day presentation at the church. Her father was trying to get her to give her recitation at home before the eventful day. "I don't remember it," Jean Ann asserted when her daddy tried to coax her to speak.

"Well, think," he said.

"I am thinking. I know it but I can't say it."

"Well, now, how does it go," he begged.

Sculpture From Brick

At a recent exhibition of a well-known sculptor who has acquired a reputation for his work in marble and clay, showed a number of pieces which attracted a great deal of attention because of their peculiar appearance. These were small figures which had been carved from a brick and at first glance they were mistaken for ancient works taken from dusty tombs of the Orient. The burnt clay seemed to lend itself to this use very satisfactorily.

ELMWOOD STREET CORNER TO BE WIDENED—SLIGHTLY

line of Centre street with said present southerly line of Elmwood street; to a point in said present southerly line of Elmwood street; thence southerly 15.24 feet over land of Arthur T. Nelson to the point of beginning; said parcel containing 29 square feet.

The above described parcel of land is shown on a plan in the office of the City Engineer of said City of Newton.

This corner has for years been regarded as dangerous, so when it was made public early last winter that the Elliot Block was to be torn down, citizens of Newton Corner started to urge that the city take advantage of the opportunity which would be presented to round off a hazardous, blind corner. At the request of Alderman Fitts of Ward 7 the matter was brought to the attention of the Public Works Committee last March and the committee started to consider the question. After conferring with the City Engineer, plans were made to take 157 square feet off the corner, allowing a maximum widening of 7 feet at the widest part of the taking. Had this plan been followed, an appreciable widening would have been effected. Definite action on this matter was delayed for several months and in the meantime the new Newton National Bank, which is being organized, started to negotiate for a lease of part of the building which is to be erected on the Elliot Block site. That part to be occupied by the bank will be at the corner of Centre and Elmwood streets.

The officials of the new bank apparently considered that it will be quite essential to the needs of the new financial project to have most of that part of the corner which the Public Works Committee had considered taking. A tentative figure of $10 per square foot had been set on the 157 feet which was to have been seized, but when the bank expressed a desire for this site, it was decided that this particular small area of land had taken a big jump in value. As a result, a compromise was agreed upon between the one of the property and the Public Works Committee, and instead of seizing 157 square feet, the acceptance of a gift of 29 square feet was recommended. This donation of 29 square feet will allow a maximum indentation of 30 inches at the corner over what existed when the Elliot Block stood there.

When this matter came before the Board of Aldermen on Wednesday night, Alderman Powers argued against the acceptance of the report of the Public Works Committee printed here. He referred to the change from the plan first proposed which would have allowed a real widening, and stated that the matter seemed to have resolved itself into making the interests of the new bank paramount to the interests of the public. He reminded the Board that 33 years ago a previous Board of Aldermen of Newton had erred in not taking the sites now occupied by the Alpine Restaurant and the Newton Trust Company building at Newton Corner, when Washington street was widened, and he suggested that the present Board profit from the lack of foresight manifested by its predecessors. He asserted that much automobile traffic passes around the corner of Centre and Elmwood streets because of three public garages and a number of automobile service shops are located on Elmwood and Brook streets, because the latter street is a one-way street and because people residing on Hunnewell Hill use Elmwood street to travel to and from the railroad station. He deprecated the arguments advanced that "blind corners are not hazardous because persons use extra caution when driving around them," or that "the large plate glass windows which it was proposed to have in the bank office at the corner would permit ample vision to motorists rounding the corner."

Alderman Earle, Chairman of the Public Works Committee, favored the acceptance of the report saying:—

"The Public Works Committee gave this matter very serious consideration and talked with the other Aldermen from Ward 7 regarding the two propositions for taking. When we first considered the matter we were of the opinion that a taking of 157 feet would be made, and representing the committee, the Chairman talked with Mr. Hastings who represented Mr. Nelson the owner. Mr. Hastings stated he paid between $7.00 and $8.00 for the lot, and of course that was the same for back or front land. He figured his front land worth at least $15.00 a foot, and stated to me that he felt Mr. Nelson might consider an offer of $10.00 per foot for the 157 feet which we desired to take. The Committee were so informed and when we returned to sign up with Mr. Hastings on that basis, we were informed that Mr. Nelson did not feel that he could consider the $10.00 figure, because since seeing the Chairman, he had made arrangements for a lease that would change his whole program. Mr. Nelson offered to give the City the 29 square feet and set his building so that it would be 30 inches back from the former corner of the old Elliot Block. The corner of the building is to be a flat corner and at either side of the corner there was to be a 7 foot plate glass window that would permit anyone approaching the corner to have a vision through these corner windows, and with the building set back on a wider sidewalk. The Committee felt that we should accept Mr. Nelson's offer, rather than to take the larger area which would not help the corner greatly, but would materially increase the cost, especially if it was necessary to go to Court to settle it."

Alderman Fitts also favored the acceptance of the committee's report, saying that while he agreed in substance with much that Alderman Powers had said that because of the large cost involved he felt that the report of the committee which knew all the circumstances and which had made a careful study of the whole situation should be accepted.

Alderman Hawkins inquired of Alderman Earle whether, or not the taking, as specified in the report of the committee will cause the curbing at the corner to be moved in from its present position so that the corner will be actually widened. Alderman Earle replied in the negative, stating that the curbing will remain where it is, that the corner will not be widened, but that the fact the new building is to set back 30 inches more than the former building will cause the corner to be safer than before.

When the vote was taken on the acceptance of the report of the Public Works Committee it was evidenced that Alderman Powers' arguments had not influenced his colleagues as his vote was the only one recorded in the negative.

GRAHAM-PAIGE ADDS TWO NEW TYPE CARS

Graham-Paige has announced the addition of two handsome bodies of unusual type, a five-passenger coupe and a two-door phaeton, to its line of four-speed models. The five-passenger coupe appears on the Graham-Paige eight and the 129-inch wheelbase six, priced respectively at $2385 and $2085. The two-door phaeton is offered on the 119-inch and 114-inch sixes at $1745 and $1435.

In addition, a seven-passenger phaeton has been added, at $2410 on the eight and $2110 on the 129-inch six. The new five-passenger coupe, while seating one more passenger than the usual car of this type, conforms to the accepted coupe lines. Its extra capacity is gained through the use of a full-width rear seat for three passengers and a divided front seat for two. Aft of the enclosure is the typical coupe deck, gracefully sweeping in its lines, concealing a spacious luggage compartment. A folding trunk rack also is provided.

The two-door phaeton is a distinct departure from the usual practice, having been designed especially for those who, though partial to the sports roadster type, desire a car having space for four passengers in any weather, instead of a rumble seat arrangement. The new body type possesses the broadness of the roadster, while affording plenty of tonneau room for four passengers.

A PECULIAR INCIDENT

While Mr. A. J. Wellington of Church street was playing in a recent golf tournament a spent ball from an adjoining fairway came in his direction just as he was about to complete a stroke with his mashie niblic. The spent ball struck his club head just as he hit his own ball, so that he hit both balls at the same instant. We have heard of a golf ball killing a bird in flight, but hitting two balls at once is some feat.

—Miss Ward studied in the public schools of Brookline and Newton and is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College. She is supported in her work by the Congregational Church of Amherst. During the past year she has been in this country on a furlough.

—Funeral services for Mrs. Nathaniel L. Haynes of Medford who died August 10th after a long illness were held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Springham on Oak street, Newton Upper Falls, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 and were conducted by Dr. G. W. Jones of the Broadway Methodist Church, Somerville, former pastor of the Newton Highlands Methodist Church. Burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

—Arthur Mansfield of 579 Centre street, Newton, while changing a tire on his car on the state highway at Wells, Maine, last Friday, was hit by a passing automobile. He suffered a fracture of the right leg and injuries to his head.

CITY AFFAIRS

Despite the fact that they had attended one meeting on Monday night, 18 of the 21 members of the Board of Aldermen assembled for the second special meeting in this torrid week to conduct affairs of the city on Wednesday night.

The only absentees were Aldermen Holbrook, Heathcote and Lincoln—the former being in Europe. Prior to the meeting of the full Board which was called to order at 8:15 by President Weeks, committee meetings had been held commencing at 5 p. m.

Among the matters considered by the Franchises and Licenses Committee were the petitions of persons for permits to build 94 private garages. No objections developed to any of these petitions.

The next matter to be given a hearing at the meeting of the full Board was the petition of Haynes & Hernandez for a permit to increase the storage capacity at their gasoline station at 104 Northham street, Newton Highlands, from 1000 to 2000 gallons and to erect two additional pumps. No one appeared to oppose this petition.

Hearings were then announced on the petitions for taking land for drains and sewers in the following streets:

The Ledges road, Ward 6, from present end of sewer easterly.

Arden road, Ward 2, from Lowell avenue to Oak Cliff road.

Edgely road, Ward 5, from Annawan road easterly.

Lewis street, Ward 1, from Holland street easterly.

Private Land, Ward 1, Westchester road to Edmunds Park, Drain.

Private Land, Rane Drain, Ward 5, Moffat road, etc. (Betterment Law.)

Wimbledon circle, Commonwealth avenue northerly to end.

No opposition developed to these petitions, nor did any person ask to be heard on them other than an auditor on one of the streets who desired to know what he would be assessed.

A fine example of neighborhood team work was exhibited when the petitions to lay out and accept, under the Betterment Law, Chapin and Stafford roads at Newton Centre were given hearings. Practically all the property owners on these two streets were in the aldermanic chamber and urged the granting of their petitions.

Residents on Chapin road voiced that old, familiar contention heard so often by the Aldermen, "Our street is the worst in Newton." This claim was also made by the residents of Stafford road. Persons residing on many of the unaccepted streets in this city cannot be blamed for holding this opinion. According to some of the Chapin road folks, their street is not only wet in winter, but also has been continually muddy this summer. One man averred that his two little boys have so many mud puddles to play in on the street that they are never dry.

Permits were given to the Edison Company for pole locations on Neholden and Albemarle roads; an auctioneer's license was granted to Phillips Byfield; an order was passed for the taking of land in connection with the acceptance of Windemere road and the list of election officers appointed by Mayor Childs was confirmed.

The Board adjourned to meet again on September 10th, but it is more than probable that at least one other special meeting will be called before that date to add to the list already called this year.

CITY HALL NEWS

Dwinal Grant of Gloucester, father of City Clerk Frank Grant, died last Saturday. He was born 77 years ago in Prospect, Maine, and for 37 years was a member of the Gloucester Fire Department. His funeral was held on Monday. The Gloucester Daily Times on August 13 printed a long obituary of Dwinal Grant praising his service to the city and his character.

Mrs. Elizabeth Derbyshire of 33 Howard street, Waltham, aunt of Miss Ethel Tucker of the Health Department, died on August 14. Her funeral service was held yesterday afternoon.

While City Messenger Lucian Davis is on his annual vacation, his position is being filled by Joseph Edwards.

DEATH OF MR. HOWES

George H. Howes, former Portland, Me., silk hat manufacturer, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Van Cortlandt Lawrence, 11 Morrill street, West Newton, Wednesday, after an illness of four years. He was in his seventy-seventh year. Mr. Howes was born in Ellsworth, Me. In his youth he went to Portland, where he lived until nine months ago, when he came to the home of his daughter. Four years ago he retired from business. Besides Mrs. Lawrence, he is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Percy P. Sprague of Cambridge, and a son, Earl, of Portland.

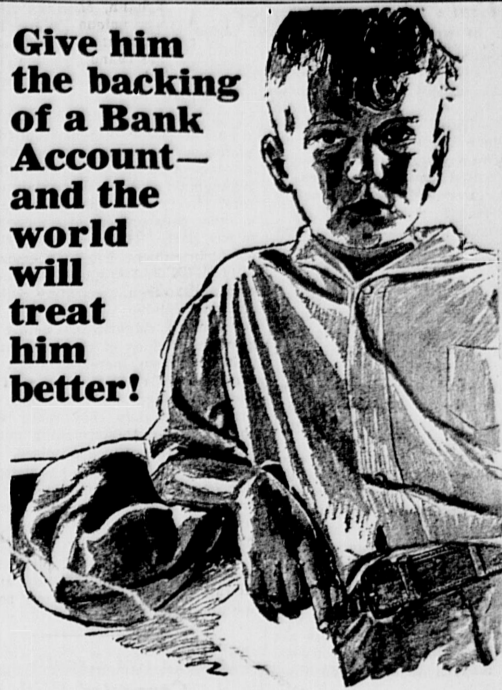

Funeral services are being held this afternoon at the Church of Christ in Portland, Me.

NEWTON MAN HURT

Arthur Mansfield of 579 Centre street, Newton, while changing a tire on his car on the state highway at Wells, Maine, last Friday, was hit by a passing automobile. He suffered a fracture of the right leg and injuries to his head.

If all the laws now on the statute books were enforced it would be necessary to call out the entire army, navy, call for volunteers and bring in two or three standing armies from Europe to help.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

New England Conference

Newton Clubwomen will be delighted to learn that the New England Conference, which is always such an inspiring and enjoyable gathering, is to be held this year not only in our own State, but in the convenient New Ocean House, Swampscott, a spot that already holds many delightful memories as the meeting place of our State Federation. They are requested to make their own reservations direct with the hotel, and should do so immediately.

Representative clubwomen of all the New England States are looking forward to this annual get-together, which comes on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 24, 25 and 26, with Massachusetts having the honor of being the hostess State. All sessions of this New England Conference of State Federations of Women's Clubs, opening Monday afternoon and closing at noon on Wednesday, are open to Club members.

Such prominent folk as Mrs. Edward MacDowell of the Peterborough, N. H. colony, founded in memory of the noted composer, and Prof. Clarence Kennedy, of Smith College, who will speak on "Opportunities for Education in Art in New England," promise unusual interest in the opening session devoted to "Fine Arts in New England."

Dallas Lore Sharpe in person will be the speaker guest at the banquet on Tuesday evening, at which Mrs. Edward A. Rice of Greenfield, retiring director of the Massachusetts Federation, will preside as toastmistress.

"New England and International Affairs" is the announced topic of Paul Harvey, of New York, whose address, on Monday evening, will be followed by a reception to the six presidents of the New England States and other distinguished guests.

Mrs. Guy E. Speare of Plymouth, N. H., retiring chairman, and Mrs. Axel A. Packard of Springfield, Mass., presiding hostess and president of the Massachusetts Federation, promise other features on the three-day program, equally alluring.

Study of New England problems from the point of view of the consumer is the leading note in the four-fold policy announced by the conference.

The fourfold policy featuring New England, determined through association with the New England Council, includes also the request that each of the 900 Women's Clubs of the New England States present a New England program on the calendar of the coming year; that a speaker on New England be introduced at each of the six State Federation meetings; and that department chairmen of the State Federation, including such activities as the American Home, Art, Literature, Conservation, and so on, give a New England aspect to their program of work.

Such a policy, endorsed by prominent women leaders of the New England States, is the result of careful investigation. A specially appointed research committee, including Mrs. Speare, Mrs. Caesar Misch of Providence, R. I., vice-chairman of the New England conference; Mrs. Otis G. Bunnell of New Haven, Conn., secretary; treasurer; Mrs. Harry H. Burnham of Biddeford, Maine; Mrs. Joseph S. Leach of Walpole, Mass.; and Mrs. O. H. Coolidge of Rutland, Vermont.

POLITICAL NOTES

From nomination papers filed last Friday at City Hall, it is evident there will be a three cornered contest for the Republican nomination for Representatives from the 4th Middlesex district comprising Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7. Representative Thompson is a candidate for re-nomination while for the vacancy created by Representative Hollis running for the Senate, Alderman William B. Baker of West Newton and Hugh S. Boyd are candidates. Daniel O'Connell is unopposed for the Democratic nomination for Representative.

Robert T. Allen of Playstead road is unopposed for the Democratic nomination for State Senator from this district.

NEWTON MEN IN POLITICS

A number of residents of this city are candidates for various political offices, according to nomination papers filed last week.

Mr. Frank L. Nagle of Newtonville is a candidate for the Republican nomination for councillor in this district. Mr. John F. May of Chestnut Hill is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor. Representative Hollis is a candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator and will be opposed by Robert T. Allen of this city on the Democratic ticket.

ROTARY CLUB

Mr. Louis D. Gibbs, a resident of Newton for many years and connected with the Public Relations Bureau of the Edison Company, was the guest and speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club held Monday at the Woodland Golf Club.

Mr. Gibbs' talk was illustrated by a series of excellent moving pictures. The first showed the method employed on broadcasting on WEEL and gave an excellent idea of President Coolidge at the recent Phillips Andover celebration. The methods adopted by the Edison Company to keep its wooden poles in good condition were also shown by the pictures.

RED CROSS LIFE SAVING TESTS

During the past week Catherine Carrick, Ruth Cobleigh, Leslie Lawrence, Walter Silverman, and Thomas Sliney have passed the Senior Life Saving Test. Margaret French, Barbara Harrington, Laura Manning, Marjorie Prescott, Ethel Sanderson, Carolyn Somers, Francis Daley, Edward Kelly, Glenn Lazar, Duncan McLein, Gordon McPhee, Warren McPhee, and Douglas Pollock have passed the Junior Life Saving Test. New classes are constantly being formed and you may enrol at Crystal Lake or at Auburndale by consulting the instructors Mr. Westgate and Miss Rickard.

SAVED FROM DROWNING

Patrick C. Degnan of 14 Winthrop avenue, Newton, while bathing at Columbus Beach, South Boston, Sunday afternoon, got beyond his depth and was rescued by the life-guards on duty at the beach. He suffered no ill results from his experience and was able to go home.

Samples and slightly irregulars make wholesale low mill prices that are real savings for quality underwear!—Advertisement.

ARCHITECT FOR FIRE STATION

Clifford S. White of 199 Harvard circle, Newtonville, was selected on Monday by Mayor Childs as the architect for the new fire station at Newton which will quarter Engine 1 and Ladder 3. The building will be erected on the site at Washington street and Centre avenue formerly occupied by the old armory building. The site of Police Station 3 will also be used—the present building to be razed.

Mr. White was born in Newton 37 years ago and has had 20 years experience in building construction. During the war he was in charge of construction work at the army bases in Boston and New Orleans. He also was engaged as owner's representative on the $28,000,000 plant erected by the American Sugar Corporation at Baltimore, Maryland. He was architect for a fire station at El Paso, Texas.

ELMWOOD STREET WIDENING

Editor, Newton Graphic:
The penny wise pound foolish idea of not widening Elmwood street is most unreasonable. This street has an increasing amount of traffic and at the present time it can be widened at a minimum cost.

Traffic to the square will eventually divide at this street and relieve the congestion caused by Cambridge and northbound traffic.

Meantime a respectable entrance to the Charles River Parkway will have been planned (?)

DAVISON, JR.—STAHL

Miss Anna Marie Stahl of 39 Bowers street, Newtonville, was married to William Franklin Davison, Jr., of Sagamore on Sunday afternoon, August 12th, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Stahl.

Rev. Robert Rae of North Congregational Church officiated. Miss Alice W. Stahl, sister of the bride was bridesmaid. Carl N. Hamilton was best man.

After a trip to New York the newlyweds will reside in Sagamore.

BAND CONCERT

The Newton Constabulary Band will hold its Annual Guest Night and Concert on the Newton Y. M. C. A. grounds, Thursday evening, August 23rd.

Director Benjamin F. White has arranged a program which will include popular and operatic music as well as trumpet solos. Director White is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music and was a well-known bandmaster during the World War, serving as Director of the 49th United States Infantry Band.

This concert is under the management of Perrin C. Newell.

EMBASSY THEATRE

Charlie Ray in "Count of Ten" is the feature photoplay attraction which will be offered for the first half of next week at the Embassy. Waltham's wonder theatre. The popular film star won new laurels in that photoplay.

For the last three days of the week, the feature attraction will be Barbara Kent in "Stop That Man," the film in which she has won great acclaim.

In addition to the feature photoplays there will be all star vaudeville bills presented at every performance. The Sunday night concerts which have been making a decided hit include a special feature photoplay as well as special vaudeville, which is engaged for that night only.

At all Embassy performances there is an organ recital on the Kigen organ by J. Leslie Cahill as well as special entertainment by the Embassy grand orchestra under the direction of Charles Hatch. The work of this orchestra has become one of the most popular Embassy features.

Many Peculiar Types of Medical "Healers"

In primitive times medicine and mysticism were closely connected. Out of priestcraft came the first physicians. The calling of physician was handed down from father to son and many superstitions arose, such as the peculiar powers ascribed to the seventh son of a seventh son.

The old idea persists in many places. Dr. Dan McKenzie, who has traced the evolution of the medicine man from the witch doctor and the priest physician, lists thirteen types of folk doctors in tribes of southern Europe, including the peasant doctor who depends for his diagnosis on the inspection of excreted fluids; women doctors who learned their art by heredity, midwives, bone setters, surgeons, tooth pullers, blacksmiths, skinner or flayers and praying men.

Of all the nations of the world, the United States has the most variegated and complete assortment of peculiar practitioners of medicine, comments Hygeia Magazine. They cure by every possible medium. Thirty-seven varieties of religious healers alone have been listed. In the midst of this bizarre assortment scientific medicine pursues its way, taking from any source that may develop an established fact.

Lucky Find
A short time ago a man purchased an old bureau merely because it closely resembled one that was in his old home when he was a boy. When his purchase arrived home, the likeness struck him as more remarkable than ever, and he wondered whether it could really be the same. Suddenly he recalled that the original bureau had a very artfully planned secret drawer. He sought for this and found it. Lying there was a couple of documents in the writing of his father, one of which contained a five-pound note—London Mail.

Comment That Made No Hit With Dorothy
When I entered the room Dorothy sat curled up in the big chair under the bridge lamp reading.
"Hello," I said.
"Hello," replied Dorothy.
I sat down.
"Your hair looks pretty under that light, Dot," I continued. "It brings out the red."
Dorothy looked up from her book. "My hair," she announced, "is not red."
"Oh, come, now," I said genially. "It is not red," reiterated Dorothy, speaking a bit louder than the space between us warranted.
"Well, if it's not red what color do you call it?" I asked.
"Brown," said Dorothy.
I laughed tolerantly and then stopped suddenly, arrested by something alarming in Dorothy's general attitude.
"Listen," said Dorothy, and there was a cool quality in her voice. "You're showing that nasty, contemptible side of your nature again and I think you had better go home. I don't like you when you're like this."—New York Evening Post.

Motion and Rest
Motion or change and identity or rest are the first and second secrets of nature: Motion and rest. The whole code of her laws may be written on the thumbnail, or the signet of a ring. The whirling bubble on the surface of a brook admits us to the secret of the mechanics of the sky. Every shell on the beach is a key to it. A little water made to rotate in a cup explains the formation of the simpler shells; the addition of matter from year to year arrives at last at the most complex forms; and yet so poor is nature with all her craft, that from the beginning to the end of the universe she has but one stuff, but one stuff with its two ends, to serve up all her dream-like variety. Compound it how she will, star, sand, fire, water, tree, man, it is still one stuff, and betrays the same properties.—Emerson.

Morley's Calculations Wrong
For many centuries the exact date of the birth of Christ was based on the calculations of Dionysius, a learned monk of Rome, of the Sixth century. Subsequent investigations, however, demonstrated that Dionysius' date is at least four years too late. The discrepancy was discovered by a comparison of the historical records of Rome with the Scripture records of the birth of Christ. According to Scripture, Christ was born at the time of a census or enumeration made in the territory of Herod, in accordance with the decree of Augustus, when Quirinius (in the Bible, Cyrenius) was exercising authority in the Roman province of Syria. This was four years earlier than the date of Dionysius.

Expert Savage Fishermen

The Sandwich Islanders and the people of the Ladrone are exceptional as savage fishermen, having no fear of fairly deep water. The latter think nothing of going fishing in 13 fathoms in light canoes called proas, rigged with one sail, in the construction of which their ancestors most likely copied the Malay pirates.

Remarkable Flight

A homing pigeon bearing the name of Ben Bolt was announced as having established a new long-distance flight record of 2,200 miles extending from Norwalk, Ohio, to Los Angeles, Calif. The bird made the trip in five days nine hours and thirty-one minutes.

Prunes and Plums

The bureau of plant industry says that the prune tree is a type of plum tree; that is, all prunes are plums but not all plums are prunes. Only those that will dry into the commercial product are prunes.

Waban

—Mrs. James Dow is spending a few days in Quebec.
—Mr. W. F. Baxter spent a few days yachting this week.
—Alden Estes hurt his hand quite badly with an ax last Tuesday.
—Miss Elizabeth Young visited her friend, Miss Marjorie Jones last Tuesday.
—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heller last week. His mother is doing nicely.
—Mrs. Goodnow of Alban road and her little son have returned from their summer vacation.
—Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Pettibone and their family have returned to Waban after their vacation.
—Mr. Lawrence W. Beebe has bought the house at 49 Devon road which he will occupy very soon.
—Mr. W. Bradford Gove was the guest of his aunt, Mrs. H. W. MacDonough at Wollaston this week.
—Mr. and Mrs. Kilburn E. Adams and their family left Wednesday for their summer home at West Falmouth.
—The friends of Mr. W. F. Lamont will be pleased to know that he is improving rapidly from his recent illness.
—Mrs. Marjorie Mason and her sons, Dick and Billy, returned from their house at Duxbury for a few days this week.
—Mr. H. H. Crowell of Beacon street has entered several horses for the Cohasset horse show to be held Saturday.
—Mrs. C. H. Gove is spending a few weeks at Duxbury, Mass., where she is the guest of her sister, Miss A. N. Henderson.
—Mr. W. Franklin Baxter, Jr., has just returned from spending a fortnight as the guest of Mr. Dunbar Holmes at Duxbury.
—Dunbar Holmes is sailing his father's yacht at Duxbury and has quite recovered from the accident in which his leg was broken.
—Mrs. Alphonsine Delano is spending a few days visiting her son, John Philip, at Camp Wentworth, Wolfeboro, New Hampshire.
—Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bloomfield of Metacomb road have returned from a week's stay at the Oak Grove House, Boothbay, Maine.
—Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Wells are rejoicing in the birth of a son. The baby was born at the Newton Hospital.
—Mr. Donald L. Charlton is touring in Maine with a group of "jitter players" composed of members of the various dramatic clubs in Newton.
—It is rumored that Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Woods have bought the Locke house at the corner of Irvington and Beacon streets and will occupy it this fall.
—Mr. John Harvell has returned to Waban for a fortnight for the purpose of having his tonsils removed. He will return to the summer home of his family in Maine.
—The Waban Playground is becoming more and more popular among the young people, and old people, too, who enjoy the well-kept tennis courts. There is woodworking for boys, sewing for girls, and games and the sandboxes for the little folk. In fact there is always something doing there under the direction of Mr. Holleran and Miss Fellows, the instructors.

—For the three weeks from August 20 through September 8, the Waban Branch Library will close at 8:30 p. m. instead of at 9 p. m. The librarian will be on vacation during this period and the assistant from the Main Library at Newton will substitute. The bus schedule necessitates the change in hours. The Branch will also open a half hour earlier in the evening at 6:30 instead of 7.
—There was a slight accident in Waban square Tuesday morning about eight o'clock. A Ford coming down the hill on Beacon street hit the rear of a truck coming out of Woodward street. The Ford was tipped over, but the driver escaped unhurt. The truck driver, however, was thrown from his seat and suffered several cuts and bruises. It is a tribute to the Street Department that all traces of the accident had been removed within twenty minutes of its happening.

When I hear a man spoken of as a good fellow I often wonder if his wife and family agree with that definition. I am not so much interested in having my sins find me out as I am in keeping The Boss from finding me out.

"READY-TO-WEAR" CLOTHING

that may be just ordinary or made by an exclusive tailor or by a celebrated modiste.

If your home is one of those before which a HOWES Service Car stops regularly, you can open the doors of your closet or wardrobe, sure of finding plenty of "ready-to-wear" clothes . . . garments that are fresh and trimly pressed . . . garments that HOWES Service keeps always "ready-to-wear".

The gentle yet thorough cleansing and the intelligent care HOWES gives your clothes lengthens the life of your best-beloved evening gowns and wraps and your pet golf togs (to say nothing of the every-day, prosaic business clothes) . . . and thus it stretches the clothes budget most amazingly.

In these days when smart, careful grooming is an essential, one needs either an enormous wardrobe . . . or a small, carefully chosen one taken care of the economical HOWES way.

"The House that Howes Built" for the convenience of Newton folks is as near you as your telephone, and Howes Service Cars are on your street twice daily for collection and delivery. Just ask to have one stop at your door.

POLICE NEWS

As a result of the practice on the part of some of the policemen in this city to tour, rather than to patrol their routes, Chief Burke has issued the following order:
"All patrolmen are hereby ordered to discontinue the use of motor-vehicles in the patrolling of their routes. Any further violation of this order will be dealt with in a summary manner. Officers going to and from their work in automobiles will park their cars in a garage, or in any place off the streets where parking is permitted. That garage or place, however, must not be on their route."
"The above, however, will in no way affect the right of an officer to commandeer an automobile when in pursuit of a criminal."
"Sergeants will see that this order is strictly enforced, and they will report to the Chief the place where each patrolman parks his car."

Alphonse C. Blair, who came from Florida via automobile, was fined $100 in the Newton court on Monday for driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested a couple of weeks ago by Patrolman Hammell, who testified he had chased Blair for a half-mile on Beacon street while the latter was speeding at 48 miles an hour. Patrolmen Allen Foley and Lieut. Seaver testified that Blair appeared to be under the influence of liquor.

As Patrolman Hayden was standing Saturday night at the corner of Chestnut street and Commonwealth avenue, West Newton, an autoist informed him that a car was approaching driven by an apparently drunken driver. The car in question dodged Hayden by being operated onto Chestnut street and back along Fuller street. Hayden commandeered an auto, caught the alleged "liquored" driver and arrested him. The man, Fred J. McKinnon of Milton, will be tried on August 20.

In the Newton court last Friday Tony Davesa of 23 Murphy court, Nonantum, was fined $5 for speeding. Others fined for speeding were—Frank Angolosante, Maynard, $5; Cornelius Coakley, Jamaica Plain, $5; Leroy Dauer, Colburn Crescent, Brookline, $25; Marion Wyman of 364 Woodward street, Waban, charged with speeding, had her case placed on file. Joseph McMullen of 66 Cook street, Newton Highlands, was fined $10 for parking his car at night without proper lights. Edward Chester of 176 Coolidge street, Brookline was fined $5 for driving at night without proper lights on his car. Tony Davesa of 23 Murphy court and Joseph Carducci of 6 Quirk court, Nonantum, each was given a suspended fine of $15 for committing assault and battery.

In court on Saturday Adelaide Morton of 2396 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, was fined $10 for keeping a barking dog—the fine being suspended until August 25.

John T. Prendergast of 55 Cummings road, Newton Centre, was in court Tuesday charged with speeding. He alleged that the policeman who brought the charge has a grudge against him. The case will be tried August 18. Prendergast testified that Patrolman Francis McDonald, the complainant had threatened to knock the former's teeth down his throat.

Robert Graham of Waltham street, West Newton, was ordered by the police on Tuesday to restrain his dog. John Bullin of Natick was fined $100 in the Newton court on Wednesday for driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested by Serg. Crowley and Patrolman Walker after they had stopped his car because it had but one headlamp lighted.

Soft Gem

Opals are not durable stones. If worn carefully in an ordinary ring, they should last indefinitely. Often they wear down and must be reset and cleaned. If given hard knocks or dropped, they are not much stronger than glass. They are classed as the softest of all gems, with possibly the exception of the oriental pearl.

Essential Truths

Ocean Swell

There is a long, smooth swell occurring along coasts where the ocean bed is not far below the surface for a long distance from the land. This is known as a land swell, and, though frequently noted in fair weather, it is due to deep-water disturbances from high winds.

Frank H. Stuart Elected Head Of Local Bank

Succeeds The Late James W. French As Pres. of Co-Operative Bank

At the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Newton Co-operative Bank, Frank H. Stuart was elected President to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of James W. French. Mr. Charles A. Fitzgerald of West Newton was elected vice-president to fill the office surrendered by Mr. Stuart.

Mr. Stuart makes the fourth president the bank has had during the forty years of its existence. The first president was Mr. Francis A. Dewson who resigned at the end of about ten years service. Vice-President Edwin W. Gay succeeded Mr. Dewson and filled the office until his death in 1902. The late Mr. French, who had been chairman of the Security Committee since the inception of the bank and one of those most active in its organization, was elected president in October 1902. He served as president until his death a few weeks ago.

Mr. Stuart, the new president, is well known in Newton having been born in this city and has lived here all his life. He is President of the T. Stuart Sons Co., General Contractor which is recognized as one of the leading construction companies of the east, which company succeeded to the business of his father, the late Timothy Stuart which was founded about 50 years ago. This firm has built many of the more important bridge structures on N. E. railroads for many years and has just completed the new one and a half million dollar Cottage Farm Bridge for the Commonwealth which makes the seventh bridge built by this firm over the Charles River. In addition to their activity in the field of bridge construction this firm employs large forces of men and equipment on building of gas mains and other work.

Mr. Stuart for the past eight years has been a director and member of the Security Committee of the Newton Co-operative Bank and for the last five years its vice-president. He is also a director of the Newton Trust Company. With his exceptional qualifications for this new position the bank is indeed fortunate in this selection.

Mr. Fitzgerald, the new vice-president, was an associate of the late president, James W. French, in his real estate business for many years. He has been a director of the Bank since 1922 and a member of the Security Committee for several years. He is also a director of the Newton Real Estate Association.

He is in charge of the Boston office of the Bank, which is located at No. 73 Tremont street.

JULY HEALTH REPORT

The report of the Health department for the month of July shows an increase in the death rate in the city as compared with the corresponding period in 1927. During the month of July there were 49 deaths and the rate per 1,000 was 10.28. Last July the total deaths were 34 and the rate 7.42.

There were no cases of infantile paralysis in the city during the month but two have been reported this month. The number of cases of chicken pox and measles showed a marked decrease over previous months, fourteen cases of measles and 23 cases of chicken pox being reported. Five cases of pulmonary tuberculosis, seven cases of whooping cough, and one case each of diphtheria, scarlet fever and lobar pneumonia were also reported.

One of the 49 deaths for the month was due to an automobile accident, one caused by an accidental fall and a third from lockjaw developed after the victim had stepped upon a nail.

CUTTING—HAYDEN

Miss Clare Olive Marion Hayden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Loring Hayden of Newtonville, was married at noon on Wednesday to Theodore Jerome Cutting of Culver, Indiana, at St. John's Episcopal Church. Mr. and Mrs. Cutting will reside in Culver, Indiana where he is an instructor in English.

READ FUND PICNIC

The annual Read Fund Picnic will be held at the Burr Playground tomorrow afternoon. There will be the usual program of sports and entertainment.

Monster Barbecue At Auburndale Tomorrow

State Dept. of American Legion Plans Gala Day

Plans are completed for the monster barbecue and field day at Norumbega Park tomorrow under the auspices of the American Legion, Massachusetts department. There will be something doing from ten o'clock in the morning to eleven o'clock in the evening. The program includes a doll carriage parade at 2:15 for children under 10 years of age and at the same hour a junior masquerade for children under fourteen. At 2:45 track and field events will be staged. The women's events, featuring the National and New England champions, will be held. There will be a 50-yard dash and also an invitation 50-yard dash. The invitation field events consist of 8-b. shot put, running high jump, and baseball throw.

At 3:45 one of the newest and most unique competitions will be held. This will be a rolling pin throwing contest for women for the New England championship.

At 4 o'clock the other track events will be held. At this time there will be a 50-yard dash open to Legion members and a 50-yard dash open to auxiliary members. There will also be a 50-yard dash and a sack race open to boys.

At half past four there will be a swimming and fancy diving exhibition by New England women champions.

A long list of special features are also offered. In addition to the monster barbecue luncheon there will be a band concert by the band of the H. M. S. "Australia" and an evening parade and anti-aircraft night demonstration by the First Corps of Cadets.

Mrs. G. F. Hennrikus of 34 Summer street, Newton Centre, is in charge of entries from Newton in the girls doll carriage parade. She can be reached at Centre Newton 0569-M.

The committee in charge of the affair includes the following: Chairman, Dr. William H. Griffin; Secretary, Edward F. O'Dowd; Treasurer, Ralph M. Eastman.

Sports Committee—Ben Levias, Chairman; William J. Blake, John Schifano, Features Committee—Oscar C. Bohlin, Chairman; Dr. A. E. Austin, Paul J. Norton, Gabriel M. Stern, Refreshments Committee—Dr. James J. Regan, Chairman; George A. Bodfish, Tickets Committee—Dennis H. Haverty, Chairman; James W. Lally, Publicity Committee—Morris Fineberg, Chairman; Harold P. Reddin.

OFFICER AIDS PHYSICIAN

Motorcycle officer Walter Hartford of the Newton police force earned the merited appreciation of a Boston physician the other evening a letter to Chief of Police Burke this week revealed. The Newton officer was instrumental in bringing about the prompt arrival of the physician, Dr. H. Allan Novack of 489 Beacon street, Boston, to the home of a patient in this city. The letter follows:

"Will you kindly thank in my name the night police officer who rides on motorcycle number six? Late last night he led me to the very home of one of my patients recently moved to your section. The roads were practically unknown to me and without his very kind assistance I would have floundered about for an hour.

"My patient was seriously ill and my early arrival meant a great deal."

BENEFIT SHOP

While the Benefit Shop will be closed during August donations will be welcome as usual, and collections may be arranged by calling Mrs. C. P. Cark, C. N. 1236.

REAL ESTATE SALESMAN

FOR NEWTONVILLE OFFICE. The man we want must be familiar with the real estate situation in the Newtons. Perhaps he is in the field right now under some other banner; is dissatisfied with conditions and wishes to make a new contract; if you are a producer capable of earning not less than $5000 a year, have a positive personality, sales instinct and executive ability, YOU'RE THE MAN!

Hundreds Of Children Take Part In Successful Pageant At Newton Centre

"Dance Of The Nations" In Ten Episodes and Finale Is First Affair Of Its Kind In History Of Newton Playgrounds—Ends Summer Season

Several hundreds of spectators witnessed with much approval the pageant "Dance of the Nations" on the Newton Centre playground Wednesday afternoon, which was portrayed by nearly five hundred children of the city from fourteen playgrounds. It was the first time in the history of the Newton playgrounds that a pageant marked the culmination of the summer season. Although some dramatic features were always heretofore included in the annual play festival these were rather distinguished by games, carnivals, athletic meets, and exhibition of handicrafts. The games and sports were not neglected this year.

In fact more teams participated in the various schedules of baseball for midget, junior and senior boys and for junior and senior girls than in former years. The same was true of fast-ball, schlag-ball, quoits, dodge ball, bean bag games and others forms of sports. The district championships have all been settled and by Saturday all the City championships in these games as well as in folk dancing will have been determined. The usual medals and prizes will be awarded this afternoon when the Boyd, Hawthorn, Victory and Stearns playgrounds will exhibit their handicraft and compete in dancing at the Stearns playground.

Waban, Thompsonville, Highlands, Upper Falls, Burr, Cabot and Newton Centre playgrounds will hold their exhibitions on the Newton Centre playground while Auburndale, Lower Falls, West Newton, Eden Avenue and Horace Mann will exhibit and dance at the Eden Avenue playground, West Newton.

The pageant, under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Allen Weston, who was engaged to put features together to make up the entire story, was a colorful and picturesque affair. The setting which took advantage of the natural beauty of the majestic willow trees, brooks and sloping lawns which enhance the playground at Newton Centre, was ideal for such an affair. The sloping bank in front of the recreation building gave the public a natural grandstand from which the spectacle could be advantageously viewed. The pageant itself, which was so well done that continued enthusiastic applause was given the participants by the interested audience of parents and children, the pageant itself words cannot describe its beauty, color and appeal.

From the opening episode to the grande finale, during which time the dances and scenes of various nations were portrayed, it drew and held attention. All of the episodes were well staged and beautifully executed. A pretty little solo dance by Miss Hoban and a flirtation dance ended the episode. Children from the Auburndale playground participated in this scene.

England was the next scene which opened with the entrance of a stage coach which met a group of hunters before a tavern. The sound of trumpets and a procession heralded the entrance of the King, Marjorie McDermott, and the Queen, Florence Madden. Dances followed, one of which was a solo dance by little Miss Jean Budding of Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, were part of the reception to the royal throne. A minut by the King and Queen, a Maypole dance and a toast by the hunters closed the episode which was portrayed by children from the Cabot playground.

Russia, the third episode, was staged by the children of the Eden Avenue and Horace Mann playgrounds with the entrance of Russian merchants into the trading market opening the scene. Colorful Russian dancers, peddlars, Cossacks, Reds, and a toe-dance were included. The latter was given by Miss Claire Brouillette and her poise and agility were truly remarkable for a child of her years. Then came the drama of violence and finally peace.

Japan, with the setting laid in a Japanese garden of cherry blossoms, was a beautiful scene. A tea-party with the revelers falling off to sleep, and their reawakening by tormenting boys, the entrance of the Queen, played by Miss Helene Herlihy, carried in upon a rickshaw and a Japanese song by Miss Margaret Conway and the various quaint Oriental dances and costumes completed the episode. The real cherry orchard, real little Japanese maidens, colored balls and tiny tots made this an outstanding pretty scene. Newton Highlands and Lower Falls playgrounds were represented in this episode.

From Japan to Spain was but a moment's work. Here the episode opened with a garland dance and a tango dance. Miss Mary McDonald danced a solo dance and at its conclusion the Spanish bull fighter was announced. He was brought in upon the shoulders of two Spaniards, followed by the bull. Waving his red cloak at the creature the fight was on. The bull charged and finally the torreador became the victor to the acclaim of the spectators. Proud and graceful señoritas displayed confidence in their seniors as the episode ended with a garland dance. Children from the Boyd playground portrayed Spain.

Italy was one of the outstanding episodes of the afternoon. It was staged by children from the Hawthorn, Victory and Stearns playgrounds with many little bambinos and proud mothers and fathers. An Italian street scene, with the picturesque street lamps, furnished the setting. Miss Nina Coletti entered and entertained the audience with a dance, while the mothers looked on. The entrance of a hand-organ man followed by the woman and children dancing followed. A tarantella dance by one of the mothers and a tambourine dance by the Misses Lillian Swartz and Emily DeWolfe held the interest of the spectators. The lamp lighter attended his duties and the hand-organ man returned to lead the dancers away.

Ireland, with children in appropriate costumes was the next scene. Patricia, played by Miss Ann Lombardo, and Michael, played by Miss Bernadette Sweat, were the first characters to appear. They were followed by children who implored Patricia to dance. The entrance of an old man, Miss Grayce O'Hara, and an old woman, Miss Rena Spain, who were not too old, although apparently twisted and bent with rheumatics, to dance an Irish jig and solos by Miss Mary Cronin, "Mother Machree," and "Wild Irish Rose," were nicely rendered. A reel dance by all and the arrival of a picturesque little dog-cart all added enchantment to the scene which was staged by children from the Upper Falls playground.

The blue-eyed Scottish lassies and highlanders, representing Scotland, from the Thompsonville playground, gave the next episode. The bag-pipers, Scottish songs, highland flings and a sword dance were the features. Miss Jean Tennant was the solo dancer in the fling and Miss Mildred Hoban the sword dancer.

Next came Holland with dikes, canals, boats and pretty maidens in wooden shoes. There was the drama of the leaking dike and Peter and his sweetheart portrayed by children from the Newton Centre playground. Peter, Miss Gladys Burns, entered, saw the leaking dike, and placing his finger in the hole, fell asleep from weariness. The arrival of workmen in a boat and their discovery of Peter followed. Peter's sweetheart, Miss Elizabeth Richardson, and the quaint little Dutch children entered to cheer the hero. Peter, Dutch dances with the dancers in their Hollandish costumes and a dance by Peter and his sweetheart were other features of the scene.

The tenth episode was America, which was artistically portrayed by the children of the Burr playground. The scene was an Indian camp with the red-skinned getting ready to go on the war path. This was followed by a Puritan prayer meeting and the entrance of the Indians. Bloodshed and trouble were averted through the Providence of God and the Indians and Pilgrims sat together in joyful Thanksgiving. The peace pipe, dances and scenery were appropriate to the scene portrayed.

The grande finale was a splendid tableau of all the nations making up One Nation—indivisible with Liberty and Justice for all. The tableau represented Liberty and Justice, portrayed respectively by Mrs. Florence Kreuger and Mrs. Marcella Maguire. George Washington, played by Hugh P. Garrity, Abraham Lincoln, John B. Dacey, scouts, warriors and nurses. Uncle Sam, John J. Lane, led the nations in the pledge to the flag of the United States of America and all the nations joyfully waved their American flags, joining in the tumultuous acclaim of "America the Beautiful." The pageant closed with the singing of "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner" and the exit of the children in a Yankee Doodle dance.

No words can express the attractiveness of the costumes and scenery. Japan, Ireland, Scotland, Italy, Spain, Russia, Holland and all the other nations were dressed in costumes appropriate to the country which the wearers represented. The scenery was realistically done, the Japanese tea garden and cherry blossoms, the Dutch dike and windmill, the Irish country scene, the Indian camp and Puritan prayer meeting.

Local Girl Accepts Position At Bridgton

Miss Louise Paul Of Newton Centre To Be Teacher Coach

Miss Louise Paul of Newton Centre has accepted a position at Bridgton Academy in Bridgton, Maine, as an instructor in Latin and as coach for the girls' athletics. Miss Paul is the daughter of Mr. John C. Paul, for many years principal of the Mason School in Newton Centre, and she comes most highly recommended for the position. She is a graduate of the Newton High School and from Mt. Holyoke College. While in college she specialized in languages, especially Latin, and was most prominent in athletics. She plays basketball, baseball and tennis and has specialized in folk and aesthetic dancing. Also she is an expert swimmer doing much of this in college as well as at Naples, Maine, where her family have a cottage on Long Lake.

It is the intention to make much more of athletics for the girls at Bridgton Academy and Miss Paul was selected as the right candidate for the position after a long search. It is the plan to introduce field hockey this fall, playing some of the surrounding schools. During the winter months to have basketball as usual, while in the spring baseball will be the outdoor sport. This should be a great factor in the life of the girls at Bridgton Academy during the coming year.

NAME HEALTH OFFICER MONDAY

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen will be held next Monday evening at which time a temporary agent for the Board of Health will be appointed to serve in the absence of Agent Fred Russell who has been ill for some time. The appointment was authorized at the special meeting of the board last week when funds were appropriated for the purpose.

Mr. Russell suffered a shock some time ago and since that time the other employees of the department have been performing his duties but the pressure of work has resulted in the decision to name a temporary officer to serve until Mr. Russell is able to resume his duties.

FIRE RECORD

Saturday afternoon Box 714 was rung in for a fire in a Packard sedan on Centre street. The blaze in the car, which was owned by Henry F. DeRoche of Bridgton was caused from a short circuit.

Friday apparatus responded to a still alarm for a fire in a Wills St. Claire roadster on Centre street, Newton Centre, owned by Jack Werner of Revere. The fire was caused from back-firing of the engine.

Early Saturday morning Patrolman Carey of the police department extinguished a small fire in the awning in front of the store at 1174 Walnut street, Newton Highlands occupied by J. W. McMullen.

Dist. Att. Bushnell Among 200 New Voters

Registration Of New Voters Being Held At City Hall

The Registrars of Voters began their daily sessions at City Hall on Wednesday of this week and reported the registering of ninety-nine new voters. That mark was exceeded yesterday when one hundred and one enrolled their names on the voting lists. Among yesterday's registrants was District Attorney Robert T. Bushnell, who took up his residence in Waban some months ago. The registrars will be in session from 8:30 A. M. until 5 P. M. today, Monday and Tuesday, and opportunity will be given to citizens to register tomorrow morning from 8:30 to 12 noon at City Hall. As registration for the State Primaries closes on Wednesday, August 29th, the session on that day will begin at 8:30 in the morning and remain open until 10 o'clock at night. On Monday residents of Wards 1 and 7 will be able to register at the Newton Library between the hours of 7:30 and 9 in the evening. Tuesday evening a session will be held for the South Side of the city in the Mason School at Newton Centre between the same hours. Other sessions for the registration of new voters before the State Election in November will be held at City Hall from September 20th to October 17 daily between 8:30 A. M. and 5 P. M. except Saturdays when the sessions will close at noon.

RAID AT NONANTUM

The Newton liquor squad raided the property at 40 Dalby street, Nonantum, Monday afternoon and arrested Mrs. Lucia Antonellis, fifty-four years old and a widow, on the charge of making an illegal sale of liquor. She was released upon bail immediately after being booked at headquarters and the date of her trial was set for Tuesday, August 28th.

She was alleged to have sold a bottle of liquor to one of the members of the liquor squad. A short time after the alleged sale the squad raided her home and found forty-six gallons of lager beer in quart and pint bottles. The cache was seized as was a capping machine and five feet of hose.

Sergeants Moran and Leehan led the raid and were assisted by Patrolmen Gaquin, F. Feeley, Walker and Barr.

NEW PATROLMEN APPOINTED

Chief Bernard F. Burke of the Newton police department announced the appointment of two reserve officers to the permanent force and of two new men to the reserve force to fill vacancies in the department. Reserve officers J. B. Connors of 242 River street, West Newton and C. J. Dwyer of 54 Bridges avenue, Newtonville, were made permanent officers and David L. Barr of 192 Tremont street, Newton, and David J. Cummings of 667 Washington street, Newtonville, were placed on the reserve force.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

LEAGUE RACE ENDS TUESDAY

Tuesday night marks the end of the round robin series in the City of Newton Twilight League when West Newton and Upper Falls engage in the final game at the West Newton Common. And it will probably be this game that will finally determine the two teams which are to engage in the best two of a three game series for the city championship and the third leg on the Graphic Cup. This series will be begun the last of next week, including Wednesday night's game the standing shows the Saxony Mills team enjoying a lead of a half a game over West Newton and the latter the same distance ahead of Upper Falls, in third place. The Highlands and Lower Falls teams have no chance to get into the play-off series but they may make trouble for the other aspirants. The race has been the closest in the three years the league has been in existence, a large part of which no doubt is due to the fact that each team is restricted in the matter of drawing players from the section which it represents.

Saxony Mills has three more games to play, one each with West Newton, Lower Falls, and the Highlands and must take two of the three to make sure of getting into the play-off. Last Friday night West Newton and Saxony played an 8 to 8 tie game and Wednesday night played another tie 5 to 5 with Lower Falls at Victory Field. It is possible that some of these tie games may not be played off as the season will end next Tuesday whether all games have been played or not and should it rain on enough days to prevent the scheduled games they will not be staged and the two teams in the lead Tuesday night will meet each other in the championship series.

West Newton has but two games to play, one each with Upper Falls and Saxony and must win them both to be sure of a place in the series although Saxony should drop two games Upper one, the Leary outfit can afford to drop a game and still make a tie of the race.

Upper Falls has three games to play and having lost four already cannot drop any without losing the chance to battle either Saxony or West Newton for the championship honors. In the past three weeks the Upper Falls outfit has come from the cellar to a chance at the bunting and if it can continue its spurt will make it hot for West Newton or Saxony. With the Highlands and Lower Falls teams participating in four of the six games it looks as though these two outfits will have something to say about the final outcome. Although they both have no chance either can make the path to the title series hot for the first three teams by upsetting them. It would not be surprising to see such a thing happen. Wednesday night Lower Falls held Saxony to a 5 to 5 tie before darkness settled down and if they can do that they might outscore the Gilligan outfit in the play-off Monday night. Highland also has a chance at the Saxony and at West Newton and should it play heads-up ball things would not look any too bright for either. Next Tuesday will tell the tale, however, as in all probability it will be the West Newton-Upper Falls game that will settle the question as to who will meet Saxony in the coming series.

SPORT NOTES

Spain's Fielding Features

Osterville and Chatham-Harwich, two of the teams in the Cape Cod league played three games this week with the former coming out on top in every contest by the narrow margin of one run. The fielding of Frank Spain, former Newton high athlete, was a feature of the series, and it is more than possible that his playing held the Osterville team from the plate several times. In the series Spain made but one error in the score of times the ball came his way and the one slip had no bearing on the outcome of the game. At bat the Newton high star is meeting with little success, having been dropped to seventh in the batting order. But taking into consideration the fact that he is facing pitchers with several years experience in college, twilight league, and semi-pro circles it is no reflection on his ability. In the field he can hold his own with the best in the league and given time he will probably find his batting eye again.

The Newton athlete accepted eight chances in the game on Wednesday with Hyannis which Chatham won 10 to 3. He also collected one single in his five trips to the plate.

Dr. Crouch Sixth

Dr. Paul Crouch of the Newton Centre Archers and defending champion in the York rounds at the annual tournament of the National archery Association at the Westchester Biltmore Club in Rye, N. Y., this week was in sixth place at the end of the shooting on Wednesday. During the first day's shooting Howard Hill of Miami, Florida, broke the record mark for distance formerly held by Dr. Crouch. The Southerner's arrow fell 340 yards, 1 foot, 6 inches from his point of stance for the new record.

Johnson Out At Newport

Henry L. Johnson, Jr., of Waban was eliminated from the 12th annual invitation tourney at Newport, Rhode Island, on Monday in the third round by Berkeley Bell of Austin, Texas. The scores were 6-2, 6-4. Malcolm Hill won his first round match from J. Kazanjian by similar scores.

The Waban pair advanced to the third round by defeating John R. Hawkes of Australia and Watson Washburn of New York when the latter retired after taking the first set at 8-6 and leading in the second set 5-3. John Gow of Newton, playing with H. H. Hyde of Hartford, Conn., in a third round match were eliminated by Cummings and Moon, 6-3, 6-4.

Guilford Equals Record

Jesse Guilford of Woodland, playing with Joe Norton, in an exhibition foursome against Fred Wright, Jr., of Auburndale and Billy MacPhail, on the course at the Rockport Country Club equalled the course record of 71. Guilford and Norton defeated their opponents 4 and 3. The Woodlander made the first nine in 36 and the second in 35 to tie the mark held by three others, Francis Outmet, Russell Hale, the Rockport club pro, and James Giler of the Rockport Club. Norton got a 75, being out in 37 and coming in with a 38.

Hill And Johnson Advance

Malcolm T. Hill, Harvard, and Henry L. Johnson, Dartmouth, both Waban youths, corner, and corner national junior doubles champions, won their first round match in the national doubles at Forest Hills on Tuesday, eliminating Fred Baggs and Eugene MacAuliffe of New York in straight sets, 6-2, 8-6. Hill was put out of the national singles on Tuesday in a second round match by Alan Herrington, Pacific coast star, in a three set struggle. The local youth won the first set at 6-4 but dropped the next two, 4-6, 5-7.

Several Local Entries

There are several local entries in the annual state of Maine tennis championships tournaments at Squirrel Island this week. In the first round R. S. Greene of Newton Centre defeated Edward H. Donnell of West Newton, 6-1, 6-4; George Mandell of Waban defeated Dr. J. C. Greene of Newton Centre 6-1, 6-3; and J. E. Greene of Newton Centre was eliminated by Draper Hill of Boston, 4-6, 6-4. George Mandell won his second round match on Tuesday by defeating S. Warlan of Wiscasset, 5-7, 6-4, 6-0.

Mandell met defeat in the third round at the hands of Frank L. Luce, Jr., a seeded player who won in straight sets 6-2, 6-1. C. C. Parker of Newton, another seeded player, was upset by A. B. Sheridan of New Rochelle in the second round 6-1, 6-1. Sheridan had previously put out another seeded player and in his third match of the day in the third round he put out the defending champion, Amos Wilder of North Conway, N. H. In doubles on Wednesday Mandell, playing with Herbert White was put out in the first round while J. E. Greene and R. S. Greene, of Newton won their first round match from J. Bun and L. Francisco, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

Play continued yesterday with the local entries faring as follows: In the men's doubles George Mandell and Frank Seamans of Newton were eliminated in a second round match by Henry Culley of California and A. B. Sheridan, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2. In the women's singles Miss Beatrice Ripley of Newton was eliminated in the third round by Miss Pettigill of Winchester by scores of 4-6, 6-3, 6-1. In the semi-final round Miss M. L. Hutchins of Newton was put out by Miss Holten of Swampscott, 7-5, 6-4. In the women's doubles the Misses Virginia and Elizabeth Kusterer were the only local survivors at the end of the second round. Mrs. Mandell and Miss White, and the Misses Hutchins, were put out in the second round. In the men's consolation singles Christopher Stanwood, Dr. J. C. Greene and E. H. Bonnell were all put out in the first round. Frank Seamans and J. C. Greene defaulted to their opponents.

Lynch And Crosby Near Top

Joe Lynch of Albemarle and Perley Crosby of Woodland were two of the four survivors for the semi-final brackets of the chief division in the annual open golf tournament at Woodland at the close of yesterday's play. Lynch will play Welch of Scarborough this morning while Crosby meets Howard of Scarborough. Scoring honors for yesterday went to the sturdy young Albemarle who won his match from Healey of Longmeadow on the 13th green. Lynch was three better than even fours for the 13 holes and had he played the bye holes would have made a mark for future golfers to shoot at. Par for the remainder of the holes would have given him a 68. In his second round match Jimmy Hutchinson of Brae Burn was Lynch's victim on the 14th hole. Although Welch is the favorite in this morning's match if Lynch continues the brand of golf he displayed yesterday it may be the case of another upset.

POLICE NEWS

Nicholas Lupo, sixteen, was found guilty of larceny in the Newton court last Friday morning and given an indefinite sentence in the Shirley School for Boys by Judge Bacon. Lupo, according to the police, had been preying upon the pigeon coops of members of the Homing Pigeon Club of Newton for the past six months and selling the birds at fairly high prices. He apparently found little difficulty in disposing of a total of 35 birds to other fanciers. The authorities estimate the value of his loot at more than a thousand dollars. As a telegraph messenger his visits to various homes gave him the opportunity to plan his depredations. An apparent abundance of money was what led to his detection. A short time before his arrest he showed his friends a roll of more than two hundred dollars and the resulting talk among them reached the ears of the police. Investigation and arrest of Lupo followed.

Frank P. Mahoney of Prescott street, Newtonville, was found not guilty of driving while under the influence of liquor in court last Friday morning. On charges of speeding and improper registration he paid fines totaling $30. Testimony for the government by Lieut. Hughes of the Newton force, contradicting that of the arresting officer, resulted in being acquitted of the liquor charge.

Walter J. Mayer, 27, of Roslindale was fined $10 in court Saturday morning on a charge of speeding. He was arrested on a warrant by Motorcycle Officer Robert Turner.

Martin Conway of 734 Boylston street, Newton Centre, reported to the police on Saturday that the several automobile tires and tubes that were stolen from him two weeks ago and which he reported, had been returned to him. Evidently the thief's conscience made him rest uneasy.

In court Saturday morning Thomas S. Crockett appealed fines totalling $110 on charges of drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. The case of Joseph Carr who was arrested at the same time and charged with illegal transportation of liquor, was placed on file. The pair were arrested recently in an automobile driven by Crockett, who was fined $100 for drunken driving and $10 for drunkenness.

Alice Y. Clarke of Weston was fined $10 on a charge of speeding after she was permitted to plead nolo.

Harry T. Finn of Brighton reported to the police Sunday afternoon that while he was bathing in Crystal Lake a thief stole a white gold Waltham wrist watch and a sum of money from his trousers pocket which he had left in his automobile parked on Rogers street.

RUNAWAY RETURNS MINUS MONEY
Edward J. DeLorenzo, Jr., the eleven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. DeLorenzo of 47 Ashmont avenue, Newtonville, ran away from his home Saturday afternoon and was not found until Monday morning in Charlestown. When the boy was found, however, he was minus the sum of $200 which amount he had taken with him. He told a story of having been robbed by a man whom he met at a lodging house where he spent Saturday night.

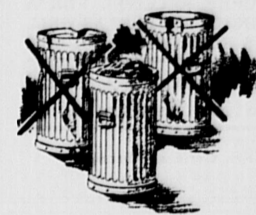

Monday morning he was picked up by a man who witnessed his plight as he was walking the streets of Charlestown alone, tired and hungry. The man took him in his automobile directly to his home. There he told the story of the theft of the money and the police of Charlestown and Newton were notified of the loss. Later in the day he was taken back to Charlestown by the police in an effort to locate the thief.

A short time after the boy disappeared Saturday afternoon his mother notified the Newton police of the matter. It was later reported that the boy was seen walking on Watertown street toward Watertown, carrying a

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC EXPANDS

Sixty years ago the New England Conservatory of Music was rounding out its first year in rented quarters. This autumn an enlarged and expanded Conservatory will re-open. In the brief space of two generations this music school, brought by its founder, Dr. Eben Tourjee, from Providence to Boston, has become the foremost American "university of the musical arts." The newly added extension to the building, which was constructed and first occupied in 1902, will add to the Conservatory's prestige as incomparably the best housed and best equipped music school in the United States.

Upwards of 100,000 graduates and other former students will learn with interest and enthusiasm that this Mater Musica as it has been called, is now entering upon a new and notable period of its history. Its first years were spent as a tenant of the old Music Hall in Temple Place. Then, as the school grew, the directors sought what was assumed to be a permanent home in the South End of Boston, taking over the former Franklin Square Hotel. There the institution continued for about 20 years, or until both the building and location were outgrown. It was desired to be nearer the music centre of the city, and in September, 1902, the big school was moved to its own newly designed building at the corner of Huntington Avenue and Gainsborough street, one block distant from Symphony Hall and in close proximity to many other artistic and educational activities of the American Athens.

The students in the year of removal numbered 1733. The school in its present situation has doubled that attendance and confirmed its reputation as a national and international institution bringing ambitious young people to Boston from every part of the world.

To provide for the certainty of expansion the Conservatory several years ago acquired the land between its building at the corner of Huntington Avenue and Gainsborough street. In 1926 it was decided to build an extension, and during the following winter a campaign was conducted among people especially interested in music, including the alumni, for a fund of $400,000. During the school year 1927-28 construction was in progress under the direction of the successors of the firm of architects who designed the first unit. The opening of the school year 1928-29 will find the school occupying the completed structure.

The faculty of about 100 members shows few changes. New names among the pianoforte teachers are those of Marjorie Church and Donald Smith. Miss Church, who studied at the Conservatory several years, has had a successful career as concert pianist in this country and abroad. Mr. Smith, who was graduated in 1922, has taught as a junior teacher since graduation and made a record of success with his pupils.

The place of Arthur Holy, long the Conservatory's harp teacher, who has returned to Vienna to live, will be taken by Bernhard Zighiera, also a harp player of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

GEORGE M. STONE

The funeral of George M. Stone of Newton Highlands, was held at his late home 1355 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, Sunday afternoon, August the nineteenth at three o'clock.

The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful, the interment was in the family lot at Newton Cemetery.

The deceased who was in his seventy-eight year, was a lifelong resident of Newton, being a descendant of the Stone family of pioneer days.

He had been in failing health for some time and passed away August sixteenth. Death followed a stroke suffered a few days previous.

Up to two years ago Mr. Stone was employed as a salesman for the firm of Blake & Ribham, Boston, Mass.

Throughout his life he was keenly interested in music, in his early years he was a member of the choir of the First Church in Newton, Congregational. After which he served as organist and choir master at Saint Paul's Church, Newton Highlands.

In his later years and until health failed he sang with the choir at the Church of the Redeemer, Chestnut Hill. For many years he belonged to the Cecilia Society of Boston.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Warren B. Robbins of Hudson, Mass., and a brother Melzer F. H. Stone of Roxbury.

MICHAEL E. THORNTON

Mr. Michael E. Thornton of 63 Cummings road, Newton Centre, passed away at his late home on Saturday, August eighteenth. He was in his seventy-seventh year and had been a resident of Newton for over 50 years.

He was in the employ of the city for the greater part of that time being forced to retire on account of illness brought on during the epidemic of influenza from which he had never fully recovered.

His funeral took place on Tuesday morning with a solemn high mass at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Newton Centre at nine o'clock. Interment was in Holyhood Cemetery.

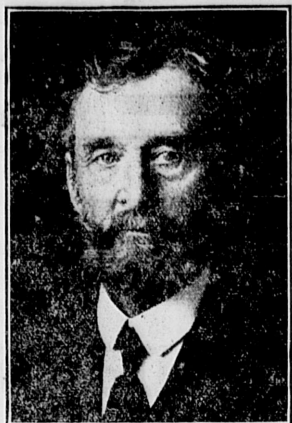

Mr. Thornton is survived by his widow, one son and three daughters.

MRS. ANNIE M. BARTLETT

Mrs. Annie M. Bartlett, widow of the late Charles W. Bartlett, died in Boston on Monday, August twentieth in her sixty-sixth year. Mrs. Bartlett before her marriage was Annie M. White of a well known Acushnet and New Bedford family. She was for many years official stenographer of the Superior Court. She married Charles W. Bartlett a well known Boston attorney in 1897 and they lived on Mill street, Newtonville, for many years until the death of Mr. Bartlett in 1917. Since then she has lived in Brookline most of the time.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Newton Cemetery Chapel at a quarter after three o'clock.

Recent Deaths

FRANK BARTON REED

Frank Barton Reed, one of Newton's well known and beloved citizens passed away Monday, August 20th at his home on 35 Ware road, Auburndale. He was born in Albion, Maine, January 1, 1847, coming to Newton Lower Falls, when he was 20 years of age living there for 26 years and then moving to Auburndale where he has lived until his death.

He was a member of the Newton Fire Department in the early days when the old hand apparatus was in use, filling the position of clerk and foreman of the old hand tub used in Newton Lower Falls.

He was employed by the Boston and Albany Railroad for 35 years being pensioned from active service at the age of 70. He was an active member of Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, Auburndale, and a charter member of Newton Lodge No. 276, I. O. O. F. West Newton, being the holder of the 25 year Veteran Service button presented by them.

He also was a Life Member of Dalhousie Lodge, A. F. & A. M. at Newtonville and two years ago received his 50 year medal presented by the Grand Lodge for 50 years of faithful service.

The funeral services were held in the Methodist Episcopal Church at Auburndale, conducted by Dalhousie Lodge of Masons with his pastor Rev. Maurice L. Bullock officiating as chaplain on Wednesday, August 22. Mrs. Franklin E. Leland, organist of the church played appropriate selections. Interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery at Newton Lower Falls.

He is survived by his widow Olivia A. Reed and two sons, Arthur J. Reed of Marshfield, Mass., and Oscar S. Reed of 35 Ware road, Auburndale.

EDWARD J. COX

The death of Edward Jones Cox of 64 Brook avenue, Newtonville, occurred suddenly at his home Saturday evening. He had been as active as usual until that afternoon when he became ill while away from home with his wife and daughter. He was 70 years old and had resided in Newtonville about 34 years.

He was a native of Dedham and a graduate of the Bridgewater State Normal School, class of 1880. He first taught in West Dedham, later in Haverhill, Norwell, Cohasset and Sudbury. He organized and was the first principal of the high schools of Norwell and Sudbury. In the latter town he was superintendent of schools. From 1895 until his retirement in 1917 he was submaster in the Lowell School in Jamaica Plain. There he organized one of the first grammar school orchestras in the State.

Mr. Cox was a past president of the Boston Chapter, S. A. R., and one of the organizers of the former Newton Chapter, S. A. R. He was an active member of the Massachusetts Society, of which he had been historian and delegate to fourteen national congresses held in different parts of the country. He was a member of the Dalhousie Lodge of Masons of Newtonville, the Newton Royal Arch Chapter of the same fraternity and the Newton Club. He attended the Newton Universalist Church and soon after coming to Newtonville to live, he was for a time clerk of the parish. He was an early member of the Albemarle Golf Club and about twenty years ago he served as treasurer of the club and chairman of the grounds committee. By his personal activity he helped the club through a critical period and later was made an honorary member in recognition of this service.

He was also a member of the Boston City Club, the Society of Mayflower Descendants, the Copley Society, the Field and Forest Club and the Dickens Fellowship. He helped organize and was for several years secretary of the Association of New England Cox Families. He was historian of the Descendants of Isaac Colburn, Jr.

HENRY F. CATE

UNDERTAKER

1261 Washington St., West Newton

Established 1861

He was the author of a Colburn family genealogy and of several papers on historical and Masonic subjects. For the past few years it had been Mr. Cox's custom to call at the United States Veterans' Hospital in West Roxbury several afternoons a week and take a group of disabled veterans for a motor ride. Some of these men are unable to enjoy other forms of recreation and looked forward to his coming because he made the rides so interesting to them.

Mr. Cox had a friendly spirit and took especial pleasure in the organizations to which he belonged which brought people together in a happy social way. He enjoyed listening to good music and taking part in it. He played the violin and later took up several other instruments, playing a great deal at home and in his various school orchestras. He sang for a time in the choir at Grace Church, Newton, and for several years in the quartette of the Royal Arcanum at Newtonville. Later he played the bass violin in the orchestra of Dr. Park's at West Newton.

He was an earnest student of American history, particularly of the Revolutionary period. He was called upon to read his papers on historical subjects before patriotic and Masonic organizations in various parts of the State. He had delivered his "Historical Presentation of American Patriotic Music" before the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., at West Newton, more recently before the Old Ironsides Society, Children of the American Revolution, of Newtonville, of which he was made an honorary member, and before many clubs and schools.

In 1883 Mr. Cox married Isabella Louise Nye of Norwell. She survives him, as do a daughter, Eleanor L. Cox; two sons, Marshall W., and John E. Cox; a grandson, Russell Nye Cox, all of Newtonville, and a brother, Charles M. Cox of Melrose Highlands. The funeral service was held Tuesday at 2:15 p. m. at his late home. The Reverend S. W. Anthony of Brighton, a personal friend of Mr. Cox, officiating. At the opening of the service the Largo was played by Miss Lillian R. West of Newtonville and at the close the Beethoven funeral march, which was a favorite of the deceased. There were many beautiful floral tributes. The burial was at Norwell that afternoon.

JOHN PURCELL

Mr. John Purcell, a retired sergeant of the Newton police force died last Saturday morning at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Brighton, after an illness of about one month.

Mr. Purcell was in his seventy-fourth year. He was born in Needham but had lived the greater part of his life in Newton, where he served on the police force as patrolman and sergeant until his retirement.

Funeral services were held on Monday morning from his late home, 11 Lincoln place, West Newton, and a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton at nine o'clock. Rev. Wm. J. Dyer being celebrant, Rev. M. J. Danahy, deacon and Rev. Edward Roman, subdeacon. Rev. Fr. Dolan of Boston College was in the sanctuary. The bearers were Joseph B. Lyons, Frank Feeley, Dennis Murphy, Francis Maloney, Charles Cody and Daniel Cleary, all members of the Newton police force. A detail of policemen in charge of Sergeant Thomas F. Leehan, and motorcycle officers Turner and Lawrence O'Donnell, acted as escort to the funeral cortege from the house to the church and also from the church to St. Mary's Cemetery, Needham, where the prayers at the grave were read by Rev. M. J. Danahy.

Mr. Purcell was a member of Newton Lodge of Elks and on Sunday evening at his late home the Elks memorial service was conducted by Exalted Ruler Frank Wilcox. The services at the church were largely attended, the city being represented by Mayor Edwin O. Childs, and the police force by Acting Chief, Capt. James Mullen. Many brother officers were also present among whom were Ex-Lieut. Robert Harrison and Ex-Sergeants Thomas Clay and Richard Kyte, retired members of the Newton police department.

Mr. Purcell was survived by his widow, Mrs. Margaret F., and three sons, Fred W., Ernest F. and Philip, and two daughters, Mrs. Mary Farrell and Mrs. Helen Tounsgant, also by one sister, Mrs. Katherine Burnett of Wellesley.

MARY C. TOLMAN

Services were held for Mary C. Tolman, widow of James P. Tolman, in West Newton at her home, 84 Highland street, on Monday, August 20th. The Reverend Paul S. Phalen conducted the services and interment was at Forest Hills.

Mrs. Tolman was born January 4th, 1852, in Cumberland, Rhode Island. She was of Quaker ancestry and the daughter of Samuel B. Chace and Elizabeth Buffum Chace, both prominent anti-slavery workers.

She was a resident of West Newton for forty-eight years and was throughout that time a member of the Unitarian Church and for twenty years President of its Woman's Alliance.

As a member of the Social Service Council of Unitarian Women, she became actively interested in the Norfolk House Centre in Roxbury and served on its board for fifteen years. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Albert P. Carter of Newtonville, and two sons, Professor Richard C. Tolman of Pasadena, California, and Professor Edward C. Tolman of Berkeley, California.

SCALDS TO DEATH

Sunday afternoon Rudolf J. Arduino, the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Arduino of 342 Langley road, Newton Centre, died at the Newton Hospital, to which he was removed after he had fallen into a tub of boiling water at his home. Medical Examiner George L. West stated that death was due to accidental burns. Funeral services for the boy were held Tuesday afternoon and burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, Roxbury.

THE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

That among the numerous snakes found in this part of New England only the timber rattlesnake and the copperhead are poisonous was one of the many interesting facts learned in the study of reptiles by the Field Group of young naturalists who spent Tuesday at Mt. Chickatawut under the leadership of Miss Hilda Karns of the Children's Museum of Boston.

The final trip of the summer series at the Children's Museum will be taken on Tuesday, August 28, to Nahant Beach for the study of rocky shore life, according to the announcement by Miss Mildred E. Manter, Director. No place in Boston other than the Children's Museum offers a similar free course of nature study for children, and the Field Trips this summer have attracted a number of seriously interested boys and girls, Miss Manter said. Specimens have been collected each week and laboratory meetings held for identification and for further study.

Closing the tri-weekly series of illustrated talks the programs are announced for the coming weeks are: Friday, August 24, "The Bog People," a nature talk; Monday, August 27, "A Story Glimpse of Mexico"; Wednesday, August 29, "When Birds Fly South," a book talk, and Friday, August 31, at 3 p. m., "A 'What Is It' Contest?"

EMBASSY THEATRE

Jack Holt and Betty Compson, two stars of the first magnitude in filmland, will be seen together in the famous military drama, "Court Martial," for the first three days of next week at the Embassy, Waltham's Wonder theatre. The photoplay shows many intimate glimpses of military life.

For the second part of the week, the film version of Jack London's famous story, "The Haunted Ship," will be presented with Dorothy Sebastian and Montague Love in the leading roles.

For Sunday night a special feature photoplay has been secured and this together with all-star vaudeville produced for Sunday night only will make up the feature program for that day.

At all Embassy performances there is a special organ recital by J. Leslie Cahill, and popular music by the Embassy Grand orchestra under the direction of Charles Hatch.

Beginning Labor Day and continuing throughout the season there will be three performances on Saturday, and beginning Sunday, September 9, there will be two complete performances every Sunday night.

The moonlight promenade along the waterfalls when free cold drinks and cigarettes are furnished to patrons continues to be a big feature of the Embassy.

LEAVES ESTATE TO WIDOW

The will of the late C. P. Rockwell, of Newton, prominent Boston automobile man, was filed in Middlesex probate court this week and according to the terms of the will his widow, Amelia Stillman Rockwell, is left the entire estate. No inventory or estimate accompanies the will. Mrs. Rockwell and the Old Colony Trust Co., are named as executors.

Y. M. C. A.

Soon after the intensive Fiftieth Anniversary Campaign closed in May, a Committee was appointed by President Fuller to make plans for the repairs on the building and grounds. This Committee consists of Walter H. Barker, Chairman; Frederic D. Fuller and Walter C. Wrye, ex officio; J. W. Blaisdell, C. D. Kepner, Fred A. Hawkins and the General Secretary, H. W. Bascom. Under their direction a new fence has been erected around the athletic field; the lobby, assembly hall, and many of the dormitory rooms have been re-decorated; a new skylight has been placed over the swimming pool, and new roofs built over the assembly hall, swimming pool, and gymnasium. Pin setters have been installed and the bowling alleys put in first class shape.

All this work has been carried on up to last Wednesday without interfering with the regular work of the Association, but it has been necessary to close the pool while it is being painted and repaired. The pool will probably be available for the use of members by Monday, August 27th.

The Committee is also considering plans for the erection of some additional handball and squash courts and enlarging the driveway, and the possible addition of another tennis court. Plans are also being developed for the remodeling of the locker and shower rooms.

A letter has been received by the General Secretary from the Superintendent of the City Mission Society thanking all those who have made possible the outings for the underprivileged boys from Boston who have been coming during July and the first part of August every Thursday to the Newton Y. M. C. A. The General Secretary wishes also to thank those Newton citizens who have so kindly contributed money to make these outings possible.

On Monday, August 27th, will occur the annual banquet at Camp Frank A. Day, at which time prizes and special emblems will be awarded to the boys making the best showing during the camp season.

Boys spending the last three weeks at camp are: E. Mills, B. Marion, W. Lyon, R. Benzaquin, N. McCutcheon, S. Burnell, H. Black, H. Smith, R. McDowney, E. Greenwood, R. Macomber, G. Young, F. C. Kelley and R. Kelley.

ENTERTAIN CRIPPLED CHILDREN

The children at the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children have been entertained the past few weeks by several organizations and private individuals. Entertainments were provided by the Newton Lodge of Elks and the Kiwanis Club recently. Last Saturday afternoon the children were treated to a power boat ride around the Charles River Basin. Buses and candy were provided for them by Mr. William E. Pike of Islington road, Auburndale, and the trip around the Basin was made on the launch owned by J. J. Phelan, a Boston banker.

Monday the Newton Business Associates defrayed the expenses of a trip to Wollaston where the children were guests at the beautiful King estate. A good time and refreshments were provided.

Plans are now under way to provide the children with an all-day outing at Norumbega Park.

REID—NEWHALL

Miss Mary Newhall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Newhall of 15 Sterling street, West Newton, was married to Thorburn Reid, Jr., of New York City, on Monday afternoon, August twentieth. The ceremony, which took place at four o'clock, was performed by Rev. Daniel Bliss of Monson, Mass., in the garden of Elmwood, the Cambridge estate famous as the James Russell Lowell homestead.

Miss Beatrice Newhall, sister of the bride, of West Newton, was the maid of honor. Mr. Graeme Reid, brother of the groom, of New York City, was the best man.

The bride's gown was of beige lace with hat to match. The maid of honor wore flowered chiffon and a black hat.

A reception was held for the immediate families following the ceremony. The music consisted of violin, cello and piano.

After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Reid will reside in New York City where they will be at home after September first.

The groom is a graduate of Yale, class of 1922.

RUMMELL—DEMOY

A very beautiful wedding took place on Sunday afternoon at 4:30 p. m. at St. Bernard's Church, when Miss Mildred C. Demoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Demoy of 16 Wiswall road, West Newton, became the bride of Mr. Clifford A. Rummell of Mount Ida terrace, Newton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. Dwyer, pastor of the church. Rev. Father Fitzgerald of the Church of Our Lady of the Presentation of Brighton was also present at the altar.

The bride's gown was white satin trimmed with duchess and rose point lace, with a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and gardenias.

The bridesmaid was Miss Alice Demoy, a sister of the bride, who wore a gown of orchid georgette with a large picture hat to match and carried a bouquet of Jack roses. The best man was John F. Hynes of Allston.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The couple were assisted in receiving by the brides' parents and the grooms' mother, Mrs. Young, of Northampton, Mass.

After an extended honeymoon to the White Mountains and Canada, they will be at home after October 1st at their new home in Brookline.

The altar was attractively decorated with palms and gladioli. Paul Ryan of Newton rendered Gounod's Ave Maria.

GRAY—SNOW

In the St. John's Episcopal Church at Duxbury yesterday afternoon Miss Eleanor R. Snow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gage Snow of Newton Centre became the bride of John Lathrop Gray, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Gray of "Rick Ridge," Greenwich. The Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, D.D., rector of Trinity Church, Newton Centre, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Norman van T. Lewis of Germantown, Pa.

Mrs. Horton L. Chandler of Concord,

N. H., a sister of the bride was the matron of honor and the maid of honor was Miss Frances Flood of Brookline. The other attendants were Mrs. Lawrence Black, Miss Cecilia Gray, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Joseph Lund of Boston and Duxbury.

The bride's gown was of ivory satin trimmed with duchesse lace and her veil was of old rose point lace and tulle. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The matron of honor and maid of honor wore orchid-color chiffon and felt hats to match. The bridesmaids' costumes were of blue chiffon and they wore blue felt hats. All of the attendants carried bouquets of gladioli.

Dwight Barnum of Boston was Mr. Gray's best man and the ushers were Messrs. Edward H. Bailey of Arlington, John B. Buttrick and Henry M. Keyes of Concord, Franklin Q. Brown of Dobbs Ferry, Stephen M. Etnier of Philadelphia, brother-in-law of the groom, Haldane J. Huckel and Stuart C. Squires, 3rd, of Greenwich, Robert A. Magowan of New York, Lloyd Van Der Horst of Baltimore and William B. Snow, a brother of the bride. Mr. Gray gave his bachelor dinner at the Harvard Club of Boston on Tuesday evening.

The bride, who is a graduate of the Brimmer School, attended Smith College and Miss Amy Sacker's School of Design. She is a member of the Junior League of Boston. The groom, a graduate of Middlesex school, was graduated from Harvard with the class of 1927. He belongs to Phi Eta, Hasty Fudding clubs and the Harvard Club of New York.

SUCCESSFUL PAGEANT

prayer meeting, were some of the outstanding examples.

To give any adequate recognition to actors and everyone of the numerous directors and children would be a tremendous task. If it was attempted there would undoubtedly be some participants, who are just as much deserving of recognition as anyone at all, who would be overlooked. Suffice it to say that it was a performance of which Newton is proud and for which the spectators were exceedingly grateful. It showed to a great degree the work being accomplished by the playground department of the city, through its superintendent, Mr. Ernest Herrmann and his many directors and their assistants, in teaching the little folk of the city, dancing, handicraft and other recreation. It showed an almost endless task of detail work in making preparations for the pageant, and every scene. All who participated and all who had the slightest part in making it a success deserve thanks and hearty approval. It may be interesting information to the public to know that the crepe paper dresses and costumes worn by the children were made under the supervision of the different playground directors with the aid of several of mothers. The adults costumes, being more difficult and of more substantial material were rented for the occasion.

However, besides making special mention of Mrs. Margaret Hills, the supervisor of dancing, and Mrs. Ruth Allen Weston, who so skillfully and artistically arranged the episodes, it is fitting to recognize the efforts of the Supervisors of Handicraft, Miss Gladys Forbush and Mr. B. Q. Belongia and their assistants, Miss O'Hearn and Mr. Colton. Miss Forbush was in charge of the costumes and Mr. Belongia in charge of the scenery which was made by the boys and the different playgrounds. The efficient labor force under direction of Foreman Saunders and his assistant, Mr. Nazzaro, added a great deal to the success of the affair.

A splendid treat was given to all the participants after the performance through the generosity of the Newton Lodge of Elks, and the Kiwanis Club, who sent a check for one hundred dollars to be used for refreshments for all who helped to make the performance a success.

While it is impossible to give the names of all the participants some recognition should be made of the following:

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

In the passing of James V. French another one of the few remaining "old timers" of this city has gone. Few men had a more important influence in the development of Newton than had Mr. French. Although born in Boston, he was but a small boy when his family moved to this city. Educated in the Newton schools, he knew Newton thoroughly and his reminiscences of this place in the days of yore were both interesting and amusing. He had unbounded confidence in the future of Newton and nearly a half-century ago started to invest heavily in business properties in different villages of the city. Time proved his judgment to have been correct.

The late John Purcell, whose death occurred last week, was one of the most efficient policemen ever in the service of Newton, and—as might be expected, his zeal in the performance of his duties, caused him to be rather unpopular with those who transgressed the laws. He was the first traffic-officer at Nonantum Square.

Former Alderman Thomas Lyons of West Newton is for Al Smith, and he does not care who knows it. In fact, Tom has hit on a unique way to publicize his fact. In front of the dwelling where Mr. Lyons resides on Auburn street, near Commonwealth avenue, has stood for over a half-century a hitching-post in the figure of a diminutive Ethiopian garbed as a jockey. Prior to the advent of automobiles this replica of a smiling little colored boy served as an emergency-brake for horses which might be parked in front of this residence. Throughout the Newtons were hundreds of other hitching posts, some artistic in design, others severely plain. Most of these were removed years ago. But, Tom Lyons, sentimentally inclined, caused the little statue to be retained in its location, where, as passing autoists observed it, the old hitching post brought back memories of thrilling drives behind swift steeds or pleasant journeys behind the family horse. Memories of days when it was a question of a "single" or a "double" hitch rather than a "6" or an "8." When one chose between a buggy, a carryall or a democrat wagon rather than between a coupe, a sedan or a roadster. When those who discussed means of travel talked of the Wilkes or Hambletonian strains, of whether roans, sorrels, bays, chestnuts, grays, blacks, whites or buckskins had the most stamina. There was no need of DUCO in those days—at least on the equines.

When Tom Lyons conceived his idea of using the old hitching post to hold an Al Smith sign some weeks ago, the figure was colored in sombre black from top to bottom. Its owner decided that in his new capacity, the inanimate little picaninny should be more appropriately garbed. So, he engaged an expert painter to repaint the little jockey who is assisting in boosting the Democratic candidate for President is arrayed as a regular jockey should be. Bright colors adorn the cap, blouse and pants of the figure and the person who passes it without seeing it, must indeed have poor eyesight.

We listened to Herbert Hoover's speech over the radio; we listened to Alfred E. Smith's speech over the radio. It is wonderful when one stops to think of it, to be able to sit comfortably in one's home listening to the voice of a Presidential candidate talking in California or in New York, realizing that millions of people are all over the United States and in distant parts of the world are also listening. But, there is not the old thrill that came when one squeezed himself into a crowded hall to hear some celebrated candidate for National political office speak. Old timers here like to recall the day that James G. Blaine spoke in the yard adjoining the railroad station at Newton Corner; others, not so old remember the tremendous gatherings that filled Boston Common, to see if they could not get near enough to hear William Jennings Bryan and Theodore Roosevelt. There were no electrical broadcasting devices in those days to carry a speaker's voice to the remote edges of a large crowd. The rallies in the old days were preceded by torch-light parades in which the marchers were largely youths who still had several years to go before they would have arrived at the voting age, but who enthusiastically carried a small, smoking kerosene torches or pounded vigorously, if not skillfully, on a snare drum. The drum-corps of the old torch-light battalions was the sought after assignment and frequently the drummers were selected not so much because of their skill as because of the influence they could obtain. Prominent, and supposedly wealthy Republicans were asked by the young organizers of the torchlight battalions to contribute so that the uniforms might be purchased for the members of the battalions. Among the more popular styles in uniforms were those of Turkish zouaves, sailors, hussars and minaretts; the latter two costing much more than the first two. The kind of uniform decided upon depended largely on the amount of money raised. Most of the uniforms were of cotton, cheaply dyed and if worn in one or two heavy rains the colors in these uniforms ran deplorably. To add to the glamour of the torchlight parades, mounted platoons would be organized. These "cavalry" squadrons would have as mounts horses owned by local storekeepers, contractors and ice dealers. A small rider on a heavy draft horse did not cut an imposing figure; neither did an inexperienced, timid rider on a skittish nag—and the many were the caustic comments cast at such unfortunate horses whose desire to be conspicuous overcame their better judgment.

The hot weather which prevailed this month emphasized the fact that something should be done to end the nuisance of oozy tar on Newton's streets whenever a real hot spell comes. Finish on automobiles is ruined, clothes are damaged and tar is tracked into houses to despoil rugs. Newton's streets have borne the reputation of being far superior to those of the ordinary city. On the whole, they are superior today to those of the ordinary city. The sticky, tarry condition prevalent on Newton's streets each summer is the result of efforts made to keep Newton's streets have been badly damaged by tire chains, particularly by the huge single cross chains used on big trucks, hot tarville is poured on the damaged places. These hot patches are used because the cold patches of tar (or tarvia) used in most cities and towns will not stay put. While the method of applying hot patches produces better results, so far as the street surfaces are concerned, it also causes the disagreeable, damaging condition of sticky streets peculiar to this city when the temperature soars up to the 90 mark.

The Street Department of Newton has gained a deserved reputation for efficiency. But, it cannot accomplish the impossible. It cannot keep Newton's principal streets in the best of condition to withstand the ravages of heavy automobile traffic by using tar treated macadamized surfacing. Other cities have been surfacing their principal highways with concrete. Newton has not. We again offer the suggestion, made a couple of years ago, that—enough money should be appropriated by the City of Newton each year to allow the construction of several miles of modern concrete street surfaces. The longer Newton waits to modernize its streets, the greater the expense will be when such an improvement must be made.

Our idea of "nothing at all" is to hear an individual who habitually has a flask of synthetic gin or denatured alcohol whiskey in his possession—or handy, fervently a cue for the retention of the 18th Amendment.

The matter of the large increase in the cost of compulsory insurance is one of the burning questions of the day, particularly for owners of the smaller cars. The proposal of Registrar Parker that "individuals who have been in accidents be made bear the burden of the increased cost of insurance" rather than penalize communities is one that has much merit and which meets with the approval, not only of Gov. Fuller, but of many of our citizens. There is a complication to this suggestion which was brought home forcefully to us within a few days. Driving along a main artery in a nearby town a small girl darted off the sidewalk in front of the car not 10 feet ahead of us. Although driving slowly it would have been impossible to stop the car before hitting and probably running over the 7 year old child. We swerved sharply to the left and the youngster ran into the rear right mudguard receiving, fortunately, only minor injuries. Luckily for us, witnesses who had seen the affair came up and volunteered their names to us. But, supposing, as has happened to others in hundreds of cases, that we had not been fortunate enough to have had witnesses to testify as to our lack of responsibility for the accident and that unscrupulous persons would appear to testify against us and accuse us of culpability—what then? Not only might we have lost our license, but even though we did not, we would be severely penalized by being compelled to pay higher insurance premiums. The report of Commissioner Monk shows that fraud by conspirators in spurious damage claims has been wide-spread. Frequently a person involved in an automobile accident, although blameless, is adjudged to be culpable because he was not fortunate enough to have witnesses to testify for him.

Any person driving along a trunk line highway in this state can testify as to the hazards occasioned by the big busses which whirl by enroute to New York, New Hampshire or some other place. These huge vehicles must travel at speeds of 50 miles an hour and more to maintain their schedules. Some of their operators are careful, or as careful as they can be under the conditions and do not crowd the ordinary automobiles which they pass. Other operators of the big express busses graze the sides of the smaller cars and then—by cutting in sharply force the small cars off the road. There is not more reason why the big inter-state busses should be allowed to hurtle along our highways than the ordinary automobiles which should be permitted to use the highways for their express trains. In view of the many bad accidents caused by speeding busses and of the many complaints made against them, why are they permitted by the State authorities to be recklessly operated on public highways?

Europe's Art Objects
Really Second Rate?

The treasury of Europe, that vast litter of the work of their grandfathers, which the posters preach, is a miscellaneous and unequal as a jack daws' swag in the hollow tree, and no one knows the good from the bad, declares William Bolitho in Vanity Fair.

"All artistic criticism," declares the teutonclat, "is as dead in Europe as was scientific in the Middle ages. The same Frenchman who insists that you do the dusty journey to wind-swept Versailles to worship the monstrous palace, where even the impenetrable stolidity of an architect who could make over three hundred yards of bays in exact repetition cannot disguise the ill-judged megalomania of the monarch who insisted that his father's hunting box should be built into the center of the largest palace in the world, will rush you with a smile past the magnificent and serene Eiffel tower.

"The grand staircase of the Chateau of Blois is struck on and superfluous; the greatest German cathedral, Cologne, is nakedly, appallingly out of scale, too short for its height, and instead of that lovely Gothic sensation of soaring to the heavens, gives the spectator a dull pain between the eyes; detailed mention of all instances that clutter my memory would not exhaust the case." Whether good or bad, he concludes, anything built before 1840 is revered as being artistic.

Immunity to Poisons
Not Yet Understood

One of the most fascinating chapters in animal poisons is the subject of natural immunity to the fact that some animals are immune to the poisons of others and remain unharmed if stung or bitten by the poisonous animals, whereas all other sorts of beasts succumb.

A case in point is that of desert animals, which are unharmed by a scorpion's sting. The desert fox, the kangaroo rat and other inhabitants of deserts where scorpions abound are in this happy position. Their cousins, living far away from the desert, would at once be seriously injured by a scorpion's sting, whereas the desert breeds remain unharmed. It is to be supposed that in the far distant past, before the desert animals had this complete immunity to scorpion venom, those which were stung and could not resist died, leaving no offspring. Their luckier brothers, who happened to have a harder constitution, survived and left behind them a resistant race of descendants.—The Forum.

Start Is Not All

The winner of a long race is usually the one who does not start with a spurt. Some use up their stock of enthusiasm in compiling their New Year resolutions, and have nothing left for the harder task of living up to them. The right way to live the year is not to start off with flying colors and then peter out, but to make it progressive, each day better than its predecessor, each month an improvement on the last.—Exchange.

Song Popular Among Rovers of Caribbean

The sea-song of the pirates with its weird refrain of "Fifteen men on the dead man's chest" which Robert Louis Stevenson introduces into his famous book "Treasure Island" is in part at least authentic and was sung by the pirates and buccaneers who roved the Caribbean sea in the late Seventeenth and early Eighteenth centuries. Dead Man's Chest was an island of the Virgin group, which has been christened "Dead Chest Island," thereby losing much of its piratical flavor. To this island the pirates used to repair, to careen their ships, stretch their legs drink rum, sing their buccaneering songs and make merry after their own fashion. Curiously enough there is a little church on the Chilean coast which is obviously built of ship's timbers. Recently a traveler of an inquiring mind, reasoning that if the church were built of ship's timbers, the bell would also come from a ship, determined to investigate. A climb among the rafters did not reveal the name of the ship, as he had hoped, but around the edge of the bell were inscribed the words: "Fifteen men on the dead man's chest." All that the clergyman knew was that the church bell came from a ship that was wrecked in 1722, which was just the time when the West Indies were getting hot for pirates, and many were being driven into the Pacific.

Odd Forms of Prayer for Parching Fields

Many countries hold odd ceremonies to end drought. The Chinese take their dragon god around in a procession, and beat him soundly when he ignores their prayers for rain. The Bantus of Delagoa bay sing songs at their dried-up wells and make mothers who have twins carry the children around the parched fields. In Greece they send children marching round all the wells and springs, under the lead ership of a girl adorned with flowers who sings at each halting place. The same custom prevails in Yugo-Slavia, where a little girl called the Dodota is clothed from head to foot in grass and flowers, and leads her companions through their native village, stopping at each house, so that the house wife may pour a pail of water over her, and singing the good news that the rain has come, even though it is usually far away.

"Traveling Stones"

"Traveling stones," from the size of a pea to 6 inches in diameter, are found in Nevada. When distributed upon a floor or other level surface within 2 or 3 feet of one another they immediately began to travel onward toward a common center, and there lie huddled like a clutch of eggs in a nest.

A single stone, removed to a distance of 3½ feet, upon being released, at once started with a wonderful and somewhat comical celerity to join its fellows.

These queer stones are found in a region that is comparatively level and little more than bare rock. Scattered over this barren region are little basins, from a few feet to a rod or two in diameter, and it is in the bottom of these that the rolling stones are found.

The cause for the strange conduct of these stones is doubtless to be found in the material of which they are composed, which appears to be lodestone or magnetic iron ore.

Natural Query

The stroller happened to be present one evening when a young hopeful of six years returned home after a hard day's play and received a quarter left by his grandmother, who had called to see him, but who, fearing the night air, as grandmothers do, had had to leave before his return.

The boy had heard grown persons talk about "when the old lady is gone Junior will get quite a sum," and always when she came to see him she had placed a dime in the chubby spendthrift hand.

He stood with the quarter almost covering his palm, then looking up with great mysterious eyes, asked in awed tones:

"Is she died?"—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Work of Volta Bureau

Volta was a famous French electrician. The Volta prize, created by Napoleon, was conferred by France upon Dr. Alexander Graham Bell for the invention of the telephone. Doctor Bell took this money, 50,000 francs, added to it a large sum received from other electrical experiments, and founded the Volta bureau, "for the increase and diffusion of knowledge relating to the deaf." This bureau prints and distributes every year hundreds of leaflets containing helpful information for the hard of hearing, or for the parents of deaf children.

"Chowder" Really French

Chowders, although considered American, did not originate in America. They are supposed to have been made first by the fisher folk of Brittany. For them, everyone in the village brought their contribution for the dish and added it to the common caldron and the name "chowder" comes from the name of their caldron, which was chaudiere." Our early colonists learned this dish from the French and so chowders are associated with the history of New England and are thus linked with America in general.

"How I Won My Home"

"I AM a mason; 32 years old, married and have 4 kiddies. I began to save at 20. It took me eleven and a half years to save enough to buy my home. It was a big bargain, because I had cash to pay for it."

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin C. Goetz have left Waban for a vacation of a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. James Patterson and family have returned from their summer vacation.

Mr. Russell, manager of the A. and P. store, returned this week from his vacation.

Paul Bessey participated in the show of the North Scituate Riding Club held last week.

Mrs. C. H. Gove will return Sunday from Duxbury where she has been spending a few weeks.

Miss Elizabeth Snow has returned from a stay at Megansett as the guest of Miss Marjorie Cady.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Perkins and their family have returned from Virginia where they spent a few weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. R. N. Mason and their family have returned from Marblehead where they were attending the races.

Mr. Harry Tilton has bought an estate at Kingston where he expects to live with his family. His Waban home is in the market.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Jones of Beacon street and their family leave Friday for Shore Island, on Long Island Sound in New York, where they will spend a few weeks.

Mr. Donald L. Charlton returns this week-end from Maine, where he has been with a group of so-called "jittery-players," among whom were members of various Newton dramatic societies.

Waban was the only village not represented at the exhibition of the Newton playground departments. This is due to the comparatively small number of children making use of the facilities provided. Trained supervisors are provided by the city and it is hoped that more parents will send their children to the playground. Special care is taken of the little ones. At present the enrollment is about thirty.

The residents of Thurston road are improving and repairing their street by filling in and rolling down the soil. They expect to have a regular road which will be one of the best private ways in the city. Everyone is co-operating to get the work done immediately.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Mowbray Truax on Indiana terrace was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday evening when their daughter Marion Lees and Carl Frederick Cedergren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl J. Cedergren of 64 Walnut street, Watertown, became united in matrimony by Dr. William Shaw. The bride's only attendant was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Harold Dexter Truax of Newton Highlands. The house was decorated with gladioli and other summer flowers. A reception followed immediately after the ceremony. After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Cedergren will reside on Elliot street.

BAND CONCERT

The Newton Constabulary Band held its annual guest night and band concert on the Newton Y. M. C. A. grounds last night. A program including popular and operatic music as well as trumpet solos was arranged by Director Benjamin F. White, who is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music. He was a well-known bandmaster during the World War, having served as director of the 49th U. S. Infantry band. Last night's concert was under the management of Perrin C. Newell.

The Newton Constabulary band played at the open air concert and dance series recently given by the Newton Circle, Inc., on Newton playgrounds and furnished the music at the pageant at the Newton Centre playground Wednesday afternoon.

World Travel Made Easy for Scholars

Round the world in five minutes! Across oceans, rivers, prairies, mountains; on the way, cities, temples and cathedrals to be visited. All can be done in the grounds of the Chateau de Bures, a school near Paris. The "world" occupies sixteen acres and its essential parts are of real earth and water. The Atlantic ocean is three feet deep.

A crossing from Paris to New York can be made in a few seconds on a tiny steamship. Once aboard the ship the schoolboy becomes explorer. From New York he sails to the West Indies, down the coast of South America, round Cape Horn and across the Pacific. A journey eastwards from Paris takes him overland through Europe. Like Gulliver in Lilliput, he can stride over mountain ranges and rivers, pay a passing visit to Australia, and, by a series of hops, skips and jumps over the South Sea Islands, reach Siberia, China or India. A flying leap over the Alps, a visit to Leningrad or Cannes and in a minute or two he is back again on the shores of the Atlantic.

In addition to models of cities and temples, an attempt has been made to create the atmosphere of the East. A tree marks the entrance to a sunken garden "way down east." A flight of steps leads to temples, statues, and symbols of Buddhism.

Barber Probably Is Still Looking It Up

Shakespeare and Chestina, a colored cook in a North side home, had one thing in common, a wide scope of language. The difference was that when the English bard used one of the thousands of words in his vocabulary he had a slight knowledge of its denotation; when Chestina used a word she did so because it sounded well, and impressed both herself and others with her learning.

One day she overheard the "missus" talking with a friend. At one point in the conversation, one of them used the term "indecorous," giving it the preferred pronunciation with the accent on the third syllable. Chestina promptly appropriated it to her own use.

The next day she was telling the "missus" about her previous night's engagement with the new barber around the corner, who, it seems, had tried to entertain her with a story slightly "off color."

"Well, what did you say to him? Did you get angry?" the amused employer asked.

"What I mean, I got mad! And what's more, I told him he sure was indecorous," she answered.—Indianapolis News.

How "30" Originated

Charles Payne Smith recently gave the following information as to the origin of "30," as used by newspapermen and telegraphers, in the Typographical Journal: The first press as graphical, organized in Civil war times, was composed largely of morning papers published near the eastern seaboard. Each paper sent into the central office items of local interest, which were then edited and telegraphed to all members. It happened that the first message sent to the association totaled 30 words, and this figure, with the words "good night" and the signature of the sender, were placed at the bottom of the sheet by the operator. At that time piecework was the rule on all papers. The daily grist was usually set up, corrected and in the forms by 10 o'clock, but the compositors were compelled to wait around at their own expense until the foreman announced "30" was in. So "30" became a by-word among printers, symbolizing the end.

Cured

A bachelor who had a fondness for children was a favorite with the little girl next door. The little miss was much concerned recently when her bachelor friend was confined home for a few days with ear trouble. On one occasion she chanced to drop in while her elderly friend was dropping some medicine into one of his ears. In the process of which he unconsciously placed his finger in his other ear. "Do you have to hold the other ear shut so that it won't run out the other side?" his visitor asked. This remark created such hearty laughter that the bachelor said something seemed to "pop" in the vicinity of his ear drums, following which medical attention was no longer needed.—Indianapolis News.

Tact

Strange how many mistake the appearance of power for power itself. Many seem rather to want the trappings of power, the titles and the gold braid, than power itself. Thomas Bailey Aldrich, novelist, once said: "The ability to secure your own way and impress others with the idea that they are having their own way is rare among men; among women it is as common as eyebrows."

NEWTON HOSPITAL

In the week ending August 18, 1928, there were 113 patients in the Newton Hospital, 32 of whom paid as much or more than the cost of their care, 47 paid less than cost of care and 34 (including babies) were treated free. Sixteen babies were born, seven girls and nine boys. 114 Patients were treated in the Out-Patient Department. There were nine social service calls at the hospital and seven patients were transferred by the social service car. There were eleven accident cases.

Of the eleven accident cases, only two were caused by automobiles, one a child with contusion of the knee and a bruised hip, the result of a fall from the running board of an automobile; and the other, a child who was hit by an automobile causing a fractured tibia and fibula. Of the other accidents, five were children, one with a fractured ulna and radius, the result of a fall while playing, one with a lacerated hand, one with a laceration over the left eye, the result of falling against a telephone, one with a foreign body in the left ear, and the last with a laceration on the sole of his foot which he cut on glass while running; three were men, the first with a severed tendon of the wrist when he fell as he was going upstairs with a milk bottle, the second with fractured ribs when he fell against a concrete wall and the third with a fractured skull when he fell from a staging, the last was a woman with heat prostration.

ROTARY CLUB

The speaker at the regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday noon at the Woodland Golf Club was Mr. C. N. Eastman, president of the C. N. Eastman & Company Sales Engineers of Boston. Mr. Eastman's subject was "Personality as a Business Asset." With fifteen years of experience as a sales engineer Mr. Eastman had an opportunity to give his listeners an insight on many experiences he has had in all parts of the United States with human contacts. In all business there are two elements of paramount importance—they are the technical and human elements. The latter is especially important as it is on this basis that many sales are made where the article sold is of the same price and quality as the competing article. He told of instances where a restaurant worker had the opportunity to build up trade through personality; of doctors who even at advanced ages held onto their practice purely through their personality and knowledge of the human elements; and of the building up of a large chain of gasoline filling stations, where the product was of the same price and of no better quality than competing gasoline, through the employment of station attendants whose personality attracted trade. But although personality is a basic fundamental of success in business the latter cannot be achieved without satisfactory service. Any employee who gives the customer satisfactory service and couples with it a pleasing personality is sure to make a much more favorable impression than the employee who gives identical service but has no personality.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington.—Propaganda has become so prevalent in recent years that suspicion is naturally attached to all information relating to politics and business. Washington by reason of its environment has always maintained a lead as a hotbed of political gossip. There is no indication that the nation will forget a Washington dateline for rumor. It is truly difficult for impartial observers to discern the voice of truth in the clamor raised by heated partisans in these hectic days. Partisanship takes the form where all are willing to believe the worst of political opponents and unhesitatingly brand similar criticism of their favorites as simon-pure propaganda.

The country is now flooded with straw votes and other tests of public sentiment. The wise and seasoned political leaders returning to the capital city fresh from local alarms do not take these ballots with the gravity that sponsors would appreciate for their own selfish purposes. In the majority of cases, it has been found that straw ballots are unadulterated advertising schemes or circulation promotion stunts to take advantage of the temporary interest in the Presidential race. Few of those participating in the pre-election polls could possibly qualify as voters under strict election laws. Veterans of other campaigns concern themselves with the great "silent" vote, for this element is uncertain and often sways the elections. Both parties are cultivating the thousands of new voters who will cast the first Presidential ballot this year and are not yet moulded and stamped with party labels.

There has been considerable adverse comment of late concerning the numerous trips that minor government officials made over the country just before the expiration of the fiscal year of 1928. The claim is advanced that junkets were taken when it was discovered that portions of anyone's salary would be turned back to the public treasury unless spent within the time allowed by Congress. Many "inspections" and "conferences" in the field were arranged and a good time was had by all—at the government's expense.

As present, hundreds of Federal employees are spending their vacations in the old home town in preference to resorts. The visits are not always voluntary as many are working out political debts of gratitude to those who helped them find a place on the Government payroll. The Civil Service Commission periodically issues a note on political activity by Federal workers but the threat falls on deaf ears. Violations of the restrictions are seldom released from the service for electioneering especially if those whose cause they espouse should win.

A newcomer to Washington would be struck with the unmistakable evidence of procrastination and circumvention. The result is that much valuable governmental machinery is tied up and time needlessly wasted for political expediency. All parties when in office at this season adopt the same policy. As an illustration, the departments abound with glaring examples, the Postmaster General is playing a waiting game. A deficit is predicted because the railroads were awarded increased pay for hauling the mails and added to the burden of the postal service. He has convinced the President that some recommendation for increased postal rates must be made to Congress. Yet it is conceded that the Cabinet officer has the power under an act of Congress to raise certain rates at will, notably parcel post charges. To do so would antagonize the spokesmen for organized farm groups. The Congress will again receive the responsibility but not before the November elections.

The Department of State has been contributing lately to history but the average citizen has overlooked the fact. Treaties which would prevent wars have been drawn up and signed vitally affecting future generations. The proceedings have attracted widespread attention among the peoples of the world. Little publicity or attention has been given these important affairs in this country. It is small wonder that diplomats are regarded as a strange cult by the man in the street. Foreign affairs have lost their appeal since the League of Nations and the World Court were ushered out of American politics.

HOOVER RALLY SONG

(Tune, Glory, Hallelujah.)
From California Beautiful, already wreathed with fame,
Across our broad expanse of States see Hoover drive his plane,
When his flight is ended, naught of tall spires or dire flame,
To the White House he'll sail down.
Glory, glory, hallelujah.

Let no pessimist be fool 'er,
When his hearted Herbert Hoover's finished up the grand manoeuvre,
At the White House sails he down.
With due faith in God and man, and broad and stalwart views,
Wise with Lincoln, Roosevelt, Coolidge, Root or Hughes, Statesman-like to view, Floods and fires, the starved by war, reveal his life desires
To be the Friend of Man.
Glory, glory, hallelujah.

In no careless ice box cool 'er,
Common sense be your reprover.
Shout for Hoover, vote for Hoover
Till the White House sees him home.
Head and shoulders 'bove the crowd stood Saul the ancient King,
Herbert Hoover towering high, votes by millions bring,
Enthusiasm won't "wet down"—fresh laurels o'er him fling,
As in White House he sits down.
Glory, glory, hallelujah.

May no wild eyed bogey fool you,
You'll find gallant Herbert Hoover
With the wide world his approver,
Seated in the White House chair.
From Ohio list the roar of Hoover's car approaching
High and "dry" he breasts the storm of Tammany's encroaching,
God's angels set to guard and guide,
A pilot for safe coaching,
To the White House steers him down.
Glory, glory, hallelujah.

Let no scornful critics fool you,
When full blooms this vote manoeuvre,
'Twon't be Smith but Herbert Hoover
For the White House wins the game.

NEWTON SPORTS

Hill and Johnson Win Again

Malcolm Hill and Henry L. Johnson, Jr., youthful doubles pair from Waban, provided an upset in the invitation doubles at Newport yesterday by defeating Francis T. Hunter and Louis Thalheimer. It should not be many years before the Waban cousins, who have been playing together for several years, will be among the top-notchers in the country and perhaps in international tennis.

Duxbury Women Win

The women of the Duxbury Golf Club won the cup for the season in the ladies South Shore golf tournament Wednesday defeating Hatherly, 5-0. Miss Frances Stebbins of Newton was one of three members of the Duxbury team who were undefeated this summer. Miss Harriet Ellison, also of Newton, played for Duxbury in some of the matches.

Miss Virginia Rice, Newton Centre girl, playing her first match in the national women's singles championship at Forest Hills, New York, on Monday was eliminated by Miss Gertrude Dwyer of New York, an older and more experienced player than the local entry, by the scores of 3-6, 6-4, 6-1. In the doubles tournament, Miss Rice and her partner, Miss Evelyn Parsons of Palo Alto, California, won their first round match, defeating Mrs. William Shedd of Chestnut Hill and Miss Dorothy Blodgett of Boston, 8-6, 7-5.

SWIMMING MEET AT CRYSTAL LAKE

A swimming meet is to be held at Crystal Lake Tuesday, August 28th at 3 p. m. Boys and girls who have passed any of the Red Cross life saving tests, beginners, swimmers, Junior or Senior tests—are eligible. There will be swimming contests and novelty events, for which prizes are offered.

In order that all precautions may be taken in regard to Infantile Paralysis a representative of the State Health Department tested the water at Crystal Lake last week.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

George W. Bowen, aged eighteen years, of Brighton, was injured in a serious injury Monday afternoon when he slipped and fell beneath the rear wheel of a truck on Centre street, Newton Highlands. Fortunately the truck did no more than severely injure his right foot when the rear wheel passed over it. Bowen was getting on the truck, which was moving slowly towards Newton, when he slipped and fell beneath it.

Another case of a child running across the street in front of an automobile and being slightly injured was reported to the police Saturday afternoon. John Sostillo, aged six, of 382 Langley road, Newton Centre, ran across Boylston street near Langley road and suffered cuts on the right side of his face and injured left leg when struck by a Chevrolet coupe, owned by the Standard Oil Company and operated by Richard L. Davenport of Quincy. Davenport was heading towards Boston at the time of the accident but picked the lad up and took him to the Newton Hospital.

Four persons were slightly injured in two automobile accidents in the city over the week-end. Dexter S. Cohen of 39 Kimball road, Watertown, and Benjamin Cohen, of 47 Capitol street, were slightly hurt when the machine in which they were riding, driven by the latter, collided with an automobile operated by Tony Lupo of West Newton. The accident occurred Saturday afternoon at the corner of Watertown and Pearl streets, Nonantum.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry V. Greene of 307 Washington street, Newton, were injured when the car in which they were riding collided with another car at the corner of Church and Centre streets, Newton. The machines were driven by Arthur K. Lewis of Cabot street, Newton, and Alfred H. Sampson of Oakland street.

World Needs Wisdom

That Comes With Age

Thank God for the old folks! They supply the balance so necessary in not only this but every day and age. Youth may rail at the older generation for being "old fogies" and "behind the times." But snowy crowns bring a seasoning of reasoning which the snap judgment of youth lacks. Old age can hark back and profit from years of experience, while youth, though fired with enthusiasm and ambition, has yet to undergo the ordeal of fire. This "pep" in youth is, of course, a component part of life, but we also need that sagacity and maturity of opinion which comes only with advanced years.

One generation, in effect, acts as a check on the other, yet it cannot be denied that youth has in the past, does now and always must, depend on its elders to impart wisdom and good advice. Especially today, when youth is inclined to be reckless, should the admonition and guidance of the old folks count for the value that it really is.

Life is as the cycle of seasons which needs its autumn as much as its spring. Spring is a beautiful expression of budding life. But autumn is none the whit less beautiful—and necessary. Though youth, like spring, gives us love and roses, it remains for autumn to produce the harvest. In other words, it is age which gives the needed mellowness to the green sprouts of rash youth.

Again we say, God bless the old folks!—Pathfinder Magazine.

Troubles in Plenty for Court Officials

The master mind in control of state and social functions at the court of St. James occasionally must solve some extraordinary problems, according to Percy Armitage, who reveals himself as that astute functionary in his book, "By the Clock of St. James."

In making arrangements for the coronation of King Edward, Armitage found he must discover close to Buckingham palace a house large enough to accommodate the attending maharajah of Jaipur with his suite of 200 and that there must be accommodations in the same house for a cow. The house must also have a well since he was informed that neither the maharajah nor his servants would touch water that had flowed through pipes.

Such a house finally was found and then he turned his attention to obtaining the cow. She must have short horns and be pure white. When the maharajah came and found all this provided he took it as a matter of course and calmly gave instructions that the cow must not be killed at any time after his departure, but must die a natural death. This she was permitted to do after being maintained in luxury and idleness for many years.

"Instead of heaping together the little bits of life and making mountains of them," said old Festus Pester, "we should try to slide through existence as easily as possible, consistent with honor and dignity—who talks and runs away may live to talk another day. We should bear in mind that women, politics, weather predictions and nine-tenths of everything else are always uncertain, and not fix our faith too strongly upon them. If we have cares and ills and miseries and disappointments and are humbled and ignored and derided let us remember that there are always others and they are generally in town."—Kansas City Star.

His Wise Words

A rather dull student found it impossible to believe that the earth is round, in spite of the arguments of an eminent astronomer.

"But look here, Johnson," said the astronomer, "you must see that the earth cannot be anything else but round. Now, tell me, where does the sun rise?"

"In the east, of course!"

"And where does it set?"

"In the west."

"Well, then, how does it manage to get back in the east again by the morning?"

Johnson thought hard for a minute. Then an intelligent look dawned in his eye.

"Why, of course," he said at last. "It just slips back in the night!"

A Sun Secret

William A. Thibodeau, general counsel and manager of the Automobile Legal Association, announced recently that he is not surprised that the Insurance Commissioner of Massachusetts has made a drastic increase in compulsory automobile liability insurance rates.

He says that as soon as the compulsory automobile law went into effect, jurymen seemed to have the impression that this law gave them an opportunity to hit the insurance companies hard and that during the past year larger verdicts have been returned by jurymen in personal injury cases than ever before in the history of Massachusetts. Unfortunately this condition has not been discouraged by the judges who have the right to reduce or set aside verdicts.

Insurance companies have no funds which they can disburse in the nature of charitable assistance to the public and if the insurance companies are compelled to pay large sums of money by jurymen, then of course the rates must go up, or in other words, the public must pay the bill, because if the automobilist is obliged to pay a larger insurance rate than formerly and he is engaged in dealing in the commodities of life, naturally he does not propose to absorb his loss, but will pass it on to the public, and so the public pays.

What can be expected when, for instance, a young lady receives a slight jolt from which she is kept from her regular employment for a total of seven days, and two years later comes into court and claims that she is a little nervous at times and during the entire time from the date of the accident to the trial of the case she called on a physician fourteen times, and the jury award her a verdict of $4800? Or take another case when a judge openly states that

Twin Coincidence

Mary and Jane, sisters, were married June 12, 1924, to John and Bill, brothers.

On Christmas day, December 25, 1927, twins, a boy and a girl, were born to Mary and John. On the same day twins, a boy and a girl, were born to Jane and Bill.

The baby boys weighed identically the same, 7½ pounds, each weighing more than his baby sister, while the weight of the girls differed ¼ pound.

Not Quite

An American history class in one of the high schools had been having an interesting discussion of Civil war songs.

"Now," continued the teacher, "who can name a song inspired by John Brown's experience?"

"John Brown's body lies over the ocean," exclaimed one member of the class enthusiastically.

POLICE NEWS

Isaac Chabers of Needham reported to the police Tuesday that his Ford coupe which had left in front of the Longwood Cricket Club grounds in Chestnut Hill had been stolen. The car was later found abandoned in Lexington by the police of that town.

James Barisano, 20 years old, of 456 Watertown street, Nonantum, was sentenced to three months in the house of correction yesterday morning in the Newton district court. He was convicted of striking his wife and causing her nose to bleed. He was arrested Wednesday night on complaint of his wife by Patrolmen Cleary and Regan. He appealed the sentence and was ordered to furnish bail for his appearance in Superior Court.

Alexander Scroder, 32, of 58 Mechanic street, Newton Upper Falls, was before the court on a charge of neglect to provide for the support of his wife and minor child. He was arrested on a warrant sworn out by the wife and appeared before the court. His case is being heard this morning.

Inspector Richard J. Goode returned to his desk this week after spending his annual vacation at York Beach, Maine.

Jeremiah Coughlin, 38, of 312 Centre street, Newton, was arrested Wednesday afternoon by Patrolmen Hanlon, Elliott and Bibbo on a charge of assault and battery on a twelve-year old girl in a Nonantum store. In court yesterday morning his case was continued to August 30.

Mrs. Mary Shaw, 24, of South Carter, was found not guilty of non-support of her aged mother in the Newton court Tuesday morning. The mother recently applied for aid from the city and the authorities upon investigation found that she had several daughters and advised her to make complaints against them for non-support. She applied for complaints and the court granted the daughters hearings to decide on the issuance of the complaints. All of the daughters appeared in court except Mrs. Shaw and were found not financially able to contribute to the mother's support.

A summons was issued for Mrs. Shaw. She appeared on Tuesday and explained that she did not receive the first notice of the hearing in time to appear. It developed that the summons was issued before the letter was delivered. Mrs. Shaw was also found financially able to contribute to her mother's support and she was found not guilty.

Fred J. McKinnon, 27 years old, of Milton, was fined a total of $125 Tuesday morning on charges including drunkenness, driving while under the influence of liquor, and driving without a license. He entered a plea of not guilty to the first two charges but pleaded guilty to the third count. He was fined $100 on the charge of driving while under the influence of liquor and was given until September 22 to pay the fine. He paid a fine of $25 on a charge of driving without a license and the charge of drunkenness was placed on file. McKinnon was arrested in West Newton on Saturday, August 11, by Patrolman Hayden. A man riding with him at the time was arrested on a charge of drunkenness.

Pat J. O'Neil, 28, was arrested early Wednesday morning on a charge of vagrancy. His case was continued until September 22nd and he was allowed to go on condition that he get out of the city. The man was fed by the police before he was sent away. He said that he had no belongings.

Three autoists were fined $10 each Wednesday morning on charges of speeding. They were Carl W. Lawson, Michael Mazzola and Leonardo Totillo.

Lawrence Connor, Waltham electrical contractor, was found not guilty of driving under the influence of liquor in a Newton court on Friday. Patrolman Regan, the complaining officer, testified that Connor had driven his car in such a manner as to knock the officer down. John H. O'Neil, attorney for the defendant, questioned the officer, who stated that Connor walked unsteadily. Patrolman O'Halloran also testified but there was no corroborating testimony from the superior officers who arrested and booked the driver. Attorney O'Neil began to question Connor as to his whereabouts prior to the arrest but gave up that line, produced character witnesses and then argued for acquittal.

INSURANCE INCREASE NO SURPRISE

he believes that when a collision takes place between a pedestrian and an automobilist that the latter is at fault, and then proceeds to award damages of $4000 to a plaintiff who admitted that he had been drinking and in whose pocket was found a bottle of moonshine whiskey and all the witnesses testified that the plaintiff staggered and then stumbled in front of the automobile, which police officers testified was not going over ten miles an hour and was proceeding under the direction of a traffic officer?

These are merely instances of what is occurring constantly in our courts and in consequence of verdicts like these, insurance companies have been forced to make settlements which in all fairness should not have been made, because they know that if they tried the case, the verdict would be larger than the amount paid in settlement.

Another feature of this unfortunate situation is due to the ambulance chasing type of lawyers and to the doctors and nurses who work with them.

In a well known building on Commonwealth avenue in Boston, there is a nest of physicians who will testify to almost any extent to assist the ambulance chasing lawyer to win his case. Who believes that the doctors do not receive a substantial proportion of the fee?

When one lawyer alone has more than 400 cases pending, does anyone believe that these cases all came to him because of his reputation, or did they come to him because of his complete and well organized system of runners?

Not long ago a plaintiff told Mr. Thibodeau that while he was in the hospital not less than seventeen different lawyers and law firms solicited his case and promised him anywhere from $5000 to $10,000 in a case which he was perfectly willing to settle for $1000.

Mr. Thibodeau suggests first, that the judges scrutinize verdicts with extreme care and accept the testimony of physicians with a great deal of caution; also they should warn juries and give them clearly to understand that the compulsory automobile insurance law should not be regarded as an open door to fraud and excessive verdicts.

Secondly, Mr. Thibodeau believes that the time has come for the Bar Associations of Massachusetts to appeal to lawyers for a sufficient fund, if funds are not available, for the purpose of exposing and prosecuting these ambulance chasing lawyers, and thirdly, some action should be taken by the Legislature to curb the practice of physicians who work with these lawyers. The New York system of renewing the license of physicians annually should be considered.

In view of the unfortunate situation that many insurance companies find themselves in because of the heavy losses they have suffered through the compulsory insurance law, it is evident that had the Insurance Commissioner not increased the rates, many of the companies now doing business in Massachusetts would have to discontinue and the burden of this insurance would ultimately have to be placed upon the State. In that event, the public would pay and pay to the breaking point.

New Breed

Dorothy had always wanted a dog, and at last a kind and sympathetic uncle gave her one.

There was a certain amount of discussion among the family with regard to the animal's breed. The uncle declared the dog was an alreidae.

Meeting a friend of her father one evening while taking her pet for a walk, Dorothy had an anxious moment.

"Whatever is it?" the other had asked. "A pup, Dorothy? What kind, my dear?"

The little girl tried hard to remember what her uncle had said.

SCHOOLS TO OPEN SEPT. 10

Many rumors have been heard lately that the public schools would not open until October because of the prevalence of infantile paralysis in the city but these rumors are unfounded. The schools will open on September 10th as planned. Officials of the health department are assuring residents that the infantile situation in Newton should cause no anxiety as the number of cases reported this month is below the average of that of the same period in other years. Four cases have been reported since the first of the month. Another such case was suspected this week but an examination of spinal fluid from the patient showed that he was not suffering with paralysis. Saturday Muriel Nickerson, fifteen years old, of 145 Austin street, West Newton, was removed to the Newton Hospital by order of Dr. Lowe, city physician. Dr. Lowe was called in by Dr. Howard the attending physician who suspected that the girl was a victim of the dread disease. On Monday the hospital officials reported to the Board of Health that the case had been positively diagnosed as such. The fourth case of the month was that of John Kenney, 13, of 44 Harris road, West Newton, who was attended by Dr. William T. O'Halloran and reported to the health department on Monday.

3000 New Voters Make Record List

Greatest Increase Since Women Were First Registered

During the week of registration for the state primary election to be held on September 18th which ended at 10 o'clock Wednesday night more than three thousand names were added to the lists. As the week progressed the rush of men and women to register increased until on the final day, Wednesday when the session did not close until 10 o'clock in the evening, twelve hundred new names were added.

Last week Wednesday, the first day of the session 99 were added, Thursday the total was 101, Friday the number went up to 140 but on Saturday dropped again to 110. Monday at City Hall before 5 o'clock another 100 had been registered while Monday night at the session in the Newton Library building at Newton Corner 450 more came in. Tuesday 150 went to City Hall while at the Mason School at Newton Centre in the evening about 500 were added. All day Wednesday the officials were kept busy registering the 1200 odd new voters.

The addition of these new voters marks the biggest increase in registration in any one period since 1920 when women were given the right to vote. Prior to the addition of the 3000 odd names this past week the total number of voters in the city was 20,692 which brings the mark up to about 23,800, a new record for the city.

Of the new voters there were many more women than men, which seems to confirm the general belief that the women play a more important part in the coming election than in previous years. The ratio was about three women to every man. Officials noted that the usual rush which comes in a presidential year has come much earlier this year than formerly. The greater increase in the voting lists has usually been made during the period of registration before the national election rather than before the primaries. One of the explanations given for the early rush this week was due to the fact that political organizations are erroneously advertising that the period of registration ended on Wednesday was the last opportunity for citizens to become eligible to vote at the presidential election. The fact is, however, that there will be another session of the board of registrars from September 20 to October 17, daily at City Hall and at various other points in the city to be announced.

COMPARATIVE VALUATIONS

A comparison of gains in taxable property between Boston and Newton is unusually favorable to Newton.

Boston's valuations which came out Wednesday, show a net gain over last year of $15,053,800 or less than 1% on a total valuation of $1,943,875,500.

Newton's net gain in valuation is $9,438,250 or more than 6% on its total valuation of $149,417,500. Newton's gain is largely in new buildings, but the assessors have done much revaluation work; this item alone representing over $2,000,000 of the above gain. Although Boston made a substantial reduction in its tax rate, it is still $1.20 higher than Newton's.

STORES REMAIN OPEN WEDNESDAYS

The Wednesday half holidays for the merchants of the city have ended. During the summer months many of the stores in Newton Corner and other business sections have closed at noon on Wednesday except in weeks in which holidays have occurred. Beginning next Wednesday afternoon the stores will again be open.

Many Friends Honor Wm. Cahill at Banquet

Local Banker Given Clock at Bachelor Dinner

About 125 friends of William M. Cahill, Secretary of the Newton Trust Company gathered at the Sandy Burr Clubhouse in Wayland, Wednesday evening with Mr. Cahill as the guest of honor at a bachelor dinner tendered him in anticipation of his marriage which is to take place at New Haven, Connecticut, on September 6th. Dinner was served at 7:30 and the after dinner exercises were presided over by James P. Gallagher. Vocal and instrumental entertainment was furnished by Thomas J. Lyons, Neal McDonald, Giuseppe Antonelli and associates and Larry Fredericks. Community singing was directed by Clem Hernandez. The opening address was delivered by Mayor Edwin O. Childs who attributed the success of the guest of honor to his loyalty to the ideals which had been held before him in his Newton home, in the Newton schools and in one of the churches of Newton. Sinclair Weeks, President of the Board of Aldermen followed and in a happy speech expressed his good wishes to Mr. Cahill. The good wishes of the officers and directors of the Newton Trust Company were expressed by Honorable Seward W. Jones, President; Frank L. Richardson, Vice President; William T. Halliday, Treasurer, and Henry J. Nichols, Joseph M. Hardegon, Esq., of Lawrence, a former resident of Newton, was also included in the list of speakers. John J. Monaghan brought the good wishes of the Newton Council of the Knights of Columbus, William J. Doherty of the Knights of Columbus Home Association, and Alderman William J. Noone of the Newton Lodge of Elks.

Honorable Thomas W. White, collector of Internal Revenue, presented the guest of honor with a hall clock and Mr. Cahill responded fittingly. The general committee in charge of the dinner was William J. Geegan, Chairman; George L. White, Secretary and Treasurer; George A. Haynes, Chairman of the dinner committee; Thomas M. Noone, Chairman of the Reception Committee.

WATER MAIN APPROPRIATION EXHAUSTED

The work of cleaning out the water mains in the city, for which the board of aldermen appropriated the sum of $5000 some months ago, came to an end last week Friday when that sum was exhausted. Water department officials may seek another appropriation for continuance of the work in order that the program of cleaning mains that had been planned may be completed. Among the mains which it is desired to clean are those in Nonantum square and unless appropriation is made it is possible that the work may be financed by the Maintenance of Mains Account of the water department. The last section of main to be cleaned was on Sargent street, between Centre and Park streets.

JOCKEY GETS TAR BUT NO FEATHERS

Considerable comment has been made over the old-time hitching post in front of the home of Thomas Lyons on Auburn street, West Newton, which the owner recently transformed from a little negro boy into a gaily painted English jockey. Mr. Lyons had also placed a plate bearing the inscription, "Al Smith for President" in the figure's hands, which has been the cause of much of the comment. The other night the little jockey received a coating of asphalt from some unknown person who apparently did not care for the transformation.

—The pond on Kenrick street, owned by the Boston Ice Co. has been drained and a large number of men are engaged in making the location a new addition to the Commonwealth Golf Club grounds.

Health Officers Watching Campers

No New Cases Reported Since Early In Week

No new cases of scarlet fever have been reported since the early part of the week among the boys who were brought home from Camp Frank A. Day, the local Y. M. C. A. summer camp, on Monday after the camp had been closed because of an outbreak of that disease. The local health authorities are keeping in close touch with the parents of the campers who numbered about one hundred and those that were directly exposed to the disease have been instructed not to remain where other children are present until all danger of developing the fever has passed.

Last week Friday morning the camp doctor, who had been attending several of the boys who had complained of sore throat, reported to Director Clyde G. Hess that some of them showed patches on the throat and rash on the chest. Dr. Hayward of East Brookfield, the nearest town to the camp, was sent for and he diagnosed the cases as scarlet fever. Mr. Hess then notified the state health authorities who sent Dr. Miner of Springfield to the camp to investigate. Under his direction the boys with the disease were isolated and all of the other campers were examined for symptoms. As the regular season of the camp was to end on Wednesday of this week the state official deemed it best to close as soon as possible and arrangements were then made to close on Monday, Friday afternoon.

Four of the lads were taken to the Belmont Hospital in Worcester where they now are. These four boys were Robert Ohler of Newton Centre, Russell Thompson of Newton Centre, Joseph Boyer and Richard McElowney of Newton Centre.

Five other boys are in the Newton Hospital. They are Francis Chase of West Newton, John Gowan of Newton Centre, Howard Pierce of Newton, Henry Perry of Newton Centre and Stephen Blodgett of Newton Centre. Robert Hannon of Belmont is in the Waltham Hospital while Richard Martinson of Auburndale is ill at his home.

Most of the cases are fortunately not of a serious nature although three of the lads are quite ill. It is believed that there were other cases at camp of such a mild nature that they were unrecognized by the camp officials. The remainder of the boys returned to Newton by motor bus Monday and were taken home by their parents.

No boys had come into camp for ten days previous to the outbreak and it is Dr. Miner's belief that the disease was brought to the camp by some visitor as the germ is the kind that must have some carrier to convey and the period of incubation is from four to seven days. This season scarlet fever has been reported in three other camps in the state, the Salvation Army camp at Sharon, the Springfield Y. M. C. A. camp at Otis and another boys camp on Cape Cod. The authorities in charge of the local camp deserve much credit for the efficient way in which they handled the emergency.

The Newton Board of Health took the name and address of every camper and asked the parents to report any symptoms of the fever if they appear. Dr. Curtis, chairman of the Newton board of health, said that he believed there would be little probability that the disease would appear among the boys who returned Monday as they had been exposed to the germs for a week and had successfully resisted them.

Before camp closed the winners of the various sports that had been conducted throughout the summer were announced and awards of the various cups and honors made.

The most coveted award in camp, the Efficiency Cups in both senior and junior divisions, were won by Kenneth Lane in the older boys group and William Follette in the younger lads group. The cup for the best all-around senior athlete went to William Floring and that in the junior division was won by Robert Young.

Marshall Beane was awarded the senior cup in tennis by default as the finals had not been played off because the other semi-final winner, Francis Chase, was one of the fever victims. Chase was awarded the runner-up prize. In the junior tennis tourney Edward Muther was the victor over William Follette in the finals. Muther was awarded the cup and Follette the second prize.

Everett Keeler was given the leadership award and the camp letter went to Edward Brunell. Members of the Red Sox team in the senior division and Boston University in the junior division were awarded camp medals. These teams were leaders in the competition between teams of twenty members each in baseball, basketball, swimming, volleyball, tennis, track and water regatta.

New Pension System Becomes Operative

New York Man Engaged As Actuary By Board

The new contributory pension system for city employees which was adopted some months ago by the city went into operation this week Tuesday when all city employees were officially informed by the retirement board that they would automatically become members of the new system unless they requested otherwise. Blanks were issued by the board to the employees which the latter were instructed to sign and return if they did not wish to join the new system. If they did not fill out the form and return them the treasurer would proceed to deposit four per cent of their salaries to the retirement fund.

The employees have until July 1st of next year before making a definite decision in the matter. If they join at the present time they may withdraw before that date and if they do not join at present and care to later they may do so before the time has elapsed.

Comptroller of Accounts Daniel F. White announced this week that George Buck of New York has been engaged by the Retirement Board to act as consulting actuary and to install the new system. Mr. Buck is rated as one of the foremost in his chosen field in the country. He will receive a salary of $1800 per year, half of which will be paid for installing the system and the other half as consulting actuary. Mr. Buck assisted the aldermanic pension committee to prepare the pension bill last year.

TO ENTERTAIN CRIPPLED CHILDREN

One hundred and eighteen children from the Peabody Home for Crippled Children at Oak Hill are eagerly awaiting next Tuesday when they will be royally entertained at Norumbega Park by the Riverside Woman's Club of Auburndale. Mrs. William E. Pike of Islington road, president of the club, is chairman of the committee in charge of the outing. Manager Will White of Norumbega Park has placed the entire facilities and activities of the park at the disposal of the children which they will enjoy in addition to a boat ride on the river and a program of entertainment.

Mrs. Smith, superintendent of the Home, will be the guest of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at the Kiwanis Night to be held at the park.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

CANDIDATES FOR FOOTBALL CALLED

Captain John L. Sullivan of the Newton High School football eleven has issued the call for all candidates to report at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, Sept. 5th, at the high school at which time suits and equipment will be issued. The initial practice session of the season will be held on Wednesday morning. Nearly a hundred candidates are expected to report with the total being increased to nearly one hundred and thirty with the opening of school the following Monday.

Captain Sullivan will be assisted this fall by the same staff as last year with Warren Blue of the school faculty and Carson Stanwood working with the line and backs. The Newton mentor will probably spend a great portion of his time with the quarterbacks.

The orange and black will be led this year by Everett Scheinfain, all-scholastic end in 1927, who not only played a great game on the wing last fall but in addition performed the signal calling duties when efforts to develop a quarterback from among the backfield men failed. The Newton leader has spent some of his time this summer working upon an ice wagon and is in fine condition for the coming season which opens on September 29th at Clifton Field with the Belmont High school eleven of which "Polly" Harris, former Newton high and Colgate star end, is the coach.

In addition to the regular league games with Cambridge Latin, Everett, Somerville, Rindge Tech, and Brookline the orange and black will oppose Beverly, Melford and Waltham this fall, making the schedule one of the stiffest on record.

Little is known as to what prospects the team will have until the entire squad is on hand September 10th as there are several veterans who may return this fall. The regulars from last year's eleven who graduated in June include, Creighton Gatchell, center; Hamilton, tackle; Marsh and Wentworth, guards; Brown and Bennett, fullbacks. Besides Scheinfain the veterans who will be back are Harrington, tackle; Payne and Reynolds, ends; and Gilligan, Duane, Mullin in the backfield, who should provide a good working nucleus.

BURR TENNIS ASSOCIATION

The fall tournaments of the Burr Tennis Association are soon to start. Entry blanks are available at Halin's Specialty Shop and at the Burr Play ground. Tournaments, open to all residents of Wards 1 and 7, are to be run in Boys' Singles, Girls' Singles, Women's Singles, Men's Singles, Mixed Doubles, and Men's Doubles. Entries close Wednesday, Sept. 12th, for the Boys' Singles and Girls' Singles, and Saturday, Sept. 15th, for all other tournaments.

SPORT NOTES

Shoelless Waban Pair Loses

Malcolm T. Hill and Henry L. Johnson, Waban cousins who hold the New England doubles tennis championship, were put out in the first round of the national doubles play at Longwood on Monday by Gerald Patterson and Jack Hawkes, seeded Australian players. The local lads played the greater part of the match in their stocking feet in an effort to get a "toe hold" on the slippery turf. But with or without shoes they did not have the power to match the Australians yesterday. The scores of the match were 6-1, 6-3, 6-2.

Crouch Wins Once

Dr. Paul Crouch of the Newton Archers won the men's trophy in the clout shoot at the national tournament at Rye, N. Y., last week Friday. The national championship which the local archer was defending went to William Palmer of Philadelphia with Dr. Crouch finishing in fourth place.

West Newton Friends Welcome Daley Johnny Daley, Olympic bantamweight of Waltham, whose home was in Auburndale the greater part of his youth, returned this week to the soda fountain at Waters' drug store in West Newton where he worked. Newton scraps while preparing for the Olympics.

Sharkey At Home For Rest

Jack Sharkey, local heavyweight championship contender for the crown vacated by Gene Tunney, returned from New York to his home in Chestnut Hill on Monday. He expects to be able to train in three or four weeks for his bout with Big Boy Peterson which was called off recently when Sharkey hurt his knee.

Nominate Local Man Vice-President

W. Horace Workman of Franklin street, Newton, and the Commonwealth Country Club has been nominated for the vice-presidency of the Massachusetts Golf Association. William B. Hanna of Albemarle has been nominated for a place on the executive committee.

Crosby Breaks Record To Win

Percy Crosby, Woodlander, broke the course record at South Shore last Saturday with a 79 to win the fifth annual South Shore open golf tourney. The former record was a 71 made by Francis Oulmet a few weeks ago in a foursome with Jesse Guilford, Lane and Smith. Crosby's Saturday round was exceptional as he was two over par at the fourth tee and also took a four on the 14th, a par three hole. To make up for these lapses he shot birdies on the 5th and 7th which made him 35 out and had two birdies coming home on the 15th and 18th to balance the five at the 14th. Crosby missed a five-foot putt on the 18th for an eagle three.

SAXONY AND UPPER FALLS IN SERIES

The Saxony Mills and Upper Falls teams, leaders in the Newton Twilight league round robin which ended Tuesday night will meet in a series for the city championship and third leg on the Graphic cup. The series which is the best two games out of three will open tomorrow afternoon at Victory Field and the second game will be played on the Upper Falls playground on Sunday afternoon. If a third game is necessary the teams will toss up to determine the site of the game which will be played Monday afternoon, Labor Day.

Saxony Mills, managed by Thomas Gilligan, with a number of high school and college freshman players in its lineup breezed through on top with eight victories and three defeats while Upper Falls was a full game behind them with seven wins in eleven games. West Newton which battled with Upper Falls right down the home stretch fell short of getting into the championship series by a full game. Dropping two games to Upper Falls by one-run margins on Friday and Tuesday nights eliminated the West Newton outfit. The scores of both these games were identical, Upper Falls 4, West Newton 3. Upper Falls also won their game last week Thursday night from Lower Falls, 5 to 3, to continue the winning streak which brought them into the play-off games from the cellar berth a few weeks ago.

Lower Falls, incidentally, was the only team in the league to play the full twelve games scheduled. The three leaders played eleven games each while Newton Highlands, in the cellar, played but ten games. Rain and tie games, together with the rule that the season would end on Aug. 28th regardless of the number of games played, prevented the playing out of the full schedule as many of the players will turn their attention to school or college and football shortly after Labor Day.

In the opening game of the series tomorrow Manager Gilligan of the Saxony team will probably start Jakey Pass, former high school star, in an effort to capture the first game while Bob Pickard, leading twirler on the 1927 high school nine, will be set to go after Sunday's contest.

NOBLE WINS SOUTH MAINE SINGLES

Arthur D. Noble of Newton Centre, 17-year-old youth and captain-elect of next year's tennis team at Newton High, yesterday morning won the finals in the men's singles of the annual Southern Maine tennis tournament at the York Country Club. Noble played fine tennis throughout the match, gaining the quarter final round by defeating J. W. Harte of Newton Centre, in a three set match. The local youth's next opponent was A. S. Wright, captain-elect of the 1929 Yale tennis team. Noble was the victor and gained the semi-final rounds, Wednesday he defeated S. C. Rockwell, one of the seeded players to win the right to meet Stanley Keith of Philadelphia yesterday in the finals.

Noble Disposed of Keith in Straight Sets, 6-3, 6-1, 6-2

In the mixed doubles the Newton Centre youth is teaming with Miss Nancy Morgan of New York. The feature match in yesterday's play was that between this team and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Keith, the former winning 6-2, 3-6, 6-4. A thunder shower late in the afternoon stopped the last match in the quarter finals of this tournament after Miss Morgan and Noble had won the first set from C. Breckenbridge and Miss Cook at 6-1 and taken a lead of two games in the second set.

Murphy In White Mt. Final

This morning at Maplewood, N. H., in the White Mountain golf championship finals there will be an intercollegiate match. Eddie Murphy of Harvard, a Newton Centre youth, will oppose George Dunlap, Jr., of Princeton. The match is expected to be exceedingly close with the possibility of a single stroke determining the winner. Murphy gained the final round by defeating C. K. Beatty yesterday 6 and 5.

Hunnefeld Back At Second

Bill Hunnefeld is back in the lineup of the Chicago White Sox at second base. He returned last Saturday in the double-header with the Athletics which was split, the Chisox winning the opener and the Mackmen the finals. In the first game the former Saxony player got one single in five trips up, scored two runs, stole one base, accepted seven chances and was the pivot on one double play. In the second game he batted for 500, getting two hits in four appearances, accepted nine chances without an error, and was the pivot in a double play. In Tuesday's doubleheader with the Athletics taking both games Hunnefeld got three more hits in nine tries and accepted ten chances.

30,000 MILES in 26,326 MINUTES

(total elapsed time)

At Atlantic City Speedway, between July 21 and August 9, four regular factory production Studebaker President Eights again proved the supremacy of Studebaker in the automotive world.

Under strict supervision of the American Automobile Association, two President Eight roadsters traveled 30,000 miles in less than 27,000 consecutive minutes—19 days and 18 nights of driving at better than 68 miles per hour! Two President sedans averaged 63.99 and 64.15 miles per hour for the same distance! All four cars were strictly stock—not specially prepared nor even selected by Studebaker, but chosen at random from Studebaker's assembly line by A. A. A. officials.

Even before this great achievement, Studebaker held more official speed and stamina records than all other makes of cars combined—The Commander with 25,000 miles in less than 23,000 minutes; The Dictator with 5,000 miles in less than 4800 minutes; and The Erskine Six, holder of 11 official records in its class, 1000 miles in 984 minutes!

Whatever Studebaker-built car you buy, you are assured superlative performance and supreme One-Price value. See and drive a Studebaker today!

New high pressure fueling
... and
New high speed carburetion

Supplementing the amazing abilities of Buick's improved Valve-in-Head engine—providing brilliant new efficiency and effectiveness at all engine speeds—are two wonderful new Silver Anniversary Buick features . . .

A new high-pressure gas pump—completely eliminating the old-fashioned vacuum tank—assures a steady flow of fuel under all driving conditions; and a new high-speed carburetor—the most expensive employed on any motor car—produces unrivaled ease of starting, smooth operation and maximum economy.

The world-famous Buick engine—with these two new features—attains the highest degree of efficiency of any automobile engine . . . and attains that peak efficiency with any grade of fuel—low-test, high-test or in between!

Hair-trigger acceleration! Dazzling new swiftness! Matchless hill-climbing! Unrivaled ability to maintain a high pace hour after hour and day after day!

Take this new Buick out on the highway. Test it to the limit. Prove to yourself—it's the great car of the world!

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Sunday evening Joseph Incorvati, 4 years old, of 58 Green street, Newton, was struck by an automobile operated by Stephen J. Dunn of 33 Chapel street, Newton, while crossing Green street near Chapel street. The lad was bruised and shaken up but not seriously injured. He was taken home and treated by a physician.

Wednesday morning Everett Littlehale, 12, of Needham, who was riding a bicycle at the corner of Chestnut and Elliot streets, Upper Falls, collided with the rear fender of an automobile operated by Bernard J. Smith of 31 Wetherell street, Newton Upper Falls. He was not injured.

Last Saturday afternoon two automobiles collided at the corner of California and Bridge streets, Nonantum. The cars were operated by Bernard Graceffa of Waltham and James J. Gauthier of Waltham. Michael Lucchese, 22, of Waltham, who was riding with Graceffa, received injuries to his back and left arm.

Last week, Friday afternoon, a car operated by Mrs. Mildred E. Strange of 20 Jefferson street ran into a car parked in front of the new Washington building near Newton Corner. Warren, 6, and Edward, 4, who were riding in the front seat with their mother, were cut about the head and face by broken glass. They were taken into Dr. Lowry's office in the Washington building for treatment and then sent home in a taxicab.

Thomas Shordoni, 4, of 13 Cook street, was struck and knocked down by an automobile operated by Herbert Woodruff of Belmont last week, Thursday afternoon, at the corner of Water-town and Dalby streets. The child was taken to the office of Dr. Amendola by Officer Walker, who was near the scene of the accident, where one stitch was taken in a cut over the lad's right ear. The boy was crossing the street with Anne Shordoni of 15 Cook street, who escaped being hit.

Earlier that same day automobiles operated by Charles J. McCarthy of 52 Channing road, Newton Centre, and Florence N. Duncan of 154 Harvard street collided on Cabot street, near Harvard street, Newtonville. The McCarthy machine was going east on Cabot street, while the Duncan car came out of a drive way. Mrs. Duncan complained of an injured shoulder after the accident.

Dr. Edward J. St. Coeur of 61 Marlboro street came out of a store on Centre street, Newton near the railroad bridge, where he had gone to get a newspaper to see his car balanced on the edge of the foundation hole for the cellar of the new building at the corner of Centre and Elmwood streets Saturday afternoon. In some manner after Dr. St. Coeur had left his car the car started rolling towards the excavation. It ran over the sidewalk and the front wheels went over the edge of the hole, the car then coming to a stop as the weight of the car came on the flywheel of the engine at the edge of the cellar. A little more weight on the front of the car and it would have toppled over.

RED CROSS REPRESENTATIVE HERE

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross is fortunate this year in having come to our city to assist in the closing days of Red Cross First Aid and Life Saving Mr. George P. Carnie, Field Representative from the National Headquarters of the Red Cross.

Mr. Carnie has for seven years played an active part in First Aid and Life Saving work and has taught hundreds of persons scientific methods for rescuing the drowning and giving emergency care to the injured.

He was for two summers connected with the Boston Metropolitan Chapter of the American Red Cross as a Life Saving and First Aid instructor and for one summer had complete charge of this work on the beaches there.

In addition to extensive experience in his field of work, he has received intensive training in the Red Cross methods at one of the organization's Life Saving and First Aid institutes. He is well known in speed swimming circles throughout New England and holds the retrieving championship which he won in New England life saving contests.

Mr. Carnie has been attending Bates College for two years, doing life saving and first aid field work in the summer months.

Special attention is called to a further notice appearing at this time advising Examiners, Seniors, and Juniors of continued opportunity for completing their swimming and life saving work at Crystal Lake and Auburn-dale.

Examiners! Remember you may renew your examiner's rating for Red Cross Life Saving this week Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 29th-September 1st inclusive, with Mr. George P. Carnie, Life Saving Field Representative from Washington, D. C.

Seniors! You may become Red Cross Life Saving examiners at this time. Call Newton North 2717 to make appointments.

Boys and Girls! If you start at once you still have an opportunity to pass your life saving tests this summer, for at Crystal Lake and Auburn-dale, Miss Rickard will continue her work this week and Mr. Westgate will continue through the first week of September. Consult them at either place in regard to it.

The following have passed their life saving tests recently: Juniors, John Orner, Charles Dunne and Edward Kelley at Crystal Lake; Mary Carrick and Margaret Oakes at Camp Mary Day. Seniors, Mark Clinton and Leo Fitzgerald at Crystal Lake and Serene Barclay and Eleanor Collins at Camp Mary Day.

BITTEN BY DOG

Anthony Magnarelli of 125 Adams street, Newton, complained to the court last week that he had been bitten by a dog owned by Mrs. Ida Swartz of 95 Faxon street. The police ordered the dog restrained and Dr. C. A. Boutelle, inspector of animals, was notified to make an examination of the animal for rabies.

NEWTON SPORTS

Small Rider Wins Prize

Paul Bessey rode in the recent races for children under twelve years at the North Scituate Riding Club and finished second, receiving a red ribbon and cup.

Helen Willis Beats Johnson

Helen Willis, national women's singles tennis champion, defeated Henry L. Johnson, Jr., of Waban, Wednesday afternoon at the Longwood Courts in an exhibition match, 6-4, 6-4. Johnson was told to play his best as the match was to be an experiment to furnish comparison between the play of the best woman player and a man, but the local youth seemed unable to let out without his shots going wild. He seldom went to the net but when he did seemed more formidable. Miss Willis was not at all disturbed by the conditions and had Johnson running quite a bit to make his returns. It was a good match and so interesting that Miss Willis may play another man before the week is over.

Hill And Johnson Out At Newport

Hill and Johnson, the Waban tennis players, reached the semi-final round of the invitation doubles tournament at Newport last week before they were eliminated. They were the victims of George M. Lott, Jr., of Chicago, a Davis Cup player, and his partner, John Doeg of California, in straight sets, 6-3, 9-7, 6-4.

Wilson Second, Bell Third

Ed. Wilson and Alfred W. Bell, local athletes wearing the colors of the B. A. A. at the annual athletic meet of the General Electric Employees Athletic Association at Lynn last Saturday placed second and third in the mile walk. The event was won by Edward Clark, Jr., also a Unicorn athlete.

Father and Son Advance

Donald M. Hill and his son, Malcolm T. Hill, seeded players in the father and son tourney at Longwood this week won their first round match Wednesday from L. Delone, senior and junior, 6-0, 6-1. In the national mixed doubles Malcolm Hill and his partner, Mrs. Lewis G. Morris, were eliminated in the first round as were Henry L. Johnson, Jr., and his partner, The Waban pair won their second round match yesterday from G. E. Pfaffman and Karl Pfaffman in straight sets 6-3, 6-1.

Noble and Partner Win

Arthur Noble, captain elect of the Newton High tennis team for 1929, and his partner, J. Bramhall of Morristown, N. J., won the finals of the men's doubles in the Southern Maine tennis tourney at York Harbor on Wednesday, defeating Rockwell and Wright. The latter is captain-elect of next year's Yale tennis team.

Hunnifield Hits Homer

The Philadelphia Athletics kept on the heels of the New York Yankees this week by taking four out of the five games with the Chicago White Sox although Bill Hunnifield and his teammates tried their utmost to upset the Mackmen. In the final game of the series on Wednesday which the Athletics won 6 to 2 the former Saxony and local product was responsible for one Chicago run. In the third inning he drove a home-run into the left field seats for the first run. In the fourth he got his second hit in four times at bat, single to left field. An unusual play developed on this hit. The Chicago pitcher was on third at the time with two out and no force play possible. Simmons, Philadelphia leftfielder, came in fast for Honey's hit and threw the Chicago pitcher out at the plate on a close play. Hunnifield retained credit for the single as Lyons, the pitcher, was not forced to run.

Lynch Winner At Woodland

Joe Lynch of Albemarle won his third triumph of the season in match play competition last week Friday by defeating Percy Crosby of Woodland in the Woodland open tourney final. Lynch played the first nine holes in 32 but even with that figure the match was not decided until he laid his ball close to the pin on the 18th green for a four. Crosby put up a great battle and when five down at the 11th staged a rally that carried the play to the home hole.

SEARS, ROEBUCK OPENS

Eight Story Store on Brookline Avenue Opened to Public Yesterday

An event long awaited by the public is assured in an announcement made by C. M. Henry, general manager of the Sears, Roebuck interests in New England, that the big new Sears, Roebuck and Company building at Brookline avenue and Audubon road, Boston, will be opened to the public this week.

This store, a most welcome addition to Boston's business community will be of the finest in the Sears, Roebuck chain which covers the entire country.

Eight stories, with a total area of over 800,000 square feet, will be devoted to Sears, Roebuck merchandise. The basement and street floor will be occupied by the Retail Department Store, and the rest of the building by Mail Order. Several hundred carloads of merchandise have already arrived and been installed. Additional quantities of goods are arriving daily to be on hand for the opening.

Everything has been provided for the comfort and convenience of customers. In the Retail Department Store, the aisles are spacious, goods are displayed on the most modern merchandise fixtures, and kindred departments are grouped to save shoppers' steps.

Well appointed rest rooms for patrons are provided. A modern purification system provides fresh air constantly to all parts of the building. On the Audubon road side of the building, ample parking space is provided for free and unlimited parking for customers who come by automobile.

In this store, as in all Sears, Roebuck and Company stores, the company's policy of "Absolute Satisfaction or Your Money Back" will apply to all purchases, large or small.

HOW MANY BARRELS OF ASHES DID YOU BUY LAST WINTER?

Genuine Warren Welsh makes less than one barrel of ashes to the ton.

PUT 2 out of 3 ASH CANS out of a job!

Here's a coal that BURNS to a powder

By analysis, WARREN Welsh Anthracite has been found to contain less than 4% ash... hardly more than a barrelful to every ton!

Every lump is packed with heat... and THATS what you pay for... no slate, no bone, 96 1/2% PURE COAL.

Save trouble... a third less shoveling, less shoveling. Phone your order today. We'll deliver whenever you want it.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

Though the Presidential campaign is officially underway, nothing spectacular is expected until the vacation season is at an end shortly after Labor Day. Experience has clearly demonstrated to the leaders that folks taking their play days at summer resorts find the game of politics dull. The ballyhoo of those seeking the political limelight is measured for what it is worth with the knowledge that the main show will be staged during September and October. The principal activities are organization and finance. The collection of large sums of money for the use of politicians is not an easy assignment. Few give for solely philanthropic reasons and want definite assurances that something will be returned for the contribution to the party war-chest.

It has been said that Herbert Hoover has skillfully waged a campaign for the Presidency from Washington for seven years. He has returned to the center of political affairs to give personal attention to the conduct of the Republican effort. It is obvious that Candidate Hoover is in supreme command despite the numerous lieutenants that are attached to the G. O. P. staff here. As Secretary of Commerce Mr. Hoover selected men as assistants who were willing to carry out his policies. Then, as now, the final word came from the high command—Herbert Hoover. The Democratic forces are maintaining an office here but have concentrated their forces in New York with branches in the Middle and Far West. Both parties have a problem in picking the right types from the thousands of volunteers who seek a place in the political sun.

Government departments, honey-combed with political favorites, are usually watched by foes of the administration during the busy Presidential year. The opportunities of utilizing government machinery for partisan gain are known. Civil Service and other reform methods have to a large extent reduced partisan coloring of government data for the purpose of influencing voters. Statistics are dry reading unless presented by a forceful speaker. The average reader interests himself in statistics as to the standing of baseball teams and players.

The Federal Trade Commission has been a thorn in the side of American business and of Congress, its creator, for many years. The Commission has a habit of stirring up trouble at inopportune moments. Criticism of the Commission's personnel and policies have been widespread but little change has been noted in its methods. It is today one of the most active and persevering agencies of the Federal government in watching over the business of the nation. The principal task confronting this agency is the current investigation of the so-called "power-trust." It was believed, at the outset of the inquiry, that the Commission would present information which could be used as political dynamite during the elections. It now appears that the work of collecting and digesting the data is too great to permit reports for political purposes. The study of the financial features of the public utilities will not be completed until the end of the fiscal year, which is several months of a new administration.

The average consumer has paid little heed to the struggle of merchandising giants which is waged before his eyes. The Federal Trade Commission has been directed, and initiated a survey of the chain store system and its effect on prices that the people pay. The trade association report has been completed but shelved, apparently, until the results of the November elections are known.

In brief, the dull season in Washington shows signs of ending. The White House has been renovated for the winter season. The structure built many years ago is constantly in need of repair but it is an expense that the taxpayers never protest. The President and the First Lady are due about Sept. 15 from their summer home in Wisconsin.

REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns & Son report that they have sold to Harry Sutton the new brick home located at 316 Highland street in the West Newton Hill district. With the house there is a brick two car garage and a half acre of land, and the property is valued at $35,000. The Crosby Realty Trust were the grantors.

Burns and Sons also report that they have sold for John F. O'Connor to Annie B. Boyle the two family frame house located at 32 Crosby road in the Chestnut Hill district. With the house there is a two car garage and 7,500 sq. ft. of land, and the value of the property is $22,000. Miss Boyle buys for home and investment.

Burns and Sons have also sold for Anna E. Lally the single frame colonial home located at 150 Eastbourne road in the Newton Centre district. With the house there is a garage and 7,800 sq. ft. of land and the property is valued at $17,000. Charles D. White was the purchaser and will occupy the premises as a home.

All the above sales were negotiated through the Burns agency.

Dig Python Resented

Invasion of Poacher

There is at least one bush-veldt farmer who is not so keen on poaching as he used to be. One afternoon he fancied a little venison, so he set off with a gun but no license—and disappeared.

It was not until the following Sunday afternoon that a search party discovered his legs protruding from an antbear hole, and extricated him, more dead than alive.

He had wounded a stembok, and the animal had made a dive for the shelter of the antbear hole. The hunter followed, and, with his head and shoulders underground, just managed to grip the animal.

A frantic jerk on the buck's part, however, wedged the hunter tightly, and his struggles only shifted the loose red sand, so that he was trapped. The most he could do was to twist slightly, allowing a little light to penetrate—wherein he was able to see a python coiled up within a few feet of his face.

The python attacked the strange visitor, but the hunter kept it off by throwing sand in its face, while its efforts to coil itself round him were foiled by the fact that he was tightly wedged in the opening.

For two whole days and nights the hunter and the python thus faced each other until help came in the nick of time.

Pumpkin Staple Food of Early Colonists

On New England farms the pumpkin is a valuable article of food today as it was 300 years ago. It is easy to grow, easy to cook and easy to keep in a dried form. One Colonial poet showed his appreciation in this couplet:

We have pumpkins at morning and pumpkins at noon;
if it were not for pumpkins we should be undone.

Although there were many ways in which the fruit was prepared, steamed pumpkin and pumpkin bread were among the most popular. In making the bread, a half quantity of Indian meal was used and the loaf was not particularly attractive in appearance. A traveler in New Hampshire in 1704 wrote of pumpkin bread as an "awkward food." Occasionally one still finds it in rural sections of Connecticut and Rhode Island.

The Indian custom of cutting the rind from pumpkins, stringing the pieces and drying them was followed by the white Colonists.

Sandwiches in Dispute

England is much wrought up over the question as to whether sandwiches really make people "stupid." At a recent educational conference it was stated that, in one school, children who brought their own lunch ate sandwiches "half an inch thick and filled with meat." "If the meals of these children consist of this sort of thing," was the comment, "it is no wonder that their wits are dulled." Workers who relish the bread and meat combination resent being called "dull," and the meat-loving English say the fault is not the bread, if any, must be in eating too much bread.

Rattlesnakes Don't Lay Eggs

When anyone speaks of rattlesnakes, eggs, give him the laugh. Rattlesnakes do not lay eggs. Along with copperheads, water moccasins and water snakes, they bring forth their young alive. The young snakes are usually born late in summer, from July to September.

Among the snakes whose young are hatched from eggs are the pine snake, king snake, bull snake, and blue racer. The eggs of these species are laid early in summer and the period of incubation varies with climatic conditions.

Les Miserables

The work of a director is hard, but it is not wholly without humor. Recently, a man was telling of his experiences with the boy choir of a cathedral in New York. "I was teaching them," he said, "to chant the Litany and flattered myself that we were getting along unusually well when I noticed the words they were chanting for the response. Every last one of them was saying, 'Lord, have mercy upon us, miserable sinners.' Surely I was true enough of most of them."

Dubious

When the late czar of Russia was staying at Balmoral, he and the late King Edward, then prince of Wales, went for a walk on the moors. Coming home they met an elderly man in a cart and asked if he would give them a lift. The prince, thinking that it would be of interest to the man to know whom he had driven, told him that this was the czar of Russia and that he was the prince of Wales. "Oo ay," said the man, "and I'm the President of America!"

Binding Vow

A Jephthah vow is one which is to be kept regardless of consequences, and is commonly supposed to be derived from the Bible story of Jephthah, the leader of a band of brigands, who, before going into battle against the Ammonites, vowed that if successful he would sacrifice whatever was the first thing to cross the threshold of his own door when he returned triumphant. His daughter was the first one to advance to meet him. It is recorded that he sacrificed her according to his vow.

.....And Speaking of Hats

A well-dressed gentleman finds it's time to discard his straw, and wishes to step out in the mode of the season,—i. e. with a good-looking felt hat. After dressing with care, from "Jimpants" to topcoat, he reaches into a dark corner of the closet and brings forth.....this ! ! !

It was a good hat—as he remembered it. But he forgot that in 1927 some twenty-eight snowstorms, nineteen rainstorms, two blizzards, etc., took toll from even better hats than his.

Such a scene was enacted in thousands of otherwise well-ordered homes in September, 1927. So it will be in September, 1928, unless some provident souls (and may you be among them) will take the time now to get their last year's hats thoroughly cleaned and blocked. That, of course, means send them to Howes' Community Plant No. 1, which is the finest sanatorium for hats on this continent, so folks tell us.

Then, when these wise gentlemen reach into otherwise dark corners they will bring forth hats shining and shapely, much like.....this ! ! !

KENNEY—LEACH

Miss Alice Elizabeth Leach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Leach of Waban, was married to Edward Joseph Kenney of Heath street, Chestnut Hill, on Tuesday morning, August twenty-eighth at the Chapel of St. Philip Neri at ten o'clock. Rev. F. J. Driscoll performed the ceremony. Mrs. Albert A. Kenney, a sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and Albert A. Kenney, brother of the groom, was the best man. The ushers were Thomas J. Leach, Jr., and Charles F. Leach, brothers of the bride.

The gown worn by the bride was of white satin trimmed with pearls. She wore a white tulle veil with head dress of pearls and rhinestones caught with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of roses and lilies of the valley. Her attendant wore pink georgette and carried columbia roses and blue larkspur.

A wedding breakfast was served on the lawn of the home of the bride's parents, 296 Beethoven avenue, Waban. The decorations at both the church and the home were palms and cut flowers.

The bride is a graduate of the Newton High School and was formerly with the Newton Trust Co. The groom is a graduate of Brookline High School and is a sales manager of the Boston Ice Co.

POLICE NEWS

Henry Mossman, investigator for the State Department of Public Health was the complainant in two cases in court last Friday when the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company and Arthur Wright of 312 Centre street, Newton, were defendants charged with "falsely advertising as fresh certain eggs which were not fresh." The inspector had purchased eggs from the defendant and sent them to state chemists for analysis. The case of the A & P Co., was continued to September 4th. Mr. Wright was given a suspended fine of $10.

Francis J. Curry, 49, of 22 John street, Newton, drew a sentence of three months in the house of correction in the Newton Court yesterday. He was arraigned on a charge of neglect to provide for his wife and minor children. Curry was committed to the house of correction shortly after the case was tried. Sergeant Bannan and Patrolman J. Green were the arresting officers.

Mark M. Cooper, 37, colored, of 12 Prospect street, West Newton, was arrested Wednesday afternoon and charged with carrying a revolver without a permit after complaint had been received by police of an altercation in which Cooper was involved near his home. Sergeant Veducchio and Officer Goddard arrested Cooper, whose case was continued to September 6.

Raymond G. Maxwell of Olney street Dorchester, was fined $15 in court Wednesday on a charge of driving without a license. He was brought into court by a Metropolitan officer.

Matter of Accuracy of Greatest Import

I do not know that there is anything, except it be humility, which is so valuable as an incident of education as accuracy. And accuracy can be taught. Direct lies told to the world are as dust in the balance when weighed against the falsehoods of inaccuracy. These are the fatal things. And they are all-pervading. I scarcely care what is taught to the young if it will but implant in them the habit of accuracy.

Now, look at the matter in this light. Take the speech of any man for any given day. For once that he wilfully gives a wrong color (with an eye to his own interests) to anything which he states or narrates, he mistakes or misdescribes 20 times, on account of his inability to tell anything accurately.

Besides, there is this important result from a habit of accuracy, that it produces truthfulness even on those occasions where a man would be tempted to be untruthful. He gradually gets to love accuracy more even than his own interests; at last he has a passion for accuracy.—Arthur Helps.

Kitchener in Retreat From Official Cares

Kitchener Island is a real lotus land of tropical beauty in the middle of the great River Nile, not far from the great cataract.

When Lord Kitchener lived near Assuan, he loved to leave the haunts of war and steal quietly in a small boat to this island, which he made his own. It was entirely uninhabited and was a perfect wilderness when he took it over, but he brought to it tropical Indian trees and planted there figs and banana trees and made beautiful and picturesque palm groves with seats made from palm leaves.

In the center of the island he built a small kiosk for himself, and resting there, away from the busy town, he could see the stately white-sailed feluccas winding their way through the various islets and could hear the Nile boatmen chanting as they sailed along. In the distance he could also hear the peculiar droning of the water wheels and the hum of innumerable insects.—Weekly Scotsman.

Surely Kitchen Treasure

A lady was many weeks without finding a cook. In despair she at last answered an advertisement in an "Eis" paper. She had a reply and appointed an interview, defraying the woman's fare over.

"Can you cook?" asked the lady.

"Yes, ma'am," was the reply.

"Do you understand French cooking, as my husband likes dainty little dishes?"

"Why, lor, yes, ma'am," said the cook, "I understand all furin dishes."

"Really?" cried the lady, whose delight knew no bounds. "What can you do?"

"Well, ma'am, I can cook French beans, German sausages, Brussels sprouts, Jerusalem artichokes, Spanish omelets, Dutch Cheese."—London Answers.

All Potential Cowards

While I think that the three classes of cowards, fearless men and courageous men, embrace all males on this earth, including the insane, I do not hold the categories iron bound. The coward in a corner may become brave and run amok. The courageous man is essentially a coward at heart and the fear less man may in a bad enough situation, be either courageous or cowardly. Personally, I am a great physical coward but get a quart of hooch in me and I'll fight a sado-maniac and have, to the best of my recollections, at tempted it.—G. D. Eaton in Plain Talk Magazine.

Sand Pictures in Bottles

Forming pictures and designs of colored sands on the interiors of bottles is the interesting art hobby of a California man who got the idea from a natural group of "painted rocks." The grains are carefully arranged with special instruments to achieve the effect and the bottles are packed full and sealed so that the sand will not be come loose and spoil the pattern. Fifty six shades, all of natural colors and of samples sent to the artist from different parts of the world, are employed in making the designs.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Better Conduct

Better conduct should be the first ideal of every man and woman; it is the most important aid in living. This is true not because better conduct is recommended by religion, but because it is recommended by Nature. A man who behaves better in his feeding is rewarded; so is the man who behaves better in associating with his fellows, in his business, in his family affairs. Behave better is the one maxim that all should accept as the greatest in the world.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Valuable Hardwood

Birch is Canada's most important hardwood. Of the seven Canadian species, the yellow birch (Betula lutea) and the paper birch (Betula alba or papifera) are the best known. The former is used for flooring, furniture, cabinet work, and vehicle stock, while the tough, resinous bark of the latter has supplied the aborigines for centuries with the material for covering their famous birch-bark canoes.

ROTARY CLUB

Mr. Charles Garvin, a member of the Boston Rotary Club, was the guest speaker at the regular Monday meeting of the Newton Rotary Club at the Woodland Golf Club this week. He gave a few impressions of Rotary from the viewpoint of a Rotarian in a very forceful, entertaining manner. His talk was illustrated with original blackboard drawings. Mr. Garvin has traveled extensively all over the United States, through which he has gained an insight into Rotary throughout the country. He stated facts as they really are and spoke neither in an optimistic nor pessimistic vein.

Due to the holiday next week the regular meeting will be held Tuesday noon.

KIWANIS CLUB

THOMAS L. DRISCOLL

Mr. Thomas L. Driscoll of 63 Austin street, Newtonville, died on Tuesday morning, August 28th, after an illness of about five weeks. He was the son of the late Dennis and Bridget Driscoll. He was in his fifty-eighth year, and had lived in Newton for the past seventeen years, but had worked around Newton for the past forty years as a painter and decorator.

His funeral took place on Thursday morning from his late home and a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at the Church of Our Lady, Newton, at nine o'clock. Interment was at Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline.

Mr. Driscoll was a late member of Bishop Cheverus Assembly, 4th Degree K. of C. of Newton Council 167, K. of C. Newton Lodge No. 1327, B. P. O. E., and George Hill Lodge 123, A. O. U. W.

He is survived by a sister, Miss Catherine Driscoll of Newtonville, and a brother, John Driscoll of Brighton.

MRS. EMILY S. BUSS

Mrs. Emily S. (Johnson) Buss, widow of Elsworth T. Buss, died on Monday, August twenty-seventh at her late home, 23 Johnson Place, Auburndale, after an illness of more than a year.

Mrs. Buss was born in Boston, but had resided in the Johnson homestead in Auburndale, for sixty-five years.

Her funeral services took place on Thursday afternoon at one thirty at her late home. Interment was in Wrentham.

She is survived by three brothers, L. Frank Johnson of West Roxbury, Seth Johnson of Waltham, and Albert G. Johnson of Wrentham, and two sisters, Mrs. George B. Jones of Orange, New Jersey, and Mrs. F. C. Brightman of Wrentham.

MRS. ANNA F. KENT

The funeral of Mrs. Anna F. Kent of 14 Bacon road, Newtonville, took place on Monday morning, August twenty-ninth at the home of her son, Mr. J. C. Kent, 23 Johnson Place, Auburndale, after an illness of more than a year.

Mrs. Kent was born in Watertown sixty-one years ago and has resided in Newtonville for a number of years. She is survived by her husband, John C. Kent, two daughters, Helen and Ruth, and a son, Paul J. Kent. Also by two brothers, John and Edward Roche.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

In the week ending August 25, 1928, there were 111 patients in the Newton Hospital, 34 of whom paid as much or more than the cost of their care. 43 paid less than cost of care, and 34 (including babies) were treated free. Eleven babies were born, six boys and five girls. "One-hundred and two patients were treated in the Out-Patient Department. There were twelve social service calls at the homes, and one patient was transferred by the social service car. There were twelve accident cases.

Of the twelve accidents, only two were caused by automobiles; one was a man with multiple bruises of the body when he was hit by an automobile and dragged for some distance; the other a woman who crushed her fingers in closing an automobile door. Of the other accidents, six were children, one with contusions and multiple bruises of the body when he fell from the back of a street car, one with a fractured arm as he fell when trying to jump a fence, one with a greenstick fracture of the wrist—the result of a fall while playing ball, one who got a splinter in the sole of his foot while playing, another fractured his arm as he fell from a tree, and the last with a fractured clavicle when he was struck by a board in a swing.

Three were men, one with a lacerated tendon of the wrist which he cut with a saw, the second with a hemorrhage from the nose when he was struck in the face by a steel pipe, and the third with a ruptured intestine when he was struck in the abdomen by a falling piece of timber. The last was a woman who received a scalp wound as she fell downstairs.

Last Sunday Mr. Stanley Thorpe, as has been his custom for two or three years at this season, sent to the hospital several dozen spikes of glorious gladioli from his garden in Brazeville. Mr. Thorpe makes a special study of the gladioli and its improvement and the flowers which he sent to the hospital included many rare varieties in many colors of noted hybridizers and his own seedlings. Some of the varieties were from bulbs catalogued at $10 apiece and few were from seedlings of his own held at present at almost beyond price.

GEORGE T. WINCHESTER

Mr. George T. Winchester, a former resident of Newton, died on Sunday morning, August twenty-fifth at Portland, Maine, where he had been taken ill at his summer home at Higgins Beach, South Portland. He was thirty-eight years of age.

Mr. Winchester was born in Woburn where he attended the public schools and later graduated from Amherst College. He was formerly a merchandise buyer for Wm. Filene Sons Co. and recently was Western merchandise manager for the Lerner Shop, Inc. He had lived in Newton for some time prior to moving to Chicago about one year ago.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday morning from the home of George H. Broughton, 23 Pembroke street, Newton, and a high mass of requiem was held at the Church of Our Lady of the Presentation at nine o'clock. Interment was at Brookdale Cemetery, Dedham.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Charlotte Broughton Winchester, his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Winchester of Westboro, and two brothers, John Winchester of Westboro and Bertine Winchester of Woburn.

SUTTER'S MILL

The discovery of gold was first made in California on Captain Sutter's estate, in 1848. This discovery was a great misfortune to Sutter for as a result he lost land grants made to him by Mexican governors for his military services. The picture above shows the old Sutter's mill in the colony founded by the Captain.

Those who know the services performed by this establishment fully appreciate the sincere attention of our staff of experienced men.

VIOLATION OF TRAFFIC LAW DISCLOSES THEFT

Sunday afternoon an automobile containing two Somerville youths proceeded through Nonantum square and attempted to leave towards Newton Centre without going around the bank building. Sergeant William Mahoney and traffic officer Henry Loughlin halted the car and investigated. The youths had stolen the car in Somerville from Alexander Fraser of 3 Fountain avenue, Somerville, and were taking a joy ride which was abruptly ended.

Earle K. Smith, 15, of 171 Walnut street, Somerville, who was driving the stolen automobile, was charged with using an automobile without the consent of the owner, with driving without a license, without registration, and violation of a one-way traffic regulation while his companion was charged with the first offense. The pair were released to their parents Sunday night and appeared in court Monday when their cases were continued to September 7.

JOINS HAWAIIAN ORDER

Standing at the brink of the firepit of the world famous Kilauea Crater, Mr. A. J. Moorshead of this city was recently made a member of the Hawaiian order known as Hui-O-Pele.

Only those who have visited the volcano and paid homage to Madame Pele, Hawaiian fire goddess, are eligible to join this novel organization. Mr. Moorshead was given a lapel button to attest his membership in the fire fraternity, and his membership card bears the fiery seal of the Hawaiian Goddess. Her mark was obtained by scorching the paper in one of the steaming cracks of Kilauea. Travelers from every state in the union and practically every country on the face of the globe have been initiated into Hui-O-Pele. The organization now has 7000 members.

The adventures of Pele play an important part in all of Hawaii's mythology. Legends handed down through generations of Hawaiians claim that the goddess makes her home in the Halemauiau firepit of the Kilauea crater and that she frequently assumes human form to foretell activity of the volcano.

Kilauea is located in the Hawaii National Park on this island, the largest in the Hawaiian group.

NEWTONVILLE GIRL ENGAGED

The engagement has been announced of Miss Eldora Elizabeth Cushman, the only daughter of the late John T. and Alice C. Cushman to Mr. Horace W. Robinson of Camden, Maine.

Miss Cushman has been a resident of Newton for the past fourteen years and after her marriage will make her home in Camden, Maine.

Mr. Robinson is an Ex-Serviceman, having served three years with the United States Army at Newport, Rhode Island, and other stations. The date has not yet been set for the wedding.

Social Studies, 11:20 a. m. to 12:20 p. m.
Latin, French, Jr. Business, 1:30 to 2:30 p. m.
Science, 2:40 to 3:40 p. m.

All students who were absent for any or all of the Final Examinations in June should report to take the examination in the subject or subjects missed, according to the above schedule.

Students who received condition or failure Final Marks should avail themselves of this opportunity to take the examinations to possibly obtain a full credit mark.

Mr. Scarborough, the Principal, will be in his office at the school September 7 from 10:00 a. m. to 12 noon, and from 2:30 to 3:30 in the afternoon to meet in person parents or students who wish to confer with him relative to enrolment, doubtful promotions, etc.

THE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

Slow motion photography showing the developing and opening of wild flowers will be pictured in the motion picture program "Wild Flowers of the West" to be given on Sunday afternoon, September 2, at 3:30, at the Children's Museum of Boston. A flower table of spring and summer New England flowers has been on display at the Museum throughout the season in connection with the program of nature study, and the Sunday program will be a further development of this theme.

Programs for children on natural history and travel subjects are being planned by the Director, Miss Mildred E. Manter, for the winter months, the popularity of illustrated lectures during the past year having proved their worth. In addition to the exhibits of natural life and ethnology planned with story tapes to interest boys and girls, club activities and nature study will be offered during the ensuing year. The Children's Museum of Boston is located in the park on the north shore of Jamaica Pond and is maintained by the subscriptions of friends.

OPEN BIDS

The following bids have been received by Street Commissioner George E. Stuart at 11 o'clock on Contract for Dickerman Brook Improvements: James Chesarone, Waban, $14,400; John MacDonald Construction Co., Boston, $15,561; F. F. McCarthy Bros., Newton, $17,950; Engineering Service & Construction Co., Boston, $19,789; DeCristofaro Bros. Co., Roslindale, $24,000; Domenick Gentile, Newton Centre, $24,476; A. Baruffaldi, West Somerville, $25,250; A. D. Daddario, Mattapan, $26,900.

The contract will be awarded to the lowest bidder, when the appropriation is available.

CONTRACTOR GIVEN TIME EXTENSION

The John J. MacDonald Construction Co. has been given an extension of time in which to finish the excavation work of "stripping" of the Newton water work reservation by the city water department. The contract was to have been completed on August 10th but as the work was not finished the contractor asked for an extension to September 15th which was granted.

The "stripping" or removal of loam was to be done in three natural bowls on the water reservation in order to permit flooding them with river water thus increasing the supply in the wells by filtration through the gravel. The work has been finished on one of the bowls and the water department is pumping water into it.

EMBASSY THEATRE

Beginning Labor Day and all following Saturdays and holidays there will be three complete performances given at the Embassy, Waltham's Wonder theatre, according to an announcement made by the management of the famous playhouse. The performances will begin at 2:00, 5:00 and 8:00 and each performance will include every feature on the program. Beginning next Sunday there will be two complete Sunday performances every Sunday night, the first starting at 6 and the second at 8:30, so that all may enjoy the unusual Sunday night shows.

The feature picture for the first half of this week will be "The Cosacks," starring John Gilbert and Renee Adoree, two famous screen lovers. There will also be five feature vaudeville acts, featuring Peaches Browning in a song and dance sketch, Greta Garbo in "The Mysterious Lady" with Conrad Nagel will be the feature photoplay for the last half of the week. There will also be vaudeville.

At all Embassy performances there will be music on the Embassy grand organ by J. Leslie Cahill, and special jazz numbers by the Embassy Grand orchestra under the direction of Charles Hatch.

The features for next Sunday will be Gladys Brockwell and Gaston Glass in "My Home Town" with special vaudeville and other features.

The moonlight promenade by the waterfalls near the theatre during which free cigarettes and cold drinks are given to patrons is also a feature.

POLICE NEWS

Pasquale LoChiato, 53, of 180 rear Adams street, was fined $50 in court last Friday and given a suspended sentence of thirty days in the case of correction for having sold liquor to a policeman in plain clothes. According to the police LoChiato had delivered two pints of liquor to Patrolman Barr on the street. He was arrested by Sergeants Mahoney and Moran who witnessed the sale. The defendant pleaded guilty and the court imposed the sentence.

OFFICER DISCOVERS BLAZE

A serious fire was averted early Tuesday morning by the discovery of the blaze in its early stages by reserve police officer David J. Cummings in the two-story brick building at 303 Auburn street, adjoining the Auburn-dale postoffice. The fire started in the tailor shop of Louis Silver and was discovered by the officer, who turned in the alarm at Box 434 at 4:40 a. m.

When the firemen forced their way into the building by breaking the plate glass door they found the blaze in a rear room of the shop, which was filled with smoke. Members of a family who reside on the second floor of the building were awakened but were not forced to leave the building. The blaze was confined to the rear room of the tailor shop and was quickly extinguished. It is thought to have been caused by a gas iron which Silver had neglected to turn off when leaving Monday night. The building is owned by Frederick Plummer of 155 Woodland road, Auburndale.

NEWTON GIRL TO TEACH AT BROOKLINE

Miss Ethel Irene Brower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Brower of Lewis street, Newton, who graduated from the Sargent school last June with highest honors, has been appointed assistant director of physical education in the Brookline schools. She will assume her position on the re-opening of the schools on September 10th.

Miss Brower is a graduate of Newton High school where she completed her course with a high ranking and where she took an active part in social and athletic functions. At Sargent school she received highest honors and membership in "Twins" Society, which requires not only an A ranking scholastically but also a high moral standing. She won all the letters and numerals that the school offers in addition to taking leading parts in musical and dramatic events. She is an accomplished musician at the piano or saxophone.

She returned last week from a summer at camp. In June she was appointed an instructor in the Sargent Summer Camp at Peterboro, New Hampshire, going later to Camp Quansett at Orleans, Mass., as instructor in tennis and field sports.

NEWTON MAN BURNED

John Latino, 42, of 72 Allison street, Newton, and Joseph A. Squires of Waltham, suffered serious burns about the body Monday afternoon at the Brunese Company plant on Stanley avenue, Watertown. The two employees were working near a coating machine when fumes from it flared up in a slight explosion into their faces. Squires, his clothing aflame ran outside and fellow employees extinguished the flames. He was sent to the Waltham Hospital where he was found to be suffering from burns about the face, back and both hands. The employees also rushed into the building and extinguished the fire at the machine near which they found Latino, badly burned, on the floor. He was sent home and treated for burns on both hands, arms, legs and face. The coating machine was but slightly damaged.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

MIDDLESEX SS. District
At the Police Court of Newton, in the District of Newton, in the County of Middlesex, holden at said Newton, on the 23rd day of August A. D. 1928
Stephen E. Walker

James J. MacDonald
This is an action of contract to recover the sum of three hundred and fifty dollars and no cents, alleged to be due to the Plaintiff from the Defendant, on the 23rd day of July A. D. 1928, as set forth in the Plaintiff's writ of that date.

And it appearing to the court, by the suggestion of the Plaintiff, and on inspection of the officer's return on the Plaintiff's writ, that the Defendant is not an inhabitant of this Commonwealth, nor was resident therein at the time of the service of said writ, and that he has no last and usual place of abode, tenant, agent or attorney in this Commonwealth, known to the Plaintiff, or to said officer, and that no personal service of said writ has been made upon the Defendant.

It is ordered by the court, that the Plaintiff give notice to the Defendant of the pendency of this action, and to appear before said court, to be held at Newton, in said County, on Saturday, the 29th day of September next, at nine of the clock in the forenoon, to answer to the same, by causing an attested copy of this Order to be published in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper printed and published in said County, once a week, three weeks successively, the last publication to be at least seven days before the said Saturday, the 29th day of September next, and by sending by registered mail to the said James J. MacDonald addressed to his last known address, a true and attested copy of this Order; and that said action be continued until notice shall be given to said Defendant, according to this order.
